SUMMARY

Proactive Python Developer eager to take on new challenges and grow in dynamic environments. With 3.5 years of experience, I am well-familiar with Python Core and Django, and I am passionate about turning ideas into functional web solutions and working with databases. Since assembling my first computer at age 8, my passion for tech has driven me to deliver practical, high-quality results and collaborate effectively with teams. Looking forward to contributing my skills and learning from new experiences.
