Academic Integrity Syllabus Statement

Academic integrity is honest, truthful and responsible conduct in all academic endeavors. The mission of Saint Louis University is “the pursuit of truth for the greater glory of God and for the service of humanity.” Accordingly, all acts of falsehood demean and compromise the corporate endeavors of teaching, research, health care, and community service through which SLU fulfills its mission. The University strives to prepare students for lives of personal and professional integrity, and therefore regards all breaches of academic integrity as matters of serious concern. The full University-level Academic Integrity Policy can be found on the Provost's Office website at:

https://www.slu.edu/provost/policies/academic-and-course/policy_academic-integrity_6-26-2015.pdf.

Additionally, each SLU College, School, and Center has its own academic integrity policies, available on their respective websites.

Students participating in the 1818 Advanced College Credit Program are held to and should be familiar with the College of Arts and Sciences Academic Honesty policy available at: Academic Honesty : SLU

Disability Accommodations

Students with a documented disability who wish to request academic accommodations must formally register their disability with the University. Once successfully registered, students also must notify their course instructor that they wish to use their approved accommodations in the course.

Please contact the Center for Accessibility and Disability Resources (CADR) to schedule an appointment to discuss accommodation requests and eligibility requirements. Most students on the St. Louis campus will contact CADR, located in the Student Success Center and available by email at accessibility_disability@slu.edu or by phone at 314.977.3484. Once approved, information about a student's eligibility for academic accommodations will be shared with course instructors by email from CADR and within the instructor's official course roster. Students who do not have a documented disability but who think they may have one also are encouraged to contact to CADR. Confidentiality will be observed in all inquiries.

Title IX

Saint Louis University and its faculty are committed to supporting our students and seeking an environment that is free of bias, discrimination, and harassment. If you have encountered any form of sexual harassment, including sexual assault, stalking, domestic or dating violence, we encourage you to report this to the University. If you speak with a faculty member about an incident that involves a Title IX matter, that faculty member must notify SLU's Title IX Coordinator and share the basic facts of your experience. This is true even if you ask the faculty member not to disclose the incident. The Title IX Coordinator will then be available to assist you in understanding all of your options and in connecting you with all possible resources on and off campus.

Anna Kratky is the Title IX Coordinator at Saint Louis University (DuBourg Hall, room 36; anna.kratky@slu.edu; 314-977-3886). If you wish to speak with a confidential source, you may contact the counselors at the University Counseling Center at 314-977-TALK or make an anonymous report through SLU's Integrity Hotline by calling 1-877-525-5669 or online at <http://www.lighthouse-services.com/slu>. Theo 2510-03: Christian Ethics

TR 12:45-2 Fall 2016

Dr. Julie Hanlon Rubio
Adorjan 344
rubiojh@slu.edu

Course Purpose

This course is designed to introduce students to Christian theological thought on what it means to live a good life. It will treat topics of virtue, personal and structural sin, conscience, interpretation of scripture, tradition and authority, natural law, experience, suffering, and liberation through encounter with contemporary Christian theologians and close consideration of particular cases.

Learning Outcomes

Students may learn:

- *to make connections between theological ideas and moral claims
- *how scripture, tradition, reason, and experience are used in Christian ethics
- *to critically read and analyze theological texts
- *to develop theological arguments on moral issues

Required Texts

James T. Bretzke, A Morally Complex World: Engaging Contemporary Moral Theology #0814651585

William T. Cavanaugh, Being Consumed: Economics and Christian Desire #9780802845610

Katie Geneva Cannon, Emilie M. Townes, and Angela D. Sims, eds. Womanist Theological Ethics: A Reader #9780664235376

Course Requirements

Participation: Because discussion is central pedagogical strategy of this class, participation is highly valued. Guidelines are available on E-Reserve. Weight: 10% each for Written and Oral (20% total). Reading Reflection Papers. Designed to help you analyze the readings in relation to each other using the framework of a particular moral problem. Due dates: 9-27 and 11-15.

Guidelines are available on E- reserve. Due dates: various. Weight: 15% each (30% total).

Midterm Examination. You will have a take-home midterm exam due on 10-13. It will consist of objective short answer questions and one essay question. Weight: 20%.

Take-Home Final Examination. Due 12-13. Similar to the midterm but longer. Weight: 30%.

Course Policies

1. Because I intend this classroom to be a community of learners rather than a space where individuals come to learn, cell phones and laptops are prohibited and respectful engagement with others is required.
2. Late papers may be penalized by up to five points per class day, but if you talk to me first and offer a new due date, I may grant an extension. Please hand in late papers to me.
3. Please arrive on time. I will take attendance each day at the beginning of class. If you arrive late or need to leave early, please check in with me after class.
4. Please review the CAS policy on Academic Honesty and the CAS policy on Sexual Misconduct.
5. Every paper you write for me will need citations. Please use MLA citation method.
6. Attending class everyday is optimal. You are allowed two absences. Your final grade will be lowered by two points for each additional absence unless documentation is provided to excuse it.

7. Returning Papers/Exams: You can expect that papers will be returned 1-2 weeks after they are turned in. I will retain papers and exams for one year in my office.

8. Resources to support student success (including information on requesting academic accommodations) are available at the Student Success Center located in Busch Student Center.

9. Evaluation: Please fill out the course evaluation form online. Two points of extra credit will be added to the oral or written participation grades of all who complete the form. I value your feedback.

10. Extra Credit: Occasionally, I offer extra credit for attending an event on campus and writing a one-two page response in which you relate the lecture to course readings. Guidelines are available on E-Reserve.

11. Contact me: The best way to contact me is email. You can expect a response within 24 hours. For feedback on a draft, please allow two-three days.
