Podcast Script: Power of Peace Project – “Protect the Dream”

Take 1 Tone Professional

[Intro Music Fades In – Upbeat, Inspirational Instrumental]

Host 1 (Alex):

Power of Peace Project is Back! 🎙️ The energy, the conversations, and the stories you’ve been waiting for are here. This brand-new podcast is all about fresh ideas, bold voices, and real talk that inspires action. ~~We are back!~~ It’s been a while but welcome to another episode of the Power of Peace Project Podcast, where we spotlight our movement and how we truly change lives. I’m Alex, and today we’re diving into something powerful — the Power of Peace Project, right here in Marietta, Georgia.

Host 2 (Jordan): (The other voice is a lady)

That’s right, Alex. If you haven’t heard about it, the Power of Peace Project — or POPP for short — is more than just a nonprofit. It’s a movement. And trust me, by the end of this episode, you’re going to understand why. You can also check them out online at www.powerofpeaceproject.com.

Section 1: The Mission

Alex:

So, Jordan, let’s start with the heart of it all — the mission. POPP is about interrupting and redirecting young people who are on a perilous path and showing them a better way. It’s about teaching hope, peace, and purpose, and equipping them with the tools to protect their dreams.

Jordan:

Exactly. It’s like building a superhighway — one that carries young people away from violence and fear, and toward leadership, self-respect, and opportunity. Whether it’s prevention in schools, intervention in detention centers, or spiritual guidance, POPP is there.

Section 2: Protect the Dream – Prevention

Alex:

One of the most exciting programs POPP offers is called Protect the Dream. It’s designed for schools and youth programs, teaching students how important it is to have a dream — and to protect it from the things that can steal it away.

Jordan:

I love that. Because when you give a young person a big enough dream to chase, it changes everything. Through Protect the Dream, students learn leadership, teamwork, and resilience — tools that don't just help in school, but carry through life.

Section 3: 40 Days of Freedom – Intervention

Alex:

And then there's 40 Days of Freedom — this is where the work gets deep. This program takes place inside juvenile detention centers, where POPP works hand-in-hand with young men and women who have found themselves stuck in cycles of violence or trauma.

Jordan:

Yeah, this is all about intervention — breaking chains, literally and figuratively. These 40 days teach conflict resolution, personal responsibility, and how to find true freedom, even behind walls. It's about rewriting their story, and giving them hope for what comes next.

Section 4: 40 Days of Prayer – Spiritual Power

Alex:

And we can't talk about POPP without mentioning 40 Days of Prayer. This is where the spiritual side comes in — and it's open to everyone, from every walk of faith.

Jordan:

Absolutely. It's a reminder that miracles do happen. This program builds a community of volunteers and supporters who are on a spiritual mission to lift these kids up. It's about connection, unity, and bringing people together to serve a cause greater than themselves.

Section 5: A Movement, Not Just a Program

Alex:

And that's what makes the Power of Peace Project so unique. It's not just a program — it's a movement. From Marietta, Georgia, this work has inspired thousands across the country, creating safer schools, stronger communities, and opportunities where there were none before.

Jordan:

And here's the thing — this movement only grows when people like you get involved. Whether you're a parent, a coach, a teacher, a business owner, or just someone who cares about the next generation, there's a role for you.

Section 6: Call to Action

Alex:

If you're listening and you feel inspired — here's what you can do. Visit www.powerofpeaceproject.com to donate. It costs only $120 to provide books and journals for 30 students. With your support, these life-changing resources can be placed directly into the hands of students who need them most. ~~There, you can donate to support these life-changing programs.~~ On our website, you can sign up to volunteer, or just learn more about how this work is transforming lives.

"Ready to make a difference? Here's how you can join us."

Jordan:

Every dollar, every hour, every voice matters. Together, we can build that superhighway for our kids — a road that leads to peace, purpose, and power.

CLOSING

Before we leave, we want to thank our Gold Partners: Georgia Power, Cobb EMC, and all donors

Jordan:

And before we leave, we want to send a huge thank-you to our Gold Partners — Georgia Power, Cobb EMC, and to all of our donors. Your support keeps this mission alive and thriving.

Alex:

Absolutely. We couldn't do this without you. Thank you for believing in these kids and for helping us keep the dream alive.

