

Description of the Writing Center's services

The Writing Center is a free resource that helps students become stronger, more confident writers. We can help with any writing project at Moody, and you can come at any point in your writing process, even if you do not have anything written yet. Every visit has two goals: 1) to help you improve your paper and 2) to give you at least one strategy that you can use in future papers.

To make an appointment, visit our headquarters in Crowell Library, or visit <https://writing-center.moody.edu/homepage/>.
