Julie: By a vote of seven to five.....Pink, you have been evicted from the Big Brother house.

Maleficent's eyes grow wide.

Maleficent: I'm in a house full of idiots!

DR-MALEFICENT: How can I be surrounded by such insolence? The only way for me to get my way is to win Head of Household.

Aurora shows relief as a hand lays on her chest

DR-AURORA: I really am lucky to have survived this eviction, I just need to make sure it doesn't go in vain.

J has a very coy smile on his face as they head to the backyard

DR-J: Honestly, I'm living for the chaos this is probably going to cause- no matter what I am going to be safe.

Zelda makes a loud groan of frustration as she is trudging to the backdoor

DR-ZELDA: I'm oh and two for getting what I want in eviction yet two for two in causing it. Something's not right here...

Paul has a wide smile on his face, even as he walks past numerous houseguests

DR-PAUL: Now that is what I call a very successful eviction! Now to get the rest of the uncool people outta here camera cuts to...

Amy and Balto are the only ones left in their dirty tubs. Eventually a layer of chocolate is tossed in, however, almost immediately, Balto jumps out of his tub

DR-BALTO: Don't they know that chocolate and dogs don't mix?

Julie: Congratulations, Amy, you are the new Head of Household!

Amy jumps out of her tub with a victorious scream. She goes up and down with excitement all the while crying.

DR-AMY: Oh god YES YES YES YES! Pink when you watch this, just know that this is for ya!

Everybody starts to head inside, but we can see a majority of the faces seeming unenthused. J and Mai are heading inside when Maleficent stops in their way.

Maleficent: Make no mistake, you two will get what's coming to you

Mai: Whatever are you talking about?

Maleficent: You know what it is I am talking about

J: I have no idea, girl

Mai: rolls eyes Good luck getting us nominated and out of the house. bumps past Maleficent who looks like she is about murder her until Balto walks by Balto: Don't let them get to you. Not worth it.

Maleficent looks as if she is about to scold him yet holds her tongue and continues inside.

DR-MAI: It doesn't really matter to me if Maleficent thinks we did it or not because she isn't dumb. Now it's just a matter of making sure Amy isn't dumb enough to nominate me.

DR-BALTO: At first, I felt like things were not looking good for us, but now I have some hope that this week can work out for us.

Getting inside, Peach approaches a very irritated Zelda.

Peach: Let me guess, you didn't vote Pink out?

Zelda: Because you were all anti-backstab for Aurora and I was tired of it!

Peach: Well, congratulations, you're the reason why Pink isn't here anymore.

Zelda: it's not my fault!

Peach: Then whose fault is it?

Zelda: All of the other people who saved her, I don't know! grunts

Peach: Whatever, at least Amy won and we're safe, but you need to fess up to her before it's too late

Zelda: Are we?

Peach: Of course we are, she has zero reason to nominate us

Zelda: Wouldn't put it past her....

Peach's eyes diverge off to the side and her mouth shuts up.

Zelda: What is it? Is there spinach in my teeth? starts to check

Amy clears her throat, causing Zelda to turn around

Zelda: Oh, hey Amy....

Amy: Hi...

Zelda: So, about Pink....

Amy: it's fine, really! I guess she would have just dragged us down anyways, right? nervous laugh

Zelda: Still, I'm sorry

Amy: Well, let's just focus on the bigger issue here! We have a lot of work to do, so let's rest up!

Peach: Oh my gosh we do?

Amy: Yes! Now get some sleep because we're going to need it ladies!!

The trio eventually branch off from each other before filing towards the showers.

DR-PEACH: I was happy, then sad, now i'm happy again! And it's only been thirty-three minutes, my gosh! Well, this game knows how to really put you to work..usually Mario is the one doing that.

DR-ZELDA: See? I even vote in the minority and I'm untouchable? laughs uncontrollably I look forward to seeing how the week goes for me now.

DR-AMY: I know that Pink was close to surviving, and that Zelda should have kept her, so if none of my options work out, there is always my backdooring her bats eyelashes but let's just hope that doesn't happen!

Later that night, Chun-Li, Charlie, and Stephen are in the living room on the couches.

