Dumke, Aaron	Despite the government has been using drones for good like delivering blood to remote health centers in Rwanda, some people have used the drones for bad as an example terrorists use them as weapons and surveillance devices. The government should put more regulations on owning a drone (claim) like can only use them in backyards or can only be plastic drones, as soon as possible. Now you need To tell me why (these become your supporting ideas) don't put evidence in your claim.	1 - no claim here. No CA Support not clear
Ee, Ryan Daniel	People use drones for surveillance and weapons. The ways governments have been using drones for the past couple years like delivering blood to health centers are good, But drones can be used by an enemy like isis for terrorism which is bad. Governments should put stronger restrictions on drones so that they won't be used for terrorism and other bad things, but drones should be used to deliver blood to health centers and do other good things. 2 You are repeating yourself. You are not clear on what your claim is, what your counter argument is, and what your support is. Write each idea down in a list. Each idea should be different.
