

: Introduction

This poem speaks about a child's love and curiosity for his/her teacher. Teachers are just next to superbeings for children. They can't imagine that teachers are also ordinary human beings.

Summary

For young kids, a teacher is an extraordinary special person.

It is difficult for a small child to accept that a teacher is also any common man or woman living around him. The child wonders and questions if teachers also behave like other people, If they also do all the work or things, other people do? Like do they live in houses, do they wear pyjamas (clothes), wash socks or watch T.V? Do they also have parents and children to live with? All these questions bother a child's mind and out of curiosity, one day the child decides to follow his teachers to keep a check and to write a poem about them so that the teachers read that poem to their students. It shows the cuteness, purity, curiosity and dilemma a young mind has for his teachers. It also shows their expectations from teachers

: Scribbling : draw or write something that is not readable