

SL: Twitter Activity

Greetings

I've noticed you haven't posted to your Twitter (now known as X) account since last year.

With a dream to become the international brand for international beauty, I'm curious as to why you don't use the platform?

Your X account could expand your digital outreach to become even more of a global name for beauty world-wide with millions of users from all over the world such as Japan having 67.9 million users alone!

Your make-up brand has a pretty well put together website, I would like to help put together your X account to make this come true, here are some example tweets you can see (link)

If you need a ghostwriter, for $500 a month I'll tweet daily on your account.