| BridieTamera | Kia ora Manaaki,I came to come and check out your blog! I really liked how you presented information about the Maori culture. It's amazing that the Maori language was only made official in 1987. It wasn't that long ago, and from my very little knowledge about the Maori Language. Next time I would love it if the post was a bit more colorful and appealing, so it quickly catches the readers eye. What fact did you find the most interesting? Can you speak fluent Maori? - Bridie x Hello Tamera!I am Bridie from Parkview School. I really like how you reflected on what you did in the past term. It sounds like your team was interesting and full of a lot of fun! What was the most interesting fact you found out during your Science Experiments? Next time I would like it if you told us more information about term 2. I can't wait till you do the term 3 slideshow, to see what you have been up to for the next weeks. Bridie :) |                  |
| ImogenTrent  | Kia ora Room 6I really like the animals you made with paper and they look really good. I wonder whether you could make any sort of animal with paper? I think that you could put more information on how you make the origami that would be awesome. Thank you Imogen, parkview school                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                  |

| Piper-Jakob  | Kia ora, my name is Piper,The school you made on minecraft looks amazing, I love how detailed it is. My favourite part of the school was the lockers, they looked so cool. Also the cafeteria, it was very nice. It reminded me of when I played minecraft. How long did it take you to make the whole school? Was it hard? Where did you get the idea to make the school? I really like your work. Check out my learning at my blog: https://pvspiperp.blogspot.co.nz/Piper-senior squad.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                  |

| Reuben N         | Fantastic work on this amazing school , I love it how it has lots of detail and special features. This has taken me back to when me and my friend always used to build a school and let other people join!! It would be so cool if you added in who designed it and did you make it on a xbox or tablet or what device you used. Vinaka Lottie . Bula Reuben My name is Lottie im from parkview primary school in Christchurch. Wow this is an amazing piece of writing sounds like you boys had a blast there. This took me back to when i went to blenheim for my tournament. A thing you can improve on is to put the font in a different colour because it's in black and hard to see. Did you guys get a placing in Queenston? Over all amazing job keep it up ! Vinaka Lottie |  |
| Kahuglen | Kia ora room 6 @Awahono school,My name is Kahu. I really like the school in the minecraft world. How long did it take you to make the school? i like that the lockers are iron doors and you made a hallway to the lockers and the classes. I liked how you had the desk with carpet and a fence. The whole school looks awesome. What gave you the idea to build a school? It made me think of when I was 8 years old and used to play on my pc and when I used to build a big building. Have you thought about making a hunger games stadium. If you would like to see my learning. | Tessa           | Kia Ora Jaide, I really liked the way you put lots of information in each slide. It made me think of how I would like to go to Spain one day, I want to know why you didn't say anything on your 2nd slide. why did you pick the topic Spain? Did you pick your partner?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |  |
| LeahJoanna  | kia ora NBCyou guys must have had fun at Catholic Cathedral College I really like that you guys did some cool experiments with dry ice and electric things. maybe explain how the teacher taught the subject and if you liked the way the teacher explained it. the formatting doesn't look that good maybe put it into paragraphs because it goes off the page and looks a bit messy. if you want to look at my blog just click my name. Kia ora JoannaI really like that you're devoted to reading that series. it reminds me of when I read a lot of book series, my absolute favourite books at the moment are the harry potter books mostly the ones that provide background to some of the ideas. maybe check your spelling next time and punctuation because it took me some time to understand what you were saying, anyway what other books do you like and what are they about? I hope you reply soon maybe you could check out my blog Sincerely Leah from Parkview School |  |
| CaylahTiana | Kia ora Anya, I really like the way you put lots of important information. it made me think of when I done studies on Moas a couple of years ago. Next time, you could change the fonts so other people can read properly? | Tauvale              | Hi Awahono school its Tauvale here I really like your slide about time I also like how you ask questions to see if you know you 24 hour time, Maybe next think about using more colours in your slides GOOD JOB KEEP IT UP!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
| Mark                 | Kia ora William, What a very cool pin cushion, I like the checkered material you have used, it reminds me of a golfers hat. I have made a candle before however never made a pin cushion. What was the hardest part of the creation of the cushion? Some learners I have been working with today noticed you commented on a blog yesterday that was not using positive, thoughtful and helpful. Could you please see if you could fix up the comment now that you know more about smart commenting? Nga mihi nui, Mark |  |

| Angel       | Hello room 6, my name is Angel and I am a student at Parkview School. I really like your drawings that you did of what Rose looks like. The drawing that you did is probably what I would imagine Rose to look like in my head. If I did read the story, it reminded me of when I was at my old school, Gilberthorpe, and we were creating our own drawings of our own people that we created that we had to colour in with pastels and it took a while to finally finish our people. Have you thought about adding why you chose all of the clothing and describing why you chose the look of the person? If you would like to see my learning blog, Here is the link - https://pvscarsnera.blogspot.co.nz/ Good job on your drawings. |  |
| Kody        | Hi Lucas i think you look really good in that photo it looks fun; . | Lucas w     | Hi Lucas here from Parkview school. I really like the selfies you took really really cool. You looked very surprised when the selfie was took . One thing you should change is the we at the top could yous a capital letter. Please post more thanks Lucas                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |  |
| Tyrone      | Hi vann im Tyrone from Parkview School, I really like how much information you added In. Maybe next time make the text bigger and add some colours. How long would they rub the body and what is that natron stuff? good job vann.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |  |
| Ryan        | Hello Room 6, my name is Ryan and I'm a student from Parkview School. I really like the way that you got to dissect that pig i would like to see how it all works. I think it's really cool to do something like that. Before you cut up the pig, did you guys have to take all of the skin off or did it come like that? If you would like to check out my learning and school work my blog is                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |  |
