

DRESS TO IMPRESS DRAMA EXTRA.

Hello, My name is Omi and I will be covering every single thing in this document. I used to moderate for DTI as a trial moderator and the things that happened in just 3 days were insane and now that everything is coming out I'll be addressing everything.

Let's start with the beginning and Alien, who now goes by candiedgoth. I met Alien when she was just a trial moderator and we got along given we were both adults, she and I opened up to each other about things and related on things until she started telling me EXCLUSIVE moderator information and she was always paranoid that I would get her demoted if we ever fell out, so she faked being my friend since May.

Despite me not knowing she was faking being my friend I started finding out by people that she was sending her NSFW twitter to minors. I decided to not believe it and defended her, until she cut me off and I went back and finally looked through everything and came to the conclusion that she was indeed a pedophile and had groomed people IN FRONT of me.

Alien cut me off because her friend group was uncomfortable, which consisted of her husband who is 30 years old, Arin, a senior moderator who is 18, Soap who is 15 and another who was 17. She used both of those minors to try and take me down, which is weird.

When I started telling everyone what her and her husband to me is when things started to go downhill for her, it turns out she wasn't just leaking to me but to the 17 year old too and tried to get the 17 year old against me even though I had all the proof.

She started ranting in this persons dms because I was exposing her and wanted so badly for this kid to get proof against me but me and her hopped in a call and the person agreed it was weird and sided with me and therefore helped me gather all this proof, for reasons I won't be revealing this kids name.

For Soap who is 15, got the worst of it, they were told by a therapist to go to sleep and take their prescription pills but Alien, Arin and Alien's husband who's name is Danny encouraged Soap to stay on call and play games as I told her to go to sleep, which i was overstepped by Alien and the rest of them.

She cut me off a few days later because I was uncomfortable to others and was a bully, newsflash I wasn't and her and her husband told me my autism was something they needed to adapt to as if I was an animal which I am NOT.

She proceeded to tell the 17 year old person that this is why people kill themselves which is insane given the person already felt under pressure and was scared of her.

Alien made false accusations of ex-staff members who she didn't like, just because they used to leave her out of things, which they actually didn't. She was just paranoid.

Alien a 27 year old woman cried to me in a call with her 30 year old husband who called me a manipulator for something personal I opened up to, to Alien and she told her husband and used it against me and made me apologise and delete messages because she was scared of getting demoted.

Alien would fish for compliments from me and asked me for pictures of my modelling multiple times even though I said I was uncomfortable. When we sent pictures of ourselves she'd always play the pity card and claim she was 'too fat' to wear the clothes I wore and made every situation uncomfortable.

Staff made fun of me after I got demoted because I was crying after getting demoted but I was actually crying over personal issues.

I am friends with most ex-staffers and ALL of them say they always felt weird with her. Having a 27 year old moderate a server full of minors and actively call, interact with them on a whole other server is weird and creepy.

A ex-staff member was called the r slur after opening up to staff about how they were autistic, the person calling them that slur Bev who organised the Dress To Impress server's met gala, what did staff do about it not to mention he's done racist comments towards current staff member AmberFlop. Bev also claimed the met gala idea was only his but actually Blare who used to be his friend and him were supposed to do it together but then ditched her, not to mention how classist and toxic Bev was during his and Blare's friendship.

Serenity who is an ex staff member DOXXED a minor and she hasn't been held accountable and still remains in that server and is praised and is friends with staff who defend and cover up what she's done. Keep in mind Serenity is an adult.

Ski who is a transphobic cis man who has made multiple transphobic & nsfw jokes in public chat while being an adult not to mention him making fun of ex-staff even though they used to be friends, also he didn't even do most work as mod, he let Luke who's an ex SM do it for him. He's still a head moderator by the way.

Spooks, who is a former moderator got sucked into the mess when I got demoted and completely stopped talking to me due to the lies that everyone was feeding him. I admit what I said was insensitive but even ex senior moderators who weren't ex sm's at the time and trial moderators thought it was unfair the way I got demoted.

Arin, who is a current senior moderator, called a ex staff member a pedophile even though she knew it wasn't true, called me a bitch after I got demoted and did the same to almost every staff member who was demoted except one who she clearly favoured due to being close with them. She constantly got angry when I said Jake and Johnnie (popular youtubers) made emo being their whole personality even though she herself made liking the colour black her only personality trait. We were playing dress to impress and she literally got pissed off at me because I made a black wedding dress and that I needed to make her proud. Insanity.

I'll be posting all my proof at the end of this doc to make everything easier on the eyes.

