RÖBLOXIUS

Welcome, USER!

Home

The wonderful universe of ROBLOXIUS is home to four main civilizations:

1. Retronia
2. Modernia
3. The Moderation
4. The Beyond

However, Retronia and Modernia are the two important ones. They both share a love for Games, alternate dimensions accessed through a portal created by Developers for the sake of providing entertainment.

In this archive, you will be granted the opportunity to learn more about them and their individual quirks! Be sure to check out the Table of Contents to the left to quickly navigate this page! Be sure to check out the glossary and update log at the bottom, too!

Retronia

The portion of the world dedicated to dumb, silly fun! Everyday society consists of lighthearted interactions and comedic events.

You will notice that the residents of this nation are old-fashioned in appearance, as well as their structures and buildings. Retronia is a lot less grounded in reality, if you can imagine it then it may as well have been built already!

Retronia is located beyond a barrier of mountains, of which house many mine shafts and hiking trails!

Structure

Retronia is split based on eras of ROBLOX up until early 2017. Each year starting from 2006 is its own city, housing people who dress and act within that time frame. These cities are appropriately named "eracities."

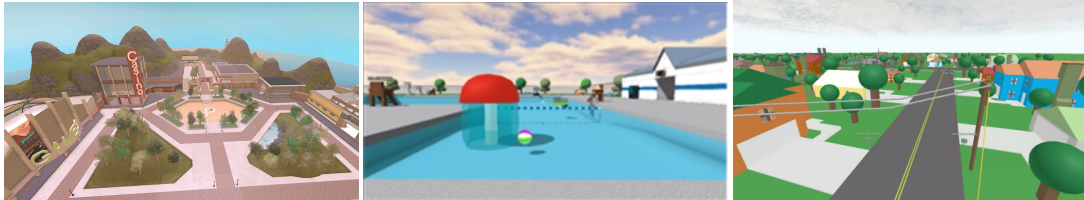

While there is nothing stopping a resident from moving to another eracity, they must keep in mind that each eracity is tailored to their specific era of residents. A resident from 2017 may not be able to find nice furniture in 2012's eracity. But it's okay, because everyone's willing to help each other out!

Each eracity also has subsections of residents living there. There exists bloxxers, socializers, ODers, catalog creators, and many more! Some groups may be looked down upon more than others, however.

Alongside eracities, there are regular towns. These towns do not correlate to any particular era of Roblox, meaning they contain very diverse populations.

Architecture

Retronian architecture is a lot less fancy than what you're probably used to. It ranges from blocks with triangles on the top to look like a house, to large blocks with skyscraper decals on the sides, to structures that are a little more detailed, but still reminiscent of an older style! Examples seen below:

Appearance

Retronians lack the UGC that Modernians possess, so all of their accessories and packages are ROBLOX-made. Clothing items come from other Retronians, of whom work as tailors and the like. Almost all Retronians are seen exclusively in R6, with some from the 2016-2017 era having R15.

Here are some examples below:

Quirks of Retronia

Time for the fun stuff!

In Retronia, there exists many forms of unconventional transportation. To travel from one eracity to the next with haste, there may be slingshots, catapults, and cannons stationed. These have been approved by the safety team, so don't worry about breaking anything! (Also, make sure to land in the designated area...)

Retronians don't actually die! Everyone respawns eventually, but depending on some circumstances, they may wake up with lingering pain or deformities. And in even rarer cases, they don't wake up again.

Said spawn deformities range in severity, and correlate with the Retronians' death. Everything harmful present in Retronia isn't enough to cause deformities, only things beyond it! Deformities range from misplaced limbs, distorted faces, and maybe even a personality change.

Badges earned from games are physical! It's not too unusual to see neighbors extending their house with BTools to account for every single one of them.

On that same topic, every Retronian gets BTools to make their own creations! They can't edit other people's creations without a sticker of consent, though.

