The purpose of the South Carolina Book Award Program is to encourage our students to read quality contemporary literature and submit their vote to select the recipients of the annual awards.

Brief History

The South Carolina book award program has grown from the participation of sixteen schools in 1976 to approximately five hundred schools and more than 60,000 students presently participating. The original book award program was a children's division for students in grades 3-6. Additional levels were gradually added, and with the inclusion of the Picture Book award in 2003, all students in grades 4K-12 can now participate.

Since the inception of the South Carolina Book Award program, SCASL members have provided leadership and volunteered many hours of service to make the program a success. Some highlights of the Book Award program are:

1976

Children's division begun - Edna Bedenbaugh, Chair

1980

Young Adult division added - Jan Sarratt, Chair First

Executive Board Representative elected - Alleene Holland

Banners Program added - Debbie Stone & Alleene Holland

1993

Junior division added - Sue Harden, Chair

2003

Picture Book division added - Joyce Moore, Chair

Section I: Executive Board Representative (EBR)

A. Appointment of the Position

The SCASL EBR shall be appointed by the President of SCASL in consultation with the past EBR and with the approval of the Executive Board.

B. Term of Office

The term of office for the EBR shall be for a one-year term with an additional year to be served in an advisory capacity for the new EBR. It is recommended that the past EBR then rotate off for a period of three years before re-applying to serve on any book award committee. The official term of office for the EBR begins in July. However, the newly appointed EBR shall have the duty of planning and conducting the May meeting at the beginning of his/her term of office.

C. Composition of the Representative's Committee

The EBR chairs a representative committee comprised of the book award committee's vice-chair, the book award level committee chairs and vice-chairs.

D. Book Award Committee Meeting Procedures

- Book award level committee chairs, vice-chair, and the EBR, with final approval by the SCASL President, set the dates of all meetings.
- New members and returning members attend an orientation session at the annual conference and four Columbia area meetings. Ideally, an authority on children's literature should speak at conference or the May meeting on the evaluation of books, followed by a general orientation for committee members and distribution of consideration copies.
- The May, August, and October meetings are evaluation meetings. The December meeting is to complete resources, distribute books, and develop the following year's consideration list.

E. Nominee List

- Immediately after the final nominee lists are determined (after Newbery/Caldecott Awards have been announced), the EBR will notify the authors and publishers of the nominated books (carbon copying the president and president-elect).
- The EBR will send the list of nominee titles to jobbers, school district library media coordinators, the State Library, and the Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. In addition, the lists will be available through the SCASL listserv, through the SCASL website, and through SCASL Messenger.
- The EBR will arrange for the printing of bookmarks and contact sponsors (Follett) concerning the underwriting of this expense.

NOTE: The nominee list must include the following statement on the official SCASL announcement: "All media specialists should review all titles and add them to their collection only if the titles meet the criteria established by District Board Policy and Library Media Center Policy & Procedure guidelines. We recommend that others interested in purchasing these titles read reviews and scan materials to determine the appropriateness for their intended readers."

F. Consideration List

- The EBR will merge committee lists and request complimentary titles from publishers in January and write thank-you letters to each publisher as copies are received.
- The EBR will provide a consideration list/template and directions for distributing consideration copies to the vice-chair of each committee.
- The EBR will check final committee lists for title duplicates (shared titles) and make suggestions for age appropriateness.

G. Conference Medals

- The EBR will obtain the names of the authors and titles of the winners from each committee and then ensure the medals are ordered and engraved (via the Executive Secretary) for presentation at SCASL's conference book award luncheon.
- The EBR will notify the winning author of each award through the publisher, and invite him/her to the next year's conference. The EBR will also send copies of the letter and any reply to the President-Elect (Program Chair) of the conference.
- The EBR will send a list of winners to jobbers and should remind the Executive Secretary to send an announcement to ALA, School Library Journal, SC schools, SCASL Messenger, etc.

- The EBR will mail medal(s) to authors not attending conference.

H. SCASL Conference

- The Book Award Committee is required to create a tabletop display (if requested). The display will be manned by the chair and members during the opening conference event. The purpose of the display is to promote committee business, activities, and program; to provide topical information related to the committee; and recruit active members (if necessary).
- The EBR will ensure committee chairs have submitted a session proposal for their booktalking sessions as well as submit a proposal for the general book award session for new/prospective members.

- The EBR will confer with committee chairs to schedule members to work in the book award section of the conference store.

Arrangements should be made for introductions at the awards luncheon, autograph sessions, and Meet the Author conference sessions for any winning authors who attend conference.

