Semester Course Exam Exemptions (only applicable to semester long courses)

Students in grades 11-12 who meet the criteria listed below may earn the opportunity to be exempt from one or more final exams for semester-long courses. Students may earn semester exemptions by achieving strong course grades and good attendance.

Final Exam Definition: A final exam is defined as the cumulative assessment for a semester course (at the end of the semester for .5 credit) and for a year-long course (at the end of the year for 1.0 credit courses).

Attendance: Attendance is considered individually for each course. An exemption from finals can be earned for each course taken. NOTE: Student must be present during the time of the exam, regardless of exemption status. Students may not take exams early and may not "sign-in and leave". The decision to take an exemption(s) is up to each student. Individual students must maintain the following:

For Semester Courses:

Course grade of 90 or better and no more than 2 absences during the course OR

Course grade of 80 or better and no more than 1 absences during the course.

NOTE: CCMR guidelines are only for End Of Year Exams