Retronians, to put it lightly, also aren't the brightest. Their heads can't think of anything but fun, so it's all they're gonna focus on! Intelligence and awareness comes to only those who can manage to break past that barrier. This phenomenon is called "Telamon's Blessing." Those with Telab are also allowed a larger range of expression, with more advanced movements and the like. Telab isn't common due to the only way of acquiring it is through ripping oneself away from the internal routine of "walk, fun, done" and gaining enlightenment of the world and its logic. More commonly occurs in those who have been unfairly wronged by Modernia.

Gears are very common! However, those that can cause destruction are banned in regular society. Law enforcement is in every eracity to make sure no one stabs each other!

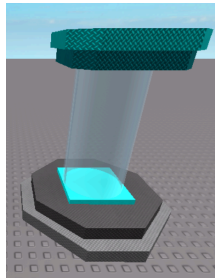

There exists Modernians that like Retronia culture so much they move in! These guys are called Neo-Retronians! Visually, they try to mimic the earliest Retronian styles with their own UGC kick.

Retronians are born from parents, or by spawning into designated "points" in specialized buildings! This also goes for Modernia!

Games

Games in Retronia are accessed by these teleporters shown below. They are generally stationed en masse within arcades, and also within their respective eracities. A panel exists to the side that allows the player to choose whether or not they want to be put in a random server (referred to as a holding room by Retronians), or if they would like to join a friend.

Nearly all Developers within Retronia have ascended to The Beyond, though some still come down to ensure that their games are in working condition.

Retronians have also stolen the portals to Games in Modernia, allowing them to put them in their own teleporters so that they may enjoy newer Games for themselves.

History

In the earliest days of ROBLOXIUS, Retronia was the only civilization to exist. In fact, Retronia was a name that came later down the line. Retronia was known as Robloxia.

Robloxia used to receive The Moderation's full attention, given resources and care in order for their society to flourish. But as some Robloxians moved beyond the mountains to make technological advancements, it caught The Moderation's attention and they slowly began to shift their gaze to this new growing civilization.

This new civilization eventually became Modernia, and Robloxia turned into Retronia.

Retronia was now left without the support of The Moderation, forcing the Retronians into an anarchy-like state as they fight to stay self sufficient.

The Present

As the majority of Retronian society remains self indulgent in their fun, there exist groups of Retronians who disguise themselves as Modernians to steal resources and bring them back to their homeland. There have also been a couple of Retronians who assimilated into Modernian society, with reasons ranging from fear of the future to boredom with Retronian life.

Retronians are also generally disliked by Modernians. The reasons for this vary as well, but the common denominator is that they are freakish beings without any self preservation or dignity. Meanwhile, Retronians are largely unaware of this prejudice.

The Retronian Raid was an event that demonstrated the extent in which Modernians were willing to go to in their hatred. Several towns were brutally massacred using methods unbeknownst to Retronians at the time. The victims would eventually respawn, but many were already scarred and possessed an unbearable and lingering pain. Some would respawn with deformities. The Modernians responsible would be dragged back into Retronia and put to death by a certain cult.

The RCKY Church

The Raccunky (RCKY) church (or cult, depending on who you talk to) is the most popular religious body within Retronia, as well as being the oldest. Their god, Raccunky, is an ancient being capable of immense power that lies beyond the perceivable realm of reality. Only those who possess enough of its power can see its true form.

The Church of RCKY is located deep within the mountain-though, there is a path leading to it so that newcomers don't get lost. The entrance is a bulkhead door in the ground, which leads to the second entrance that leads into the actual church.

The church appeals to many Retronians because of the welcoming and enthusiastic community, guaranteed protection, fun events, and the aesthetic of worshiping a silly-looking creature. The church is also very lenient with attendance and the like, just as long as relations with other members are kept up with.

Church members are identifiable through their unique uniform, as well as the keychain worn on their heads when seen outside of the church.

The keychains are required to suppress the Raccunky energies within the individual. They become present during the indoctrination process. The keychains themselves do not physically hurt the wearer, but they hurt in the sense that the wearer gets a headache from all of the energy being tamed.

However, like all "churches", the RCKY church is not entirely sunshines and rainbows.

