Diplomatic relationships changing for both France and Germany

by: Berkeley W***

Given recent information about France's and, most recently, Germany's relationship with the so called "Visitors", diplomatic relationships have been changing. Japan's chief scientist stated, after the first announcement, that they were in the middle of negotiating a "scientific trade" (he declined further comment on what this trade was) with France, but given the recent allegations, cancelled the deal. He also said that "diplomatic relationships with France have changed and we will not be trading with them anymore". When the second announcement came out, I talked again with Japan's leaders and the chief scientist said that "we will treat them as we have been treating France". Japan's president added, "we do not know the intentions of the aliens, and until such information is made known, we will not engage with France or Germany". French chief's scientist commented, after much hesitation, 'Until there is evidence that France has cooperated with the aliens or made contact with them, we will continue to work with any country that is willing'. France's prime minister also declared "We've done nothing! This is the first we've heard of any of this."

A message from The Visitors

"To the USA: Us Visitors would like to request no further interruptions. Continue and it will result in retaliation. Think about the consequences.

~The Visitors"

This message was given to the GNN from the Visitors and was addressed to the People of Earth. Are the people of the Earth in danger? Can governments be trusted to prevent a war with aliens?

World leader meeting

by: Ria C****

In response to the rise in world terror and 'The Visitors' claiming that France and Germany are aiding them in their unknown cause, the leaders of the world met to discuss the rumors. The United Kingdom Prime Minister was very adamant about her stance, insisting that, "The goal right now is to protect humanity." It seems that the general consensus is that the aliens are trying to divide the countries, and the nature of their messages are to be a hoax. The leaders are certainly admirable in standing against our mysterious Visitors, but who knows what the aliens are truly after?
