

I've found a lot of healthy ways to detach.
So it's like I'll read a script and I'll get into it and then once I'm off stage,
I'm like okay, back to being human me.
I've spent a lot of time, going to therapy,
I've spent a lot of time, I'm doing a lot of ballet.
So I'm making sure that human Tiffany has a lot of time to herself and then being on stage, I'll make sure I'll have that much time off stage.
So I think there's a good balance, like that I know how to detach from it a lot faster.
And I think once you take in everything as like a performance and a job.
And that the emotional and spiritual aspect is there to build like personally,
I think I've been compartmentalizing a lot better.

I mean it looks quite different, because all of her Josh Hutcherson wallpaper has been removed.
That was kind of the first step of her moving process i mean, you guys kind of saw her vibe from living here, she literally said
"I can't live like this anymore." understandable.
And I think living with your siblings is really hard and eventually you have to split ways one way or another.
So I'm really going to miss her.
I think online our apartment looks like, way more massive than it is.
because I use wide angle cameras,
i only show certain angles of our apartment
but in reality, like, it's pretty tight and especially like I said.
When there's three people living here four people because my boyfriend also lives with me as well you guys know Kelly

I've been working as a software engineer for exactly 3 months now. For the past 3 months, I've had this entirely new routine, this new life.

I haven't worked a corporate software engineering job in over 3 years. I took a bit of a break to focus on YouTube. This is actually one of the very first videos I made on this channel. Today I want to take you guys on a day in the life of a software engineer. Welcome back to the channel.

I usually wake up at 9:00 a.m and for the first three months of working at this company, I mostly work from home. I was hired officially as a hybrid employee where they said I have to come into the office twice a week. And the rest of the week, the other three times, I can work from home.

And I really was loving that setup, but I think I celebrated too soon because last week they announced an official RTO, meaning return to office. Me and everyone in my team now have to go in four times a week. And yeah that was quite the announcement.

I think I had just been so used to working from home. So the idea of going in four times a week, yeah honestly I didn't expect it. I thought I would be hybrid, but I have been going into the office for about a week now. And it's actually not as bad as I thought it would be.

Another effect from returning to the office is that when I get home, I feel like I'm truly clocked out for the day. And since I still do work related to social media. It makes it really easy for me to divide my time. So when I get home. I usually just log on to my other computer. And start like my second shift.

When I was working as a developer from 2019 to 2021. I really crave to do something artistic to make videos. And that's when I made the leap to do that. So then starting 2022. I started working this new job as a creator. But that whole time I was doing that. I was still craving to code to build something to exercise like the technical. And problem solving part of my brain.

And that's why my career since graduating college bounced around so much. It was never so much about not being able to commit. I'm drawn to do work in two separate parts of my brain. It's like left brain, right brain. I realized that I'm happier when I have work that requires me to be technical. But also work that requires me to be creative. It's the first time in my life where I'm doing these two things at like a respectable level. pen to the BTSP we just hit our one year, so we're I don't know, we're just still figuring stuff out.

So the American Express black card is by far the most exclusive credit card reserved for only the highest spending wealthiest people on the planet. With a $10,000 Initiation fee and a $5,000 annual fee. It definitely comes at a pretty hefty price.

For what you pay though a lot of card holders actually justify keeping this card from the insane luxury benefits you get, like having your own personal concierge line where you can make reservations and get exclusive access to service unlike anything else.

Now in this video here we're going to be taking a closer look at what you can do to get an AMEX Centurion card. We'll go into more details on the rest of the benefits that this card has and we'll be sharing with you a new update to new insights and data points. To see what people are now having to do in order to even get invited.

Tongue Twisters

She sells seashells by the seashore.

A big black bug bit a big black bear.

Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers.

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream.

She sells seashells by the seashore,

and the shells she sells are seashells, I'm sure.

Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers.

A peck of pickled peppers Peter Piper picked.

If Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers, where's the peck of pickled peppers Peter Piper picked?

Betty Botter bought a bit of butter,

but the butter Betty bought was bitter,

so Betty bought a better butter,
and the better butter Betty bought was better than the bitter butter Betty bought before.

Storytelling Practice

Yesterday, I realized that my new boyfriend David is a known criminal. I was worried I might get in trouble myself, so I called the police.

The thing is, it's not safe to be out by yourself on a Friday night. You're still a child, so you'll just have to follow my rules.

They say garlic is supposed to be good for your bones, but I'm not sure if that's been proven by scientists.

If your ankle is hurt or broken, it might be swollen. That means it's larger than normal.

My grandparents were immigrants from France. When they first came to the US, they couldn't speak a word of English.

So, why is cabbage so disgusting? They say that it's supposed to be good for you, but to me, it smells and tastes like old socks!

I heard that after you get the vaccine, the muscle in your arm might be sore for a while.

So, how did your summer travels go, Kevin? Did you have fun in California? Are you happy to be home, or do you miss the US already?

Last year, I visited a strange old woman who told me my future. People told me it was silly, but everything she said has come true!

I wish I'd gotten a big role in the class play, like the brave prince. Instead, I'm a donkey! Oh well, my talent will be discovered one day.

Yesterday, I heard my neighbor scream, so I ran to his house to see what happened. I saw him dancing around with a winning lottery ticket!

Winter sports season is here! Time to check our equipment and make sure it's ready for all the fun and adventure. Where are my skis?

The houses on this street are brand new. They were finished last year. The land used to belong to a hotel, but it was sold a few years ago.

This kitchen only has space for two appliances. Having a fridge is essential, so I'd have to choose between an oven and a washing machine.

I always feel better after a good workout at the gym. My body feels relaxed and my mind feels calm. It's a great way to stay healthy!

Before the robbery, the three men met secretly in a parking garage. Then they put on masks and broke into the bank. Now they're hiding!

If someone is childish, they do things in an annoying or silly way that makes them seem like a child.

David will begin work shortly after he signs his new contract. It's his first job after college, and he's really excited!

I'm getting a bit concerned. Tom keeps texting someone, but he won't say who it is. I get the feeling he might be talking to another woman!

Amy, I understand why you got emotional and lost your temper. Kevin shouldn't be keeping secrets. He should tell you who he's texting!