In order to keep Raccunky satisfied, mandatory sacrificial rituals must take place. Once every month the higher ups will travel to Modernia and kill residents en masse, then transport their corpses to the church so that they may be sent to Raccunky. Some of the higher ups themselves are capable of horrifying things that aren't seen by anyone but their victims.

The RCKY cult is willing to do anything it takes to ensure that their operations are kept a secret from Modernia. They don't worry too much about Retronians babbling about it because no one cares or pays attention to their crimes against humanity. They're just there to dance at the free model DJ set, of course!

The RCKY cult also does not take kindly to leavers.

Notable Retronians

PURPLE (real name unknown)

Age: Way older than you think

Height: 5'9"

Likes: Raccunky, caffeine, sleeping, peace and quiet

Dislikes: Doing paperwork, Ethos, quarreling from the other two of the trio

Occupations: Finance manager, relation manager, and logistics consultant of the RCKY cult (current), pizza deliveryman (formerly)

Identifier: PR

Status: Still around

Dialogue Showcase: "what? you're terrible at this, let me do it."

A grouchy, tired, and dry Retronian who occupies one of the seats of upper RCKY management. Not seen very often in public due to being bound to his desk all day, endlessly filling out forms and documents to keep the cult from collapsing in on itself. He gets to sleep about two hours a month. Not in one sitting. He wouldn't have it any other way, though.

Despite what it may seem, he is not openly hostile. Just super exhausted. He may only be aggressive when provoked.

He participated in the 9th Generation Overthrowing- an event in which he, Kransyy, and Blanco overthrew the previous management to take their place as the permanent seats in RCKY management.

As a gift by Raccunky, he was bestowed "Severed Chains." This blessing allows him to gain the ability to easily rip and tear through people via entering a new form. This blessing has also had some... unintended side effects as seen on his mouth.

Resides within the RCKY church, in his office-bedroom.

KRASNY (real name unknown)

Age: Way older than you think

Height: 5'8"

Likes: Raccunky, fun times, happy faces, grilled cheese and tomato soup, Retronia

Dislikes: Negativity, people who don't like his ideas, Modernia

Occupations: Head and event planner of the RCKY cult (current), bicycle shop owner (formerly)

Identifier: KY

Status: Still around

Dialogue Showcase: "Good afternoon, folks! I hope we're doing fantastic!"

An enthusiastic, carefree, and risk-taking Retronian who occupies one of the seats of upper RCKY management. He's seen the most often out of the three, as he takes joy in talking to his fellow cult members about ordinary things and going out in public to participate in Retronian events. He's earned a reputation as an extremely approachable and friendly figure, subsequently allowing the RCKY cult to gain more traction.

However, he is also stubborn and persistent in enforcing his visions. If he senses that someone is opposing his ideas, his eye twitches and his smile begins to feel threatening. His stubbornness has also led to frequent fights with Blanco.

He participated in the 9th Generation Revolution- an event in which he, Purple, and Blanco overthrew the previous management to take their place as the permanent seats in RCKY management.
As a gift by Raccunky, he was bestowed "Abyssal Gaze." This blessing allows him to send others into madness when in his presence for an extended amount of time. Controllable of course.

Resides within the RCKY church.

BLANCO (real name unknown)

Age: Way older than you think

Height: 5'4"

Likes: Raccunky, handheld consoles, stuffed animals, blacksmithing

Dislikes: Scary things, mean people, Modernians

Occupations: Harvester and resource manager of the RCKY cult (current), blacksmith (formerly)

Identifier: BC

Status: Still around

Dialogue Showcase: "WU+?! but 1 d1dz it allz! D:"

A cowardly, shy, and awkward Retronian who occupies one of the seats of upper RCKY management. He can be occasionally seen walking from room to room carrying crates and boxes, but never in public unless dragged out by Kransyy. He doesn't like speaking to anyone other than the other two and his sister, as he worries about interpreting the words of others wrong and ruining everything.

He participated in the 9th Generation Overthrowing- an event in which he, Purple, and Kransyy overthrew the previous management to take their place as the permanent seats in RCKY management.

