

Some sample questions for the physicians. Feel free to improvise and add more...

- A brief biography.
- What made you want to become a doctor in the US?
- Have you ever felt like the profession is too hard, too tiring or too demanding?
-
- What part about being a doctor brings you the most joy?
- What was the most stressful thing you've experienced or had to deal with?
- Have you ever had times where you were caught off guard or unprepared for something?
- When did you decide in your life that you wanted to be a doctor?
- While still in medical school or residency, did you ever get too caught up in your studying or studied too much that it negatively affected you?
- On your journey to becoming a doctor, what was the most challenging obstacle that you had to face? How did you overcome it?
- What is the easiest part of your job as a doctor?
- When you became a doctor, did you have any expectations for how well you thought you were going to do in the profession?