Jax, who used to be an honoured model and even moderated for my server, she's been caught lying, crying and having tantrums to me and another adult over the Dress To Impress drama. I experienced this when me and a few friends I fell out with joined my server again and Jax didn't get along with them and I told her as advice that she should try and make amends because it was my server and those people and I had fixed things so we were friends. Guts, who is the other adult, provided proof to me of Jax seeking attention and pity in her dms, just recently she's now again defending people she talked shit about because she loves the attention. In those voice messages I said I didn't care whether she became a mod for dti or not but stated that I wasn't comfortable sharing stuff that was in my mod chats to them if she did become mod. I also never threatened her with a doc but SAID that a twitter doc would come out about all of them sooner or later and it did and I wasn't the first to release a document about how shitty the staff was, not to mention I said that I was insensitive and even have proof of me apologising to Aly and other mods MONTHS later to clear things up even if I didn't do anything to those mods, ex-staff members who were mods at the time have said the same thing and think It's stupid why I got demoted. As for my other mods if they ever felt it was toxic then that's just on them as I can attach thousands and thousands of screenshots of me not being toxic and all my current mods will disagree, these people literally only defend the current mods because they need attention, so don't blame me for you being an attention seeking person.

Exi a current head moderator who is friends with Serenity who is still in the server (serenity has doxxed a 14 year old, sent her cp, is a nazi apologist and called another former staff retarded after saying she was autistic!)

Aaliyah who is the current server manager, she's a groomer apologist and bans anyone who goes against the staff team even if they've done horrible stuff, ignored my statement and banned me not even minutes later.

Umoyae who is the current community manager meaning she handles the social media accounts, is a terrible person. She ignored actual claims from victims multiple times, banned people being associated with ex-staff, bullied mods out of the team.

For anyone defending Gigi, you are wrong, there's so much proof and her apology was shit, multiple Devs have come forward and some can't due to being scared. Wanting to accuse someone of r*pe is not normal and will never be normal. People need to start holding them accountable because multiple people have said DTI's downfall will happen and now that it is y'all will find more than just me coming out about it.

As for other staff members I haven't mentioned some are only victims in the situation, given Amber was literally the victim of being called slurs and being made fun of by people who the mods defend even though Amber is a moderator herself it shows you they don't even care about their own team.

Also not to mention Aaliyah did say she didn't condone it but kept Ski on the team.

If any new staff are reading this I hope you guys open your eyes and realise even if this is online it is unacceptable to act like this.

Dress To Impress isn't for friendship, community and kindness. It's a disgusting cesspool full of children/adults who can't handle their consequences being slapped in their face.

STATEMENT I SENT TO AALIYAH THE SERVER MANAGER AND GOT BANNED AFTER.

I assume you know where this is going and It is not going to be pretty, over the months I have seen vile things that I can't even fully comprehend. Alien also known as Katie which is her real life name is manipulative, vile and you guys have been not only ignoring multiple victims but outsiders proof and concerns. This shows that your staff team is indeed biased, it does choose sides, this is a serious issue that you guys need to fix.

You have a transphobe on the team, staff who slander other people in general chat because they can't move on. Alien has threatened suicide, manipulated and used minors for her advantage and not only that, she's done it to adults too. She slanders everyone that doesn't agree or work with her, she blames people for her actions and her husband manipulated me.

It shouldn't be normal for minors to be scared of this woman's husband, they are grown adults, they should be handling this with way more maturity, I'm being labelled as insane, a master manipulator to a child who has no option but to be on her side due to her being scared of Alien coming forward with other things. As an adult myself, adults should be the ones listening to people, not unloading their stress onto others, that's not to say adults can't feel but telling a 16 year old to practically be your spy is not normal and never will be. Soap got peer pressured by Arin, Alien and Aliens husband to stay on call and play games with them even though her therapist told her to take her medication and sleep, that is not a normal thing, they should be guiding her to go to sleep.

As an adult myself, adults should be the ones listening to people, not unloading their stress onto others, that's not to say adults can't feel but telling a 16 year old to practically be your spy is not normal and never will be. Soap got peer pressured by Arin, Alien and Aliens husband to stay on call and play games with them even though her therapist told her to take her medication and sleep, that is not a normal thing, they should be guiding her to go to sleep.

Alien and her husband belittled my autism and proceeded to tell me they needed to adapt to it, I am not an animal and didn't appreciate this, I also don't appreciate the fact she faked being my friend since may because I had dirt on her, I was told I would be shitty by her husband if I ever told anyone about this, I was manipulated, used and belittled by them.

Alien even suggested when I was demoted to go to an alt account and try and be mod again with the alt, she constantly makes up stuff about others, criticises others and hurts them yet I see no action being taken.

As for your head moderator Ski, I have seen how truly transphobic he can be and that is in no way acceptable to have in a server where you guys claim is a toxic free environment, have you ever thought about how you might be creating that toxic space, that you guys are slandering ex staff in the chat, where is that acceptable, where does it say you guys fucking tolerate that because it is not tolerated.

You guys can hate me, think I'm horrible but I will not back down from this, it is the right thing to do, listen to people, you need to put those biases aside that you so claim you do, so do it for once and help people from being hurt, because it isn't just your feelings that matter, the people in that server cherish that space, don't corrupt that and truly make it that toxic free environment you want it to be.

I am currently being lied about in the dress to impress the server, people are sharing my doc and Ski the transphobe is saying I'm trying to get revenge and saying I doxxed staff members which is NOT true. I have multiple alibis who say that I haven't which I will include in the proof along with what he is saying about me.