- The EBR will confirm with the Executive Secretary that the ribbons have been purchased for the winning banners, trailers, and bookmarks.
- The EBR will submit a voucher to the PE for the contest winners for checks to be cut and given to winners at the Author Celebration Luncheon.
- The EBR will preside over the Book Award portion of the Author Celebration Luncheon. The EBR introduces the student presenters, announces the contest winners, and reveals the book award winners (including # of schools and students participating at each level). See conference handbook for details.

- In order for the program to work best for students, the sponsor should prepare by assuring that the following items are completed:
 1. The sponsor should secure support and authorization of the principal.
 2. The sponsor should provide information about participating in the award program to teachers and students.
 3. The sponsor should read the books to determine if each is acceptable by the school's book selection policy.
 4. The sponsor should encourage reading by selecting the best list or combination of lists to serve his/her school.
- Schools are encouraged to purchase at least 50% of the titles on each list in order to participate.

C. Sponsor

- Students participating in the Picture and/or Children's Book Award should read a minimum of FIVE books from the list in order to vote.
- Students participating in the Junior and Young Adult Book Award Programs should read a minimum of THREE books from a list in order to vote.
- Each child has one vote in each of the categories.
- All votes (not just the school winner) should be submitted by the specified date.
- Sponsors are in charge of voting at their individual schools. The process is up to the sponsor. Some schools use paper ballots, some use electronic. For example, an elementary school may choose to use paper lunch bags with a copy of the cover of the picture books displayed on them and give their students a marble to drop in the bag for the book they wish to give their vote. An elementary or middle school may create a paper form listing all of the titles (or have a picture of the titles) and have their students come in and physically fill out a form and drop it in a voting box. A high school sponsor may wish to create a SurveyMonkey (Google form or other online survey tool) and send out the link via email to students and/or place the link on their website.
- Regardless of the method you choose, all votes (not just the school winner) should be submitted by the specified date.
- At the appropriate time, a collection survey will appear on SCASL.net for you to submit your final votes for your school. This is a tally of all of the votes received for each title on the nominee list. For example:
 - Title A = 2 votes
 - Title B = 0 votes
 - Title C = 8 votes
 - and so on for all of the 20 titles on the list.

Attachment A: Criteria for Selection of Consideration Books

Titles to be considered are nominated primarily by members of the Book Award Committees, but nominations are sought from anyone interested in encouraging students to read. Students, teachers, media specialists, and parents are encouraged to submit titles for consideration to the Book Award Board Representative.

1. Books may be fiction or nonfiction and must be original works. In order to include the genre of folk and fairy tales, the committees may use their discretion in determining if a retelling is appropriate.
2. No Newbery or Caldecott Award winners will be considered. Honor books and other ALA Youth Media Award winners may be considered.
3. The books should have good literary qualities (plot, characterization, narration, style, etc.). Titles should reflect a balance in terms of genre.
4. Only books by authors residing in the United States at the time of nomination are eligible. This guideline does not limit the diversity of selections; current residence in the US does not equate to only considering American authors. This guideline ensures easier access to publishers for consideration copies and author attendance at conference.
5. Books included on each list should be appropriate for the specified grades and interest level while also allowing for the intellectual freedom rights of all students. It is recommended that age of characters be a consideration especially in regard to the teen years. This age appropriate level generally begins at the high end of the Junior Book category.

6. Books selected for the final nomination lists should follow the SC State Department of Education regulation 43-170 to the extent possible.
7. Books under consideration must be listed in the most current edition of Books in Print and have a copyright date of the present year, the preceding year, or a forthcoming year. Books must be available for purchase (or pre-order) by ALA Midwinter of the reveal year.
8. Each title on the consideration list must have NO NEGATIVE REVIEWS from reputable reviewing sources.
9. Only one title by an author will be included each year on each book award final list. There will be a three-year wait for an author's book to appear on any nominee list after that author has won any two South Carolina Book Awards.
10. Every book need not be judged appropriate for each grade level, but books will be included for grades 4K-3 (Picture), 3-5 (Children's), 6-9 (Junior) and 9-12 (Young Adult).
11. Members should remember that these lists are being endorsed by SCASL as quality reading for that year, keeping in mind the appropriateness for all students in South Carolina.

May 19, 2018:

Sequels: decision was to allow individual levels to determine how they would handle sequels and not have a global policy.

Deceased Authors: Per our guidelines, the rules state must "reside" in the US. We are interpreting that to mean they must be alive. Therefore, deceased authors cannot be on the list.

