Bear looks over the SMP, in a suit on top of the Community Centre and talks about how the BearSMP finally will become something, a real SMP. He says that he has invited everybody, except one person, who he must talk to today. He comments on how this person has built roads and structures within the SMP so they deserve to come to the first ever meeting. He acknowledges they don't want to be a part of the SMP, but might as well ask. He heads over to Sniff's house, and prepares himself to talk to them.

He says hello, and Sniff pauses. They ask what's up, and Bear tells them that he knows they are busy, but he saw what they did with the roads of the SMP. Bear tells them that the BearSMP will become a real SMP today and he wants to ask if they want to join. Sniff says she doesn't think it's a good idea. Bear says that there is no pressure and they said that they will come but they do not want to join the SMP and do not want to talk to anyone.

In the meantime, Jonah walks around his castle. He comments on the remarkable size of the walls, and mentions that he is unsure why he is even building this castle. He says that it is driving him insane, and walks down the hill back to the centre of the SMP. He admits to being a Knight, but has never had a castle. He gets to his home, and goes to put things away in his storage area. He wonders if he should speak to someone, because his life is not bad, but boring to wake up, build a castle, sleep, then repeat everyday. He visits Seeds and talks to him about his problems. He mentions that there are no wars, so why is he building a castle and preparing for battle. He wonders what the other SMP members are up to, and whether they have a purpose or not. Jonah considers that if everyone works together on making the SMP official, everyone will have a job, a purpose. He randomly remembers that he is a librarian, and the castle has forced him to forget about his main purpose in the SMP. He thinks the only good thing he has done in a good time is protect Niki from Bill and Neptune's antics. He finds a bunch of sea pickles dropped around his home, and wonders if it is the same thing as the Moonzy situation. He heads over to the town hall.

Guqqie was renovating Big Wheat, and talks about making a designated area to research Earth as everything is so foreign to them. She heads towards the town hall to see the members of the SMP. Aimsey arrives beside the town hall to find everyone, and tells Bill and Jonah that she found a suit to wear to the meeting.

Bear walks with Sniff to the town hall, and they spot Moonzy, Jonah, Bill, Guqqie and Aimsey. They all go towards the Town Hall and Bear let's them come inside. They all come in and take a seat on either side of the impressive new build. Bear asks where Neptune is and Bill informs everyone that he is on a business trip. Bear introduces everyone to one another. He tells them that he doesn't want this SMP to end up like the PerfectSMP so no groups and no nations to avoid wars. Bear also suggests that each person bring something to the table to help unite and bring the SMP closer. Aimsey goes up first, and says they want to work on making friends with everyone on the SMP. Jonah goes next, and says he would like to work on his library. He tells them about how he has been keeping the history of the SMP in a hidden library. He also mentions his castle but says he is unsure why he built it.

Guqqie takes their turn next, and she suggests that she would like to make a research centre so they can research the area of the SMP as it is different from their homeplace.
Bill heads up to the lectern, and tells the SMP he would like to sell trench coats. They all dislike this idea, so Bill talks about his casino instead. Moonzy says that she would like to learn more about magic and her boundaries with magic.

Bear asks Sniff if they would like to take their turn, or if they had anything to add. They panic and stutter a lot. Bear assures them that everyone here is friendly, and they all say hello to them. They introduce themself, and everyone compliments the additions they have had to the SMP. They tell everyone that they used to build in their old SMP and find a lot of purpose when building. Bear goes back up to the front, and takes into account everyone's ideas. Bear asks Jonah if he can train the SMP to fight if they are a proper SMP. Bear enquiries into Guqqie's research lab and whether they need help. She says some help might be beneficial.

Aimsey suggests they make posters to recruit more people for the SMP. Guqqie volunteers to help make posters. Everyone seems happy with the idea of inviting new people. Bear thanks everyone, and Aimsey tells him that they are proud of him. Everyone cheers for the SMP, and heads off.
(As everyone leaves to head back to their homes, they spot Tubbo has been logged on the server and standing on top of the town hall.)
Bear and Sniff are alone in the town hall. Bear apologises for putting them on the spot. Sniff tells him that as soon as Fruit arrives, they will pack their bags and leave. They do not want to be part of the SMP at all. Bear apologises again, and admits he thought wrong. Sniff says goodbye and walks away.

Bear is alone in the town hall, and admits the meeting went well. He says that he will not let the PerfectSMP happen again, and he will not let the SMP change him. He says that he cannot let anyone mess around, because that is how people end up getting hurt. When people mess around, things fall. Bear will do it right.
It cuts to a cinematic of the SMP members in different places putting up posters with the BearSMP's coordinates.

Aimsey plans to give something to Bear, and grabs him some "Honey" (Fire Resistance Potion). Bear thanks Aimsey, and drinks all of it. Aimsey shows Bear her remodel of her house.

(Aimsey's Sheep were missing, and one was on top of Guqqie's house.)

Aimsey asks Bear if he has any coffee beans.

Bear was unaware that Aimsey had built a cafe. Aimsey was upset to hear this, because she thought that everyone used the cafe. Bear apologised for being busy.

He says that he thinks it is sweet that she built a cafe for the new people that will come after the posters they put up. Aimsey tells him that she built it when Jonah and Neptune arrived, and Bear is surprised it had been there for that long. Aimsey tells Bear they will gather more things for it and says goodbye to Bear.

