CHAPTER0
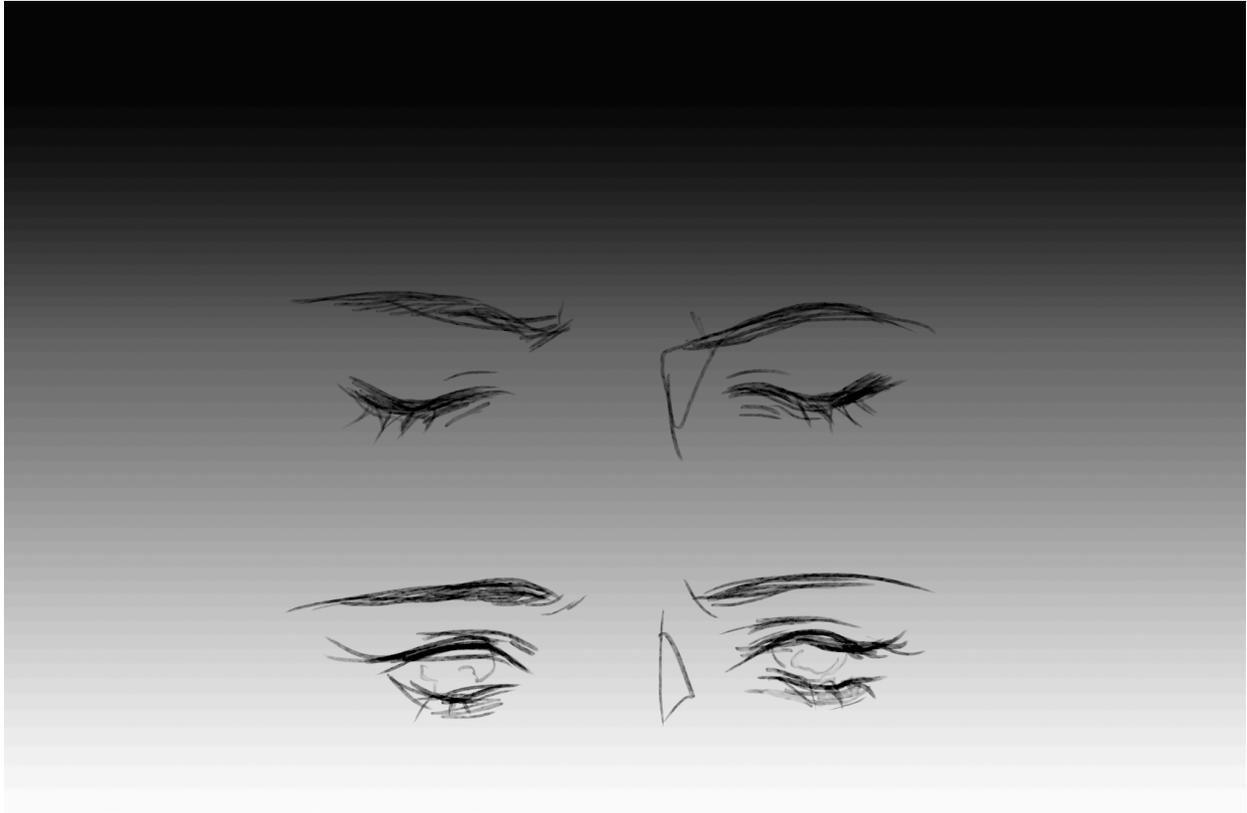

The light that shone onto your face was blinding bright.

Face scrunching up, your drifting consciousness was slightly recalled despite the fatigue that weighed down your heavy eyelids. It was simply impossible to continue sleeping when such a bright light hovered incessantly over your face, as if it was screaming—beseeching you to wake up.

Wait, wake up?

"Ah, you're all awake!" The young man with the fluffy, curly hair in a low ponytail chirped happily. "Welcome back to the land of the living!~"

Although the air was practically charged with tension, neither the fluffy smiling young man (were those sparkling flowers floating near his face?!) or the emotionless man with the rabbit ears seemed to notice or care. However, before someone could react and start yelling, the fluffy man spoke up again.

"Oh, by the way, all of you guys died, but that's alright! The afterlife isn't that bad, you guys just have to go back to school, teehee!"

Teehee? Teehee?

A pregnant pause, and then complete pandemonium broke out.

For this event, you must first register a tupperbot for your character. Instructions on how to do so can be found in the pinned notes of the #bot channel. Please register your OC in the #bot channel, and if you have any questions, ping a mod in the #questions-suggestions!

Next, please write up or draw the reaction of your character to waking up in the infirmary. You can post it in-character with the tupperbot in the infirmary channel and/or post it to the gallery (very recommended!), or just save it to sta.sh and show it to a mod to get those gems.

Everyone who completes this event will receive an awesome 1.5x bonus of gems! So if you would normally earn 100 gems for your piece, you will earn 150 instead!
