

David Dollenmayer - Library Trustee (3-year)

David Dollenmayer

Candidate for Library Trustee

In late 2021 I was appointed to complete an unexpired term as trustee of the library and now I hope to win your votes for a full, three-year term. As an emeritus professor of German language and literature at Worcester Polytechnic Institute and a professional translator of German fiction and non-fiction (mostly biographies and art history), I have had a life-long love of books and reading and feel a deep connection to the library as a place that provides all our residents free access to the joy, pleasure, and information that books and other media offer. I am also pleased that the library is a meeting place for town clubs and organizations.

I look forward to continuing to support Nanci Hill, the new director of the library, and to working with the other trustees, the Friends of the Library, and the Library Foundation to maintain and expand the library's many programs. I'm especially impressed by the conversation sessions offered to learners of English as a second (or third or fourth) language.