As a gift by Raccunky, he was bestowed "The Excalibloxx." This blessing came in the form of a greatsword that initially seems like a very simple sword made of blocks and bricks, but if bludgeoned with enough, it comes out of its shell and becomes a deadly and intricately-designed blade made for efficient killing. Blanco is seen dragging it around.

Resides within the RCKY church.

BLANCA (real name unknown)

Age: ???

Height: 5'4"

Likes: ???

Dislikes: ???

Occupations: Assistant to Blanco (current)

Identifier: BA

Status: Still around...?

Dialogue Showcase: "..."

Her existence is a large mystery among the RCKY cult. Despite being Blanco's twin sister, no one seems to believe it. She doesn't talk, doesn't have any indication of being her own person, and only does what her brother tells her to do.

Some suspect that she may be an artificial being created for the sake of having another helping hand.

ETHOS

Age: Impolite!

Height: 5'6"

Likes: Earning money, teasing others, Purple, doing business with people, flying around

Dislikes: People who are terrible at haggling, people who waste her time

Occupation: Owns the Ethos Delivery Service (current)

Status: Still around, occasionally in other universes

Dialogue Showcase: "I'M GLAD TO SEE YOU AGAIN, HAHAAH."

A playful and charming businesswoman who's dedicated to her craft. The Ethos Delivery Service (EDS) was founded to provide Retronians with the resources they need from wherever they want- at a price, of course. She's known for her 100% fulfillment rate.

Her services also delve into black market territory, as she has close business relations with the RCKY cult. She also likes to bother and pester Purple, as he's the one she's talking to for deals. Her charisma allows her to be well-liked by regular cult members.

On the other hand, Ethos is a very short-tempered woman. If angered in even the slightest, she will immediately resort to extreme measures to remove the problem. This is a result of her deformity, gained from the Retronian Raid. As well as short temper, she is generally unhinged.

Another one of her gained deformities is her face, which never moves beyond that same swirled smile. Meaning, she communicates entirely through telepathy. She also possesses a Retronian disguise, which also has a distorted face.

PATHOS (real name unknown)

Age: 30

Height: 6'3"

Likes: Having a good time, playing cards, long strolls on the beach

Dislikes: When Ethos has "those moments.", losing in blackjack

Occupation: Owner of several entertainment facilities in Casinus (current)

Status: Not in Retronia, resides in Casinus.

Dialogue Showcase: "Dandy, isn't it?"

An easy-going and fun-loving gentleman. Holds himself to a higher degree of standards, and may come off as overly flattering or friendly. Not particularly energetic, though he is always up to watch things from afar.

Pathos is one of three in a friend group, including Ethos. He's the only one who remains with his sanity, and aims to fix Ethos' temperament. Fell through the cracks of reality and ended up in Casinus, where he now resides with his successful business endeavors. Throws parties to celebrate the joy of living.

FOUR

Age: 19, probably

Height: 5'6"

Likes: AMERICA!

Dislikes: NOTHING! PROBABLY!

Occupation: Comic book store cashier (current)

Status: Still around

Dialogue Showcase: "U-S-A! U-S-A! Awww yeah, let's hear it for AMERICA!"

An overly-eccentric young man with an odd obsession towards the idea of patriotism. Always dresses head to toe in clothing relating to the USA, even painting some of his limbs. Does not actually know what the USA is. He is aware of that. But it's pretty cool to be shouting about freedom, right?

TORGOT

Age: ???

Height: 5'4"

Likes: Bloxxing

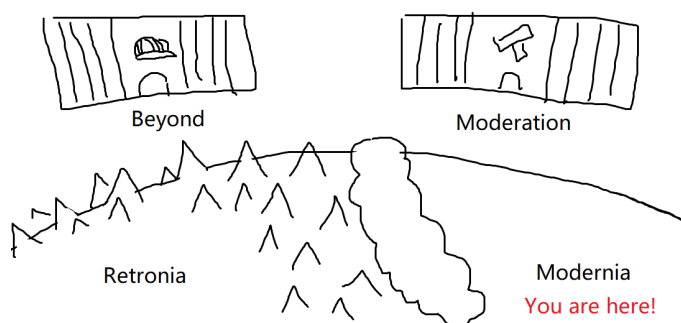

Dislikes: Broccoli

Occupation: Unemployed (current)

Status: Still around, occasionally visits Combat Initiation

Dialogue Showcase: "..."