Attachment C: Voting Procedures

A. First Voting Meeting – May

1. In order for a title to be voted on, at least six committee members must have read the book. Books may, however, be eliminated at this stage by three or more members when they are deemed unacceptable. Members should bring documentation to support the elimination recommendation.
2. Vote will be Yes or No.
3. Sixty (60) percent must vote in favor for retention.
4. If fewer than sixty (60) percent vote in favor, the book is deleted from list.
5. It is recommended that one-third of list be cut at the May meeting.

B. Second Voting Meeting - August

1. Eight members must have read title in order to vote.
2. Vote will be Yes or No
3. Sixty (60) percent must vote yes for retention.
4. It is recommended that two-thirds of original list be cut.

C. Third (final) voting meeting – October

1. Prior to the October meeting, members should consider the remaining books and assign the highest rating of nine to twenty or fewer titles. All other books should receive a lower number.
2. Initial voting will be done without discussion of books.
3. Members who have read the book will give a score of one, two, eight, or nine, with nine being the best.
4. Eight members must have read the title in order to vote. If fewer members have read a title, that book is eliminated.
5. Following the initial voting, a list of books with scores of nine, eight, two, or one, will be created for members to see. Members will discuss each title to ensure that stated guidelines are being met. This process will continue until twenty books plus five alternates are listed by highest to lowest score. Members will then look at the final list to determine if it is the best combination of books for the nominee list.

Note:

Each book must be checked to determine compliance with the guidelines, and the SCASL Board of Directors must approve each list. Committee members will be notified of any changes.

The list will be released after Newbery and Caldecott Medal winners are announced at ALA Midwinter. Members are asked to not share the list until that time.

Attachment D: Guidelines for Banner Program of the SC Book Awards

Directions include:

1. The banner must represent a Book Award Nominee for the current year.
2. It must measure 2 feet by 5 feet 2 inches, to be hung vertically.
3. It must be made from cloth or cloth like material (example you could use a shower curtain—it just needs to be sturdy enough that it won't tear/rip easily) and have a 2-inch pocket on the top for the insertion of a dowel rod.
4. The book title and author's name must be on the front of the banner.
5. No food is to be attached to the banners.
6. Any large, bulky or heavy decorations must be securely attached. If they are not, the banner will not be hung for safety reasons.
7. In order to identify the banner and assist the judges, place a 3" X 5" card in each of the lower back corners of the banner. The following information should be included on each card:
 - Title of the Book
 - School – name and mailing address
 - Name(s) of the designer (individual or group)
 - Category (PBA, CBA, JBA, YABA)
 - School Media Specialist's name & email

PLEASE NOTE: Failure to follow these guidelines IN FULL will disqualify your school's entry.

Judging of Banners

Please review the Book Award Banner Judging Rubric for specific details judges will be looking for when reviewing the banners. Each banner will be judged on the authenticity of the art as it relates to the book as well as on the artistic quality of the banner. All artwork must be the original work of the child(ren) involved. The banner must be a student project. Adult input should be advisory in nature and kept to the minimum required by the age group participating.

Certificates of participation will be available on-line to each participating school at www.scasl.net. In addition, a ribbon for first, second and third place in each category will be awarded at conference and a prize of $100.00 will be awarded to the first place winner in each category; $75.00 will be awarded to the second place winner in each category; and $50.00 will be awarded to the third place winner in each category. The award checks will be mailed to the school media specialist unless otherwise requested. Banners will not be mailed back - they must be picked on the last day of conference.

A school may win only one first place award but may receive other award levels. Schools may only submit one banner per judging category to the banner competition. Schools may only submit banners in categories in which they are qualified to vote (i.e. a 4K – 5 grade school may be participating in PBA and CBA, and therefore may have two banners in the competition, one at each category level).

SCASL Book Award Media Content Guidelines

The following is a guide to follow in creating PowerPoints, Prezis, brochures, documents, and any other media that will be shared from the SCASL Book Award Committee.

SIZE MATTERS

Please ensure that the file size for the finished product is no larger than 2MB. This can be an issue with high quality photos, particularly book cover images used for brochures, PowerPoints, and other files types shared. Compress the images to stay within the size limitations. If your content is larger than 2MB, give them to the BA Chair on a USB or Google shared drive.

FILE TYPES

Most South Carolina schools have access to the Microsoft Office package. Publisher, while popular, is not in every school. Please provide both the Office document formats and a PDF copy of all printable media to ensure everyone can use the content.

