INTRODUCTION

Double Space

The introduction contains the research background concisely, concisely, and clearly; problem formulation, research objectives; as well as data related to the substance of the study. Does not contain many references, except those of a regulatory nature, laws, regulations, and the like. Writing narratively, does not need to be given special sub-titles. Included in writing operational definitions, if deemed necessary, are also written narratively. (Font Times New Roman, size 11, spasi 1,15 justify)

METHOD

Research methods contain the type of research, sample and population or research subject, time and place of research, instruments, research procedures and techniques, as well as other matters related to the way of research. This section can be divided into subchapters, but it is not necessary to list the numbering. (Font Times New Roman, size 11, spasi 1,15 justify)

RESULT AND DISCUSSION

This section contains data analysis and interpretation of the results. Results can be presented with tables or graphs to clarify the results verbally because sometimes the appearance of an illustration is more complete and informative than the display in the form of a narrative. This section must answer the problem or research hypothesis that has been formulated previously. (Font Times New Roman, size 11, spasi 1,15 justify)

Equation

Equation writing uses the "Equation" insertion facility in the typing software (word processor). Each written equation must be numbered consecutively using Arabic numerals. Equation numbers are written in parentheses placed on the right of the equation and aligned with the right margin. An example of a writing formula is as follows:

$$Y = a + bx_1 + bx_2 + e \quad (1)$$

CONCLUSIONEnter 1x*

The conclusion must be related to the title and answer the formulation or purpose of the study. Do not make statements that are not adequately supported by your findings. Write down improvements made to industrial engineering or science in general. Do not make further discussions, repeat abstracts, or just list the results of the study. Don't use bullet points, use paragraph sentences instead. (Font Times New Roman, size 11, spasi 1,15 justify)

*Enter 1xACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Contains a thank you to sponsors who have supported your publication. (Font Times New Roman, size 11, spasi 1, justify)

*Enter 3xREFERENCES

This section contains only references to which it is actually referenced. Thus, references entered in this section will be found written in the preceding sections. Writing a bibliography consists of the author's name, year of publication, article title, city name and publishing institution. The bibliography is sorted according to the first letter of the author's name (A-Z), not necessarily grouped by book, journal, newspaper, or by other types of publications. Written with a space of 1. If in 1 reference more than one line, then the second line and so on are made indented. The bibliography is preferably articles taken from the latest journals or publications. The systematics of writing is as follows: (Font Times New Roman, size 11, spasi 1, justify).

References are required to use the Mendeley application. The references style refers to the 6th edition of the APA (American Psychological Association) system, where the last name or surname (surname) is placed in front, while the first name (one or two words) is sufficient to write the initials and placed behind the family name, separated by a comma.
