SL: Thank you 🙏 + a present 📺

Hi <name>,

I recently experienced some headaches and stated looking for a solution on yt, there I found one of your videos <video name> and it actually helped,

I started rubbing a piece of soft plastic on the neck and after some time the pain started to diminish.

Thank you,

it actually impressed me how many helpful videos you have regarding different types of pains

I wanted to see if there was more valuable info for me and went to your website and I couldn't notice the fact that you have some leftover spots for sound meditation.

In return for your help I made something for you.

Something that is going to make people buy the appointment

I call them the Lego Blocks

They create a massive desire for the reader to take action towards your app.

You may be wondering now: "well, how does it work?"

The Blocks use the current state of the reader in rapport to their dream outcome, so that it amplifies their desire to make a change in their lives by buying your product.

Instead of the regular marketing techniques like an ad or a video,

The Lego Blocks make the reader feel the value that you bring to the table

So that they eventually buy your services.

Here is an example that boosts traffic to your site faster than a rocket can take off...

Subject line: destroy your anxiety and stress in just 1 hour

Hi [the newsletters subscriber name],

Are you always in a stressful environment that leads to more and more anxiety over the days?

Do you get home worried about what will happen the next day?

If the answer is "yes, im destroyed by my unhealthy environment"

then...

here is something that:

>will break you free from the cage that is holding you in constant stress - all your problems are going to vanish >will let you heal the wounds that the anxiety has caused your mental state > and will refresh your mind - your mental state is going to be completely weightless and at peace.

PLUS it's going to make you think more clearly than fresh mountain water can be.

This is only 1 way to direct traffic to your website.

I have some more ideas that can generate fast traffic but it would take days to write them down.

If you want we can arrange a Zoom call so that I can explain them to you.

Are you down?

Thanks,
David
