What you can expect from us

We are actively developing new features as well as clearing the bot of any bugs and glitches found by our users. We may remove these features, or add new ones. While we try to avoid disruptions, we cannot guarantee that there will not be an outage or change to the service.

Content in our service

Your Content

When we say “your content” in these terms, we mean all the things you add (orders, feedback, job applications, and texts you add when using some of the prefix commands) to our service. This may include texts, links, emojis, documents, or other media. If we add another way for you to submit content to the service, it includes that too.

You don't have any obligation to add content to our service. If you choose to add content to the service, you are responsible for ensuring that you have the right to do so, that you have the right to grant the licenses in the terms, and that your content is lawful. We take no responsibility for your content and are not responsible for others' use of your content.

Our service allows users to add content by using commands such as orders, feedback, and job applications. Some of these commands display your content publicly, so your content may be accessed by people you do not know. For example, using the order command shares your order, server name, server ID, user ID, and user avatar to the public. To understand how we treat your data, see our privacy policy.

Your content is yours but you give us a license to it when you use the bot. Your content may be protected by certain intellectual property rights. We do not own those. But by using our services, you give us permission to do the following with your content, in accordance with applicable legal requirements, in connection with operating, developing, and improving our service:

- Use, copy, store, distribute, and communicate your content in manners consistent with your use of the service. (For example, so we can display and store your content.)
- Publicly display your content, making it visible to others. (For example, so we can share your orders with our staff)
- Monitor your content. (For example, so we can avoid any violation of our service)
- Sublicense your content, to allow our services to work as intended. (For example, so we can store your orders in our database)

The license is worldwide, non-exclusive (which means you can still license your content to others), royalty-free (which means there are no fees for this license), transferable, and perpetual.

We have the right to block, remove, and/or permanently delete your content for any reason, including violation of these terms, our other policies, or any applicable law or regulation.

Our Content

Our service includes some content that belongs to us. You may use this content as permitted by these terms.

Our service provides you with access to other people's content. You may not use this content without that person's content. We work hard to try to make the Mc Donald's community a safe, positive, and inclusive place, but we cannot prevent you from encountering content that you may find objectionable or offensive. You agree that we will not be liable for any harm caused by that content. You may report content that you think violates any of our policies. We have the right, but not the obligation, to review such reports and block or remove content at our judgment.

Third-party features and content

When using the order command of the bot, you must follow these guidelines and all applicable laws, rules, and regulations, and you must only use the service for authorized and acceptable purposes. Note that you are allowed to order any non-food and/or items out of the menu, as long as you comply with the ordering guidelines:

Bypassing the order command character limit by removing spaces or some characters is also disallowed. Ordering "the whole menu" is allowed, as it is not complicated.
4. - No NSFW orders - NSFW (Not safe for work) includes nudity, pornography, political incorrectness, profanity, slurs, gore, and other content that is emotionally scarring to view. Light blood, light profanity, and orders that seem NSFW but are not such as "sexy characters" and "Sex on the beach" are allowed.
