

As it stands, Ame has had Wonder Woman and Chrome removed from his team so this will be judged as Superman Blue alone is facing the remainder of Mikhail's team.

In my opinion, Superman Blue as presented would not be capable of defeating Hulk nor Magneto on his own, yet he is facing off against both at once along with Thor.

Via the arguments that his phasing is improperly used as well as the fact that blunt force trauma is not something he can negate via his regen, then this match is comprised of his form being disrupted by Magneto followed by him getting beat to death by the remaining two bricks on Mikhail's team.

I don't see any real way Blue can overcome Mikhail's team, the lightning is not going to do much, he has to somehow deal with Magneto's abilities, and he has to face Hulk, who I think could win the fight on his own given his resistances and brick abilities.
