Terms of Use (End User License Agreement)

Last Updated: September 1, 2026

By using Routly you agree to this End User License Agreement (EULA).

1. License

We grant you a personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use Routly on iOS devices you own or control, solely to keep local travel folders, photos, moments, and postcards on device.

2. Service description

Routly is an offline travel folio. You create journey folders, import photographs you choose, add short moment notes with optional voice notes, mark picks, and lay out revisitable postcards. There is no account, no cloud sync, no public feed, and no in-app store.

3. Your responsibility

You are responsible for the photographs, text, and voice notes you add. Only import media you have the right to keep on this iPhone. Do not use Routly to store unlawful material.

4. Intellectual property

The app’s design, layout language, and code remain ours. Your photographs, notes, and voice notes remain yours.

5. Prohibited conduct

You may not reverse engineer the app for unlawful purposes, misrepresent Routly as a social network, attempt to upload the local sandbox to a service Routly does not provide, or interfere with the normal operation of the app.

6. No public community

Routly does not offer stranger browsing, comments, likes, follows, messaging, or a public work stream.

7. Face data

Routly does not collect face data and does not run face recognition or face detection. Photos are kept only as ordinary local images you choose.

8. Disclaimer

Routly is provided as-is. Travel memories are stored on this device; a lost phone, a restored device without a backup you control, or a deleted sandbox cannot be recovered by us. We are not liable for lost files, missed trips, or content you choose to delete.

9. Termination

You may stop using the app at any time by deleting it. We may refuse support if this EULA is abused.

10. Purchases

Routly does not sell coins, subscriptions, unlocks, or other in-app purchases. The full folio is free.

11. Changes

Updated terms may appear in the app with a new date. Continued use after an update means you accept the revised EULA.