I won't comment as much on the Gigi drama because I have more experience first hand with the Dress To Impress discord server and wanted to clear everything up. I'll be adding to this doc.

Hello Yae!

I and another moderator (Rei) have recently been made aware of an incident which happened in April of this year between one of our moderators and another member. The reports of this situation come from a groupchat of members who have since been banned, but the screenshots were sent into another groupchat and then shared with me by another member who was in this groupchat. Admittedly, I am concerned that this has only been brought up now considering the coincidental timings of promotions and bannings for both parties, but the allegation is extremely serious and I urge you to look at this as clearly as possible.

From what I can tell by what I've been shown, on the 1st of April, 2024, Alien (21+) and Blaire (15) seemed to be having a conversation regarding commissions of Alien's art. I'm still in the process of tracking down this full conversation so I can gather the full context, but I also did not want to wait around until it was found due to the severity and the fact that Blaire may be inactive. Alien sent a screenshot of their carrd to Blaire, which contains the username of their Twitter, which then links to a NSFW art account. The link was not sent to Blaire, but the account was easy enough to find that Blaire had found it.

In the screenshots attached, you can see that both a Twitter and 18+ Twitter account are advertised within the carrd itself. I'm assuming that what happened was they searched up the username in Twitter and found both the accounts described as the NSFW account is linked in the bio of the SFW one. For obvious reasons, I will not be sending the screenshots of the work to you as they are graphic. I hope you know that this report holds no ill intent as I have no issues personally with anyone on the team - I'm making it because the entire situation has concerned me and I believe that you are the right person to share this with as you will know how to best approach the situation.

I have a statement for you from somebody who was close friends with a moderator, I appreciate that you might not trust me but I'm hoping that you'll be unbiased and take it as it is. This person didn't want to come forward themselves because they're scared of being punished or worse, and that's not fair. I, however, have nothing to lose and offered to do it for them. I'll send over the statement and a screenshot :) (edited)

"Hi, I was shown moderation information when I wasn't a moderator by Alien, she talked to me about Rev's demotion, Rue's demotion and things that had been going on behind the scenes for example; I got information of who the new trial moderators we're going to be, I was on Kyo's list, I wouldn't know that as that chat wasn't available to trials.

I only have one screenshot of proof to admit it, Alien got herself and her husband in a call with me, she proceeded to cry and tell me that I wasn't right for her due to the way I was, personal things I'd told her had been used against me, things I told her in confidential about my personal traits she'd told her husband. Her husband told me I'd be shitty if I ever told ANYONE about leaking, I was stupid and mass deleted messages with her about leaking about everything. She always told me, when you're moderator I'll tell you EVERYTHING.

She blamed me for her own actions, I did not PRY for information, she is a 27 year old woman, I guarantee you anyone else on the team would ever do that, so she had no right to tell me in any way that I was at fault, she can say no, unfriend me, block me. I constantly feel guilty because I know it isn't my fault she decided to leak this information to me.

Thank you for reading."

Alien 04/07/2024 09:25

I already paid my price for leaking that information to you unfortunately, it was my decision but the reason I came to you to talk to you about it in the first place is because I felt like you were also continuously prying for more information when things would happen, and thankfully it stopped - I only asked to see the modelling pictures of you because I think you are I'd advise you to take this report seriously and not be biased because I'm being used as the mouthpiece. Thanks!

 @ski This is from an exstaff who doxxed our mods... trying to get revenge

 Mika   Today at 6:52 AM

Who doxxed who? And from what I know. There's proof of YOUUUU. being transphobic. Let alone u talked shit abt some matching pfps even though YOU agreed to do them

The screenshot shows a Discord chat window for a server named "Dress To Impress". The chat history shows a conversation starting with a user named "val" saying "MR PRESIDENT GET DOWNNNN". This is followed by a user named "reynoldstss20" who says "isishwhwhwnnkopppppkkkwo9822'wmqjnnabaa". Then, the user "ski" replies with "this is the shit k'ri made me do" and includes four anime-style images of couples. A user named "MAYOR" then says "sdkfaasioappas". Finally, a user named "[AFK] tifa" asks "how do u check threads on phone?". The chat interface includes a sidebar with various channels like #general, #chatting, #media, #bots, #music, voice chat, and #community-art. The right sidebar shows a list of server roles and members.

Omi, a former trial moderator, has been accusing the Dress to Impress staff team of belittling and bullying her, but she fails to acknowledge her own harmful behavior. As her former head moderator, I experienced her belittling and intimidating me, including a five-minute voice note where she threatened me with a Google Doc if I became a trial moderator. Despite supporting her through personal issues, she refused to address individuals in her server who hurt me, prioritizing her community over my well-being and telling me to "make amends."

She even shared our private conversation with a friend, who then attacked me in DMs, mocking and undermining my feelings. Omi was ultimately demoted for making an insensitive comment that made the staff team uncomfortable, yet she downplays her role in the situation while focusing on her own narrative of victimhood.