She feels awful because she is not as shifty as Neptune and not as good a builder as Jonah. She feels like she is useless and nobody cares about her. Aimsey wonders why they stay in the SMP when nobody cares, and says "I think it's time."

> Bill4_: bearSMP maybe just a little bit of lore

Bill walks around the SMP and says that he dislikes all the grass and overgrowth. He says that his casino has been ruined by foliage. He goes to Bear's house and knocks. He notices that Bear is in the community centre.

Bill asks about the SMP rules, and Bear tells him that the SMP's only rule at the moment is not to mess around and any new ones need to be discussed with everyone. Bill asks about jobs, and Bear comments on the fact he scams and steals.

Bear stops him, and asks him what he wants. Bill tells Bear he needs to take care of the SMP because it has become a bit of a 'sh*thole'.

Bear tells Bill that the SMP needs more people to hold an infrastructure and nobody 'owns' the SMP so everyone works together to work and live in harmony. Bear says that he wants to give new people a go to see how things work out.

Bill is a bit frustrated that nobody is in charge, and says that they were Bear's words, not his.

TRIGGER WARNING: DEREALIZATION AND DEATH MENTIONS/THEMES

Guqqie walks to the hole where she crash landed. She looks around it, then walks back to the SMP and looks at her house. She then walks to a monument for Nugget upon the mountain, and places a lantern on it. Bear says Guqqie's name, and asks if they blame themself. They deflect the question, and Bear asks if they blame themself again. She says not for Nugget. He says no, and Bear says not just for Nugget, for why they are here. Guqqie says no because it was out of her hands. Bear asks if she is sure, and she is sure she did everything she is supposed to. Guqqie believes that it was all an accident, and Bear asks about their hometown. Guqqie is trying to convince herself that her family are looking for her. Bear asks if Guqqie is alone, she takes a step back and they are both back in Big Wheat. Bear asks where her family and friends are. Guqqie says they must have sent her there, and they will find her and help her. Bear asks if she is sure. Guqqie is sure that everything is out of her hands and the things that have happened were not her fault.

Bear asks if she has friends. Guqqie says yes, although she doesn't need friends because she is not staying here.

Bear tells Guqqie she has no friends. Her family is not waiting, or trying to find her. Nugget is gone.

Guqqie tells Bear that they know she is alive. Bear agrees, but says the main question is whether they want to pick them up.

Bear says "Guqqie, you are alone." Guqqie says no, and they repeat this multiple times. Bear says it again, emphasising each word.

Guqqie is back at the hole. She looks down to see herself. She calls for Bear, but realises he is gone. They take a step forward. They are on top of her tower. The clone of her is telling her that nobody cares. Nobody will come to help her. She is alone. The Guqqie clone says "You know what you have to do. You have to let go." and jumps off the side of the tower. It cuts to a black screen.

> CreeperNeptune: bearsmp thing?
> Bill4_: bearSMP LORE STREAM "planting the seeds"

Neptune and Bill meet by Nep's barn. They go to his wheat farm, and begin to mine all of the wheat.

Bill asks Neptune if he remembers the SMP when he arrived, and that he commented on the overgrowth and state of it. They head up to Bill's 'gaff', and Bill tells Neptune that nobody owns the SMP and that's why the SMP isn't working out. Bill says that because of this, he should be the leader. He says that Neptune will help him. Neptune is unsure about it, but agrees to follow along.

Bill tells Neptune that his trenchcoat plans were good. [Basically, Neptune was sent to get leather to create a trenchcoat business. It is a reference to 'trenchcoattwt', a subtwt within the BearSMP community!]

Bill has the idea to create uniforms, and especially ones to humiliate them. Neptune again is hesitant, and Bill tells him that they will comply.

Bill tells Neptune that the SMP needs stricter rules so they learn who is in charge. Bill tells Neptune that he is his right hand man, and his input about policies within the SMP.

Neptune suggests that the members of the SMP have to gain something in order to work for them. He tells Bill that people won't want to work with them if there is no benefit on their end, so his idea is to provide them with good things in order to make them work.

Bill comments on Neptune's outfit, and how the purple and turquoise won't work if they are a thing (but not a thing but he is helping him with a thing, they are a thing without being a thing. they're friends.)

Neptune is concerned that Bill has so much planning on the uniforms, and Bill puts it on to model. His first uniform consists of a dark grey suit, and a red tie. Neptune doesn't like this one, and he thinks something bad has happened to someone that had worn that before.

Second uniform is white and grey, with a blue sash. Neptune thinks this one is too British.

The third uniform is black and grey, with a medallion. Neptune thinks this uniform is cool, but a bit old school.

The final uniform is the same outfit in DreamSMP lore of the L'Manburg days. Neptune and Bill both believe there is something familiar about these outfits, but just can't put their fingers on it.

[All these outfits have screenshots on bearsmpupdates on twitter]

After, they talk about the casino, and opening it up. They plan to open it, and have a big after party.

Neptune is glad that Bill is getting his help on his strange ideas. He thinks all his outfits were odd. He says that he will try his best to help Bill.

Neptune thinks that Bill's image isn't the best image to have as he isn't known to be nice.

Bill asks Neptune if he thinks Bear's idea that everyone is incharge is stupid. They place posters around, and even place them on Bear's front door.

Neptune admits that Bill is hard to trust, although they're friends. Neptune wants Bill to get power so he can also get power.

DISCONTINUING THE DETAILED RECAPS UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE. THE SHORTER RECAPS WILL STILL BE MADE THOUGH!
