Personality

Lady is a sweet molly, always quick to talk nicely to those around her and earn a reputation for being likeable.

She puts others first, and is quick to forgive a wrong. Second chances are huge with her, and she's always happy to share opportunities. She has an aura of creativity, hardly struggling to come up with good ideas to stand out and be someone others want to be around. She loves to tell stories and perform, her strongest skill lying with her joy for being known. With how sweet she is, it's only common for her to have a gentle outlook.

She is hard to get angry, taking on a more passive vibe of things and rarely raising her voice or showing aggression. She doesn't like to be rude, and always treats others kindly and openly.

Lady is very particular with how she wants to act, and how she wants to appear around others. She is a perfectionist, always aiming for the best, striving to be who she wants to be. She practices all of her skills, even down to her appearance, everything is calculated for her. She wants nothing but enjoyment, and she keeps track of everything that goes on around her. She has no slack in her retorts either, her ability to defend and scorn, rebuke and even comeback is rarely outmatched. She is very good at knowing what to say to get under skin, or even just to encourage others. She has the communication skills and ability to go far.

She can be a little pessimistic, though, and often looks at things with a glass half empty. She often believes things will go wrong, so that is how she chooses to treat the situation. She gives off a vibe of mystery, not particularly trying to tell others about herself unless it was needed. She keeps to herself, not minding that others don't know much about her. She can also be a little selfish. While she doesn't want to tell others a lot about herself, she is also a strong mind to think more about herself and what she wants others to see rather than what they could see. She is very conscious and careful of how things go for her, often going overboard just for it to go right.

History

~Header~

Lady was the second kitten born to Vincent and Rose. She and her siblings, Tide, Sunbeam, Barnacle and Mallow, were born into the safety of the Ridge Colony.

From the start she was born into a very loving family. Rose and Vincent were equally loving and made promises to give Lady and her siblings the best life they could get.

Lady immediately knew she was a daddy's girl, often following Vincent around and mimicking his words and actions, promising to be big and pretty just like him.

Other

- ★ - Voice claim is RIEL
- ★ - Her favorite colors are violet and orange
- ★ - Seems round and pudgy, hidden by her fluff. Will be quite lean, graceful looking, tall and fluffy like Vincent