Silent, but not because he lacks a voice. Chooses to not speak for whatever reason, and doesn't seem too concerned about having good communication skills. Likes to fight and spar. Does not have a particularly interesting life.

Modernia

The portion of the world dedicated to more mature, realistic, and advanced experiences. Residents of this land understand the concept of dignity, so their everyday life is a lot more low-key compared to the unhinged nature of Retronia. Everyone in this land strives to set the new standard for the future.

The residents of this nation have a much more contemporary taste in fashion, AKA imagine what you would usually see! Structures in Modernia are so intricately built that it makes you worry for the poor soul who sat down and worked their butts off for it.

Modernia is located beyond a thick forest, populated by many wildlife, unknown creatures, and even other people!

Structure

Modernia is split up based on genre and culture. In Modernian talk, these cities are referred to as "splicities"! A few examples would be a splicity based on a sci-fi theme, a splicity based on a cutesy aesthetic, a splicity based on a regular concrete jungle, and a splicity based on a cyberpunk theme. However, unlike Retronia, new splicities can always emerge! (Just as long as there's enough people for it.)

The splicities of Modernia especially cater to their respective groups, with outliers living within them are essentially disregarded and encouraged to move to their own community where they fit in more. Modernians are especially picky when it comes to these things, wanting their aesthetics to stay clean of foreign interaction.

There are also mini-splicities, which contain smaller groups of Modernians who are centric to more specific vibes! These have the potential to become a regular splicity, but it would require a lot of work to get it there.

And lastly, there's divercities. As you can probably tell by the name, this is where Modernians from all over can live together in their own special place! Divercities are a lot larger than regular splicities.

Subgroups exist in Modernian society as well, now known in modernized terms like E-Daters, sweats, etc.

Architecture

As stated in the introduction to Modernia, the buildings of Modernia are very intricately crafted. They contain a lot more parts than you'd anticipate, beautiful lighting, realistic and modern designs, etc. Every single day, people break new limits for what people thought was possible in ROBLOXIUS! Examples shown below:

Appearance

Now with the full power of UGC and it's rapidly-growing size, Modernians can fashion themselves to whatever they'd like! Clothing salesmen are all over the place, selling a lot more trendy clothing. Many Modernians have embraced R15, with very few seen in R6. Examples below:

Quirks of Modernia

Not much, but Modernians have their own special things!

Unlike Retronians, Modernians don't respawn once killed. This also goes for Retronians who have moved to Modernia, as Retronia's natural protection wears off. HOWEVER! Modernians can get revived... but, it's through a ghostly-afterlife kind of redemption thing!

Badges earned from Games are stored in a digital inventory system that every Modernian has, rather than receiving them physically. This makes storage a whole lot easier!

Transportation is a lot more conventional: buses, cars, trams, subways, and others of the like. They're super detailed, too!

Only some Modernians get the privilege of becoming builders. All Modernians must go through a formal process to apply for BTool privileges.

Modernians are born from parents, or by spawning into designated "points" in specialized buildings! This also goes for Retronia!

Games

Games in Modernia are accessed through unique teleportation stations, an example shown below. And because the demand for Games is especially high in Modernia, there's an entire city dedicated to it! It's basically a huge arcade center! Modernians may access a panel attached to one of the teleportation stations' decorations to see if they would like to join a random server or if they would like to join a friend.

Most Developers in Modernia are still living in the nation, most likely living as an exhausted creator tirelessly working on their Games in the hopes of making it big and reaching Beyond. Only few Modernian developers have actually achieved such.

History

Modernia came to be when an ambitious group of Retronians defected from the main civilization body of the time, which was known as Robloxia. They would settle down beyond the mountains and forests to start their own future, rapidly advancing their own technology now that they weren't bound by the limitations of Robloxia.

