

Prompts for Lech Lecha Torah study (please choose ONE to respond to!):

- 1) How might you react to a call for change (or how have you in the past)? Would you:
 - ☐ jump in with a sense of adventure and go forth?
 - ☐ need time to deliberate and consider your options?
 - ☐ be reluctant to change or choose to not change?
- 2) Describe a big change, a time when you did something new. What was exciting, and what was scary about newness?
- 3) Think of a time you, your family members, or someone you know, moved. What was challenging in the new place? What could be brought along? What or who was left behind?
- 4) Have there been moments or ways in which you had to recreate yourself? For example, taking a new name, like Abraham and Sarah? Or something else?