

saker, you lying, thieving, manipulating piece of human shit, in the spirit of christianity and in the name of russian-serbian brotherhood i was going to roll over and pretend i had never heard of you. i really wish i hadn't.

but then you DARED to suggest that i was complicit in "an attack on the saker blogs" and that i had "purged the serbian saker blog of most of its data", both of which are blatantly false. i want nothing to do with you or your blogs, and the only posts i removed from the serbian saker blog were the 10 i myself had put there, including my translation of the excellent article by aleksandar lambros which incited you to trample on the editorial freedom you had committed to.

THEN you circulated a letter characterizing "the second serbian team leader who just left as insane as the first" (aco jovanovic) in expectation of a serbian public apology for my / our common insanity, in the absence of which you will "shut down the serbian saker for good". just to remind you: you wouldn't even HAVE a serbian domain if colonel djosic hadn't paid for it, if jovanovic hadn't made it work and if i hadn't convinced djosic to leave it alone after you chased jovanovic away with a broom. clearly the person who is ripe for psychiatric help is neither jovanovic nor myself but YOU.

moreover, you have been telling everyone francois went away, leaving your empire in IT ruins, because of your principled stance on charlie hebro, which is just total bullshit. francois ultimately left, after trying to bail out for some time, because of your messianic delusions and your kitchy, campy empty wallets you send to people STUPID enough to empty their pockets to send you bread. and just 4 days ago you were begging me, as a person of trust, to assume legal ownership of your 4 primary domains because "francois was holding a knife to your throat". would that he had drawn it!

lies, lies, LIES. all you know is lies. you bash me for posting an antiislamic article. just how much good do you think you are bringing the people of donbass (if that was EVER your true intent) by spreading lies and manipulating people just so you can get a few bucks through paypal. you complete, unabashed, repulsive ASSHOLE! and i used to wonder why gleb bazov and other russian patriots were so critical, and cynical, about you. so now i know.

you pretend to be an old russian but you're nothing of the kind. you pretend to be an orthodox christian, i doubt it. i look forward to meeting with the russian priest whom "you know very well", your family in buenos aires and your cousin who built an orthodox christian CHURCH, for Christ's sake, here in my neighborhood to ask them what train ran into you and scrambled your brains. you're a sorry excuse for a human being, andrei, and you know something? you smell like yankee spy more than anything. all the way down south to argentina.

ultimately, you will be as sorry you crossed paths with me, as i am to have crossed paths with you, and this is NOT a joke or a threat. i hope you choke on your own vomit, VERMIN!