The Moderation took note of this, and began to shift their support over to the early Modernians. Now with more resources and the special catering of higher powers, Modernia was able to launch itself far beyond what was expected of Robloxius inhabitants.

The Present

Modernia continues to advance itself, with new trends and innovations coming out nearly every week. All of Modernian society is completely self-absorbed in their day-to-day activities, completely unaware of or disregarding the existence of Retronians and whatever they may be doing.

Many Modernians also hold prejudices against Retronians for (quite literally) being stuck in the past and for their lack of dignity, but there are also some who sympathize with their situations. Sympathizers are usually outcasts.

Notable Modernians

VOIDER

Age: 27

Height: 5'7"

Likes: Hangin' around, causing trouble

Dislikes: ???

Occupation: ???

Status: Still around

Dialogue Showcase: "Now you see me, now you don't."

A mysterious man who hangs out in the alleyways of splicities trying to strike up a conversation with whoever passes by. He lacks any real concern for how he may appear to others, and he's filled to the brim with sarcasm.

There are several wanted posters around Modernia with his face on it.

DROP LILIUSO

Age: 23

Height: 5'1"

Likes: Cake, her friends, algae, seeds, swimming, working

Dislikes: Herself, fishing, oil, smoke, alcohol, working

Occupation: Job hopper (former), Waffle Dwelling server (former), Bartender (current)

Status: No longer in Modernia, now resides in Zombloxia.

Dialogue Showcase: "O-Oh! I didn't... I didn't know I had to order already!!"

A down-in-the-dumps girl who hails from the Koi legion. Seen as a social outcast by her splicity of residence, she spent most of her time barely getting by in life by jumping from job to job. Barely had any friends, as well as family members who willingly spoke with her. Went to land in hopes of a brighter future.

Slipped through the cracks of reality and ended up in Zombloxia, where she retains a relationship with her job at Waffle Dwelling akin to stockholm syndrome. Though, after a series of very unfortunate events, she quit and went to work at a restaurant as a bartender.

The Moderation

Beyond the skies, a group of gods and demi-gods alike gather around a table to oversee the affairs of the world below. The Moderation is the supreme ruling body of Robloxius, and all other government bodies within the civilizations follow their word. They possess the power to permanently rid of something or someone if they do not abide by their supreme laws.

Their attention is currently focused on Modernia, and communications with Retronia have died down drastically.
(Also they're competent unlike actual Roblox moderation...)

The Beyond

A civilization beyond the sky composed of Developers whose creations have permanently changed Robloxius for the better. They may enjoy the rest of their existence here in luxury.

EXTRAS

Now you've reached the end of the Robloxius archive! Thanks for reading! As a treat, here's a glossary and some other neat stuff!

Glossary

ROBLOXIUS	The universe where all of this takes place in!
Retronia	A joyful and carefree land, quite literally just like old times! Residents are called Retronians .
Modernia	A sophisticated land with a big focus on the future. Residents are called Modernians .
The Moderation	The supreme governing body, composed of Moderators .
The Beyond	A luxurious land where successful Developers are bound to go.
Developers	People who create Games .
Games	Alternate dimensions beyond ROBLOXIUS that house various forms of entertainment, usually with a premise. Accessed through portals built into teleporter machines.
Eracity	Cities within Retronia that are based around a specific time frame of Roblox. Subgroups exist within!
Town	Towns in Retronia that house a diverse population of Retronians from every era and subgroup.
Telamon's Blessing, Telab	The instance in which a Retronian gains awareness and intelligence. Not too common!
Holding room	Retronian talk for game servers.
Robloxia	Retronia's former name when it was the only civilization present.
RCKY cult	An extremely popular cult in Retronia dedicated to worshipping an unseen god named Raccunky.

EDS	The Ethos Delivery Service, based in Retronia . Delivers necessities for the citizens.
Splicity	Cities within Modernia that are based around specific genres, cultures, and aesthetics.
Mini-Splicity	Smaller cities in Modernia based on even more obscure aesthetics and whatnot.