~~[Outro Music Fades In — Soft and Hopeful]~~

Alex:

On behalf of the Power of Peace Project, thank you for listening, thank you for believing, and thank you for being part of this movement.

Jordan:

Protect the dream. Protect our youth. And remember — peace is possible.

~~[Music Swells, Then Fades Out]~~

TAKE 2 - Different Tone conversation casual

Podcast Script: Power of Peace Project – Casual, Conversational Style

~~[Intro Music—upbeat and positive, fading in]~~

Host 1 (Alex):

Hey everyone, welcome back to the Power of Peace Project podcast — where we talk about people and programs that are changing lives. I’m Alex, and today I’m sitting down with my friend Jordan to talk about something really special — the Power of Peace Project, based right here in Marietta, Georgia.

Host 2 (Jordan):

What’s up, everyone! Yeah, this is gonna be a good one. If you’ve never heard of the Power of Peace Project — or POPP, as we like to call it — you’re in for a treat. This isn’t just some nonprofit. It’s a movement that’s literally saving lives and transforming communities.

Section 1: The Heart of POPP

Alex:

Alright, Jordan, let’s break it down. What’s the heartbeat of this thing?

Jordan:

It’s all about giving young people — especially those in tough situations — the tools to dream big and then protect that dream. You know, life throws a lot at these kids: violence, bad influences, trauma. POPP is here to help them see there’s another way forward.

Alex:

Yeah, and the way they do it... man, it’s like building a superhighway for hope. One that leads straight to opportunity, peace, and purpose.

Section 2: Protect the Dream – Prevention

Jordan:

So, let’s talk programs. First up, Protect the Dream. This one’s all about prevention. We’re in the schools, in the classrooms, working with students to help them understand how powerful it is to have a dream — and more importantly, how to protect it.

Alex:

Yeah, and it’s not just “stay in school” speeches, either. These sessions teach leadership, teamwork, self-discipline — the kind of real-life skills that can carry a kid through high school, college, and into a career.

Jordan:

Exactly. When kids realize their dream is bigger than the noise around them, that’s when everything starts to change.

Section 3: 40 Days of Freedom – Intervention

Alex:

Now, this next program is called 40 Days of Freedom — and wow, it's powerful. This one's all about intervention.

Jordan:

Yeah, we're talking about working directly with youth in detention centers. These young men and women are dealing with some heavy stuff — violence, broken families, you name it.

Alex:

The 40-day journey teaches them how to resolve conflict, take responsibility, and honestly... find freedom within themselves.

Jordan:

And I've seen it, man. Walls come down. These kids start believing in themselves again. It's about breaking those chains — the ones that have been holding them back — and showing them they have the power to rewrite their story.

Section 4: 40 Days of Prayer – Spiritual Connection

Alex:

And here's something I love: POPP doesn't shy away from the spiritual side of this work.

Jordan:

Yeah, that's where 40 Days of Prayer comes in. And don't get it twisted — this is for every faith, every walk of life.

Alex:

Exactly. It's about coming together, believing in something bigger, and yes — believing in miracles. This program builds an army of volunteers and supporters who share a mission: helping kids find peace and purpose.

Jordan:

It's wild to see. Different people, different backgrounds, but all united to lift these kids up. That's the kind of energy that moves mountains.

Section 5: A Movement

Alex:

That's what I think sets POPP apart — this isn't just an organization. It's a movement.

Jordan:

For real. From Marietta, Georgia, to communities across the country, POPP is proving that when you plant seeds of peace and hope, the ripple effect is huge. Safer schools, stronger families, better communities — it all starts here.

Section 6: How to Get Involved

Alex:

So if you're listening and you're thinking, "How do I help?" — it's easy. Go to www.powerofpeaceproject.com.

Jordan:

Yep. There you can donate, volunteer, or just learn more about the programs. Seriously, whether it's your time, your skills, or your resources, every bit helps keep this movement growing.

Alex:

Yeah, because when we work together, we can build that highway — one that leads every young person toward peace, purpose, and power.

[Outro Music – uplifting tone]

Jordan:

Alright y'all, that's it for today's episode. Huge thanks to everyone listening and to all of you who are already part of this mission.

Alex:

Protect the dream. Protect our youth. And always remember — peace is possible.
