

Hello from the Pomona College Department of Theatre and Dance!

We're reaching out because one of your courses connects with themes and stories told in John Guerra's The Last, Best Small Town.

The Last, Best Small Town is a play that follows the story of two neighboring families—one Latinx and one White—who live in the small Southern California town of Fillmore. As the first decade of the 21st century unfolds, the children of these families come of age, fall in love, and suffer loss, as they continually hunt for their place in a world that can no longer promise them a better life than their parents.

The Last, Best Small Town runs in the Seaver Theater from March 3-6 at the following times:

Thursday, March 3rd at 8pm
Friday, March 4th at 8pm
Saturday, March 5th at 2pm (with live ASL interpreters!)
Saturday, March 5th at 8pm
Sunday, March 6th at 2pm

If you would like to integrate the show into your course, for example, as extra credit, we can provide your students with comp tickets (free). To do so, email Marja Kay a full class list of names so that we can check them off. Typically, student comps are issued on Preview night (3/2) and can only be redeemed in person. Upon your request, we can also provide you with a cast rundown and even a copy of the script.

If you would like to encourage your students to attend, please share the following information with them:
