

Welcome to the library! My name is Mrs. Morley and I am the librarian at Liberty Hills and I have been a part of the husky pack since L.H. opened. I love reading (now) and helping students find joy in reading too, but being a reader hasn't always been easy for me. Besides reading, I also enjoy doing things that help me tap into my creativity and use my imagination. I like to cook, bake, and try new recipes, I enjoy being outdoors, and I love spending time with my family. I have three children and 2 adorable granddaughters. Working in the library brings me so much joy, I truly love the library and hope you will learn to love the library and all it has to offer too!

Liberty Hills media center:

Mission:

“Empowering all students to read, learn, question, explore and create.”

Purpose:

To promote reading and encourage lifelong learning

Vision:

For all students to discover a love of reading

Goal:

The 3 R's (To READ, show respect, and be responsible while learning to use the library and its resources)

What you can expect from the library this year:

Checking out library books

Battle of the Books

Stories and lessons - library skills

Activities and contests

Book Fairs

Using the book vending machine

And more . . . !

Scan this QR code, or click HERE, to check out our library blog where you can find links and resources to keep you reading and stay informed about what is happening in the library!

If you have any questions feel free to email Mrs. Morley at peggyomorley@alpinedistrict.org

See you soon in the library!

Other important links to library information...

Collection Development Plan for the Library

Liberty Hills Library Policies and Procedures