Chun-Li: So, what happened? I want the truth and nothing but the truth?

Stephen: Are you sure about that?

Chun-Li: beat So you voted against my wishes I take it looks between Charlie and Stephen both of you.

Charlie: That's one way to look at it.

Chun-Li: Give me one good reason why I should not cease this conversation right now.

Stephen: We weakened our game opponent in the long run by taking out an ally of hers.

Chun-Li: She's the reason Pink was nominated to begin with.

Stephen: Don't mistake self-preservation for treachery.

Chun-Li cuts her eyes.

Charlie: What he means to say is that those two were probably going to be loyal to each other and just think- Amy won which means having Pink here would have just increased our odds of being nominated if you look at it from a math perspective, er right Stephen?

Stephen: Yes.

Chun-Li seems to have a deep ponder about her until she eventually nods.

Chun-Li: I understand, just be sure to inform me of your last minute decisions when you can.

Charlie: You sure you aren't mad?

Chun-Li: Of course I am, but there is nothing I can do about it other than hope you two don't do it again. So are we done here?

Stephen: That we are.

DR-CHARLIE: I feel like this could have gone a lot worse, but that went rather well. Now Balto will probably be alright with how laid back he is so we have nothing to really worry about

DR-STEPHEN: She's going to be a problem later down the road, but for now, she is in the clear

DR-CHUN-LI: Both of them are going to be a problem for my game, but I need to stick with them for the time being and keep a close eye on them both.

Even later, Michael is talking with Balto about the current house standings

Michael: So, Big Bad Wolferoo, I guess we should call it in because Houston, we have a problem.

Balto: What?

Michael: That eviction vote didn't go good for us

Balto: after weirded look goes away Right, well, you can thank your allies for that.

Michael: Huh? What do you mean my allies?

Balto: Stephen and Charlie. They flipped on us

Michael: shocked face No way. Well, at least we know one of them can't run away too far ahead from us right? laugh

Balto: right. Listen, Michael, I've been thinking and I was wondering if you might consider the possibility of sticking with Chun-Li and I?

Michael: As in, working closer with you guys than Stephen and Charlie? I dunno, those guys have had my back since day one. We go back like old men. Like grandpas....mysterious look Balto: Why are you looking at me like that?

Michael: Like what? look intensifies

Balto: Like....that

Michael squints for almost too long and then stops

Michael: I'm just kidding, but uh, we can totally see. I mean, you guys have been pretty loyal to me and I don't have any reason to turn on you guys yet unless you're conspiring against me.

Balto: Which we aren't.

Michael: Uh huh...i'll keep you posted then.

DR-MICHAEL: So, the guys apparently didn't vote with us or stick to the plan. Man, you guys are really letting Mr. Rogers down here...that's alright though. I hope I don't have to turn on them too soon

DR-BALTO: Now is not a good time for me to actually go against these guys, but it doesn't hurt to try and plant seeds of doubt, right?

Early the next morning, Aurora and Tyrion are in the kitchen while the other houseguests are asleep.

Aurora: I just wanted to thank you again for keeping me. I know that it must be a hassle trying to save me.

Tyrion: It's no real hassle when you also put effort in saving yourself. Besides, between you and me, I'm just not a fan of trains the color pink.

Aurora smiles.

Tyrion: For what it is worth, I don't think it is hurting my game all too much to be helping you

Aurora: Even while everyone wants me out?

Tyrion: I wouldn't say that because you're still here. You know, fear can be a strong motivator, but so can hope. In fact, that's the only thing that can outlast it.

Aurora: And you think that I have it.

Tyrion: Think? Heaven's no. The only things I think about are wine and the occasional visit to a broth-er.

Aurora: A brother?

Tyrion: Precisely. My family has very complicated, you see, but that is for another time.

Aurora: Right, well, I think I know who all voted with us at least.

Tyrion: Do tell. pours self a glass of milk

Aurora: Well, there's you and Paul...Mai and J, even if they like to act like they don't...and....

Tyrion: I guess that's that.

Aurora: It's hard to tell where a lot of people lie.

