Introduction

This chapter covers the background of the problems, objectives and benefits of the research, and theoretical reviews. The background of study should describe the knowledge gap, so it requires answers or explanations. Objectives and formulation of the problems are not presented in formal questions, but presented in a narrative by using effective sentences. Theoretical framework provides exposure to theories that are relevant to the issues, and at the same time guides and supports understanding and answers the research problem.

A detailed description of your methods in doing the research is not necessary to write down in this section, but if you think you have to do so, you may mention it slightly in few sentences.

The First Aspect of the Discussion

Here you may discuss every aspect of the issue one by one. It is necessary to build argument and to provide original data discussed and compared to research and works of other scholars. In other words, the way to discuss an issue here is by combining the data and the discussion. So, it is not recommended to separate merely data description from the analysis on it.

The Second Aspect of the Discussion

Third Aspect of the Discussion, and so on

.....

Conclusion

Please provide here your remarks as closing statement. It could be a final conclusion from your discussion and analysis and your recommendations for further research project. In this section as well you may give your acknowledgment for people and parties whose supports make your research possible.