ONLINE MEDIA

- If you create online media (ie: Prezi, YouTube, Animotos, Slideshare, etc.) provide an active link to these files.
- SCASL will need the original (long) URL. Do not send a shortened URL (Bit.ly or Google's shortener) as many districts filter those out.
- Ensure that the creator/author settings and permissions allow for embedding and sharing.
- If social networking tags or hashtags can be added, use #SCASL to tag searching.
- Audio files must be in the mp3 format

MAKE IT SHARABLE

Provide citations for any content used that comes with a copyright, and license the work purposefully for sharing. A creative commons share/share alike license allows for all users to freely download and reuse in their teaching context. Visit <http://creativecommons.org> to learn about licensing content for sharing purposes. FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

2019-2020 South Carolina Book Award Winners Announced

COLUMBIA, SC, March 7, 2020 – The 2019-2020 South Carolina Book Award Winners were announced this afternoon to attendees at the 45th Annual South Carolina Association of School Librarians conference held at the Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center. The students of South Carolina have chosen:

- Picture Book Award: Creepy Pair of Underwear! written by Aaron Reynolds and illustrated by Peter Brown
- Children’s Book Award: Real Friends by Shannon Hale
- Junior Book Award: Restart by Gordon Korman
- Young Adult Book Award: One of Us Is Lying by Karen M. McManus

Since 1976 when sixteen schools participated, the book award program has expanded to include almost 64,000 students in South Carolina participating in the program.

The South Carolina Book Award program includes a vetting process for each of the four levels of books. Committees composed of school librarians, teachers, parents and students select a list of 20 books for each level. Students who have read a minimum of three books (five books for picture book level) vote in February each year for the book they feel is the best. The winning authors are honored at the association’s annual conference held each March.

The South Carolina Association of School Librarians proudly supports its Book Awards program as an advocacy tool for the school library profession, providing school librarians, teachers, instructional coaches, parents, and district officials with a powerful literacy toolkit. The Book Awards program also provides evidence supporting how the school librarian and school library program positively impact student learning and increased student achievement.

The end credits must include where music originated and the reason it is free to use (ex: Song A performed by Band B was sourced from the free music in iMove; Song B performed by Person C was an original composition by Person A from ABC High School).
- All used images that are not self-created must be copyright free/creative commons/royalty free, etc. and proper citation of the image source must be appropriately cited and clearly visible at the end of the book trailer.

Judging of Book Trailers

Please review the Book Trailer Judging Rubric for specific details judges will be looking for when reviewing the book trailer videos. Each video will be judged on the authenticity of the art as it relates to the book as well as on the artistic quality of the book trailer. All book trailers must be the original work of the child(ren) involved. The book trailer must be a student project. Adult input should be advisory in nature and kept to the minimum required by the age group participating.

In addition, a certificate for first, second, and third place in each category will be awarded at conference and a prize of $100 will be awarded to the first place winner in each category; $75 will be awarded to the second place winner; and $50 will be awarded to the third place winner in each category. The award checks will be sent to the school media specialist unless otherwise requested.

A school may win only one first place award but may receive other award levels. Schools may only submit one video per judging category to the book trailer competition. Schools may only submit book trailers in categories in which they are qualified to vote (i.e. a K4-5th grade school may be participating in the PBA and CBA and therefore may have two book trailers in the competition, one for each category level.)

Judges' Instructions:

Scores are based on Total Score. Entries must meet all guidelines in full to be considered. If disqualifying the video, indicate on the Book Trailer Rubric which guideline(s) the video did not meet.

Attachment K: Guidelines for Student Participation at Conference

1. Student must be accompanied by a parent* (the conference cannot be a field trip: i.e.: teacher sponsor cannot bring them).
2. Parent must accompany student at all times.*
3. Student can only attend author signings and their own book award session (not general sessions).
4. Student can only attend luncheons (Author luncheon, Awards luncheon, etc.) if they purchase a ticket— only the ONE student who is presenting the Book Award Winner for each level receives a free Author Luncheon ticket.
5. Student can attend the exhibit hall during exhibit hours.
6. Special student attendance badge must be worn at all times while attending conference - this is for student's safety and benefit. Children are not allowed at our conference and the badge signifies the special status the student has to attend conference.

*It is hoped the parent is also a member of the book award committee and is registering for conference (to attend the full conference). If this is not the case, the accompanying parent does not have to register; however, they are limited to only the events the student member is allowed to attend in order to be the chaperone for their child. In order to attend additional sessions or events, the parent would need to register for conference.

No teacher, media specialist, or other adult is to take responsibility for a student who is not their own child. SCASL is not to be held liable for anyone who violates this policy.
