

Somersby Play Sheet

Cast

Richard Gere	Jack Sommersby
Jodie Foster	Laurel Somersby
Bill Pullman	Orin Meacham
James Earl Jones	Judge Barry Conrad Issacs

How does the theme of identity play a role in Jack Somersby's journey? Do you think his transformation is a form of redemption?

Do you see expressions of both relative and absolute Truth in this movie?

How does the community's reaction to Jack's return reflect forgiveness and grace? Are there moments where these themes are particularly evident?

How does the film handle the tension between truth and deception?

What spiritual lessons can be drawn from Jack's decision to assume another man's identity?

What do you feel is the ultimate teaching of this movie?

What scene speaks to you most and why?

Do you have any favorite quotes?