Tyrion: Well, leave that to me. In the meantime, I'd say it would be wise to forge some bridges and man the walls because things will be getting rather tense.

Aurora stares at Tyrion apprehensively.

DR-AURORA: The problem with all of this is that I can't quite figure out all of the people who saved me. But as long as I know a majority of them, I have somewhere to work. Something is better than nothing, after all.

DR-TYRION: It would seem I need to have a nice talk with a few people in this house. Whether or not it lands me into the hot set is up for debate, but I'm confident in my ability to go unscathed for now.

In the late morning, Amy calls Balto and Chun-Li upstairs where Zelda and Peach are as well.

Chun-Li: To what do we owe the favor to?

Amy: twirling a hammer in her hand leisurely You know, I've been doing some real thinking and I've decided that we need to change this game up a little, don't you think?

Chun-Li: No.

Balto: Um...

Chun-Li: it's pretty simple actually

Peach: Just wait til you hear her idea!

Zelda: It's good, don't worry.

Chun-Li: sighs Enlighten me.

Amy: Well, Maleficent and Aurora hate each other, so they have a feud. Why not go after the people nobody is going after- like Charlie. Who is he? Or what about that creep, Paul? Or even Tyrion or Mai?

Balto: Well, that's actually not a bad idea. They are the ones who are in the middle of everything so it could help to target one of them.

Zelda: Exactly! We keep the feud alive and all sit well!

Chun-Li: All?

Zelda: Of course! If you or him wins HoH, we would hope you don't nominate us.

Chun-Li and Balto exchange glances.

Chun-Li: Well, alright, however, I do not feel this is a safe plan.

Amy: pouts Why not?

Chun-Li: Once the focus goes on them, it will allow this feud to fade into the background. And neither of them can win a competition to save their life, believe me- I know.

Peach: Then we can nominate them whenever!

Zelda: turning harshly to them Can't you see it, lady?! There are people playing sides!

Chun-Li: Tone yourself before I do it for you.

Zelda gasps.

Amy: Zelda, shut up! Go eat a cookie or something. pays attention to Chun-Li I wouldn't worry about that, but really, we should try to focus on these guys- the real nobodies of this game.

Balto: If that is what you guys feel you want to do, you have our support. Right, Chun-Li?

Chun-Li: I don't think it's smart, but if it is what you want, then I am willing to abide by it.

Peach: Yay!! Don't tell anyone about this though! We need it to be a secret!

Balto: Whatever you guys prefer.

Soon, Balto and Chun-Li leave the HoH room.

DR-CHUN-LI: These girls are getting drunk with power and it could ruin everything, but I don't have much of a choice in this matter it seems.

DR-PEACH: This is so fun to be out of the hot seat! Besides, we also get to keep Aurora in!

DR-ZELDA: Buckle up, kiddies, because this week is going to be a bumpy ride.

DR-BALTO: Hm, well, could be worse, but as long as it isn't me or Chun-Li, there's nothing to worry about.

DR-AMY: I don't like how Chun-Li didn't like my plan, but that's okay because clearly I'm capable of actually getting my targets out. Hmph.

J, Mai, Paul, and Aurora are sitting alone in the Lounge Room.

Aurora: you guys don't plan on running away from me again are you?

J: honey, we all make mistakes in life.

Mai: More like be grateful that we kept you to begin with. If we didn't you wouldn't be here.

Aurora: folds her arms over her chest So what do you want? I don't have a lot to offer.

Mai looks to Paul.

Paul: Well, as of now, the cat's out of the bag as far as them keeping you, so...

Aurora: Oh, I see. Now that people know you kept me, you don't want to hide of actually being near me. beat I understand.

J: You do?

Aurora: Of course I do. I am a pariah after all.

J: How do you even know that word?

Aurora: You learn a lot of things when you're royalty.

Mai: Well, now that that's out of the way...we need you to go upstairs and somehow convince Amy to not nominate us.

Aurora: You can't plead your case to the HoH?

J: If we all went up there, it would give her more reason to after us.

Paul: Besides, it would show that you're willing to work with them still even if they did vote against you.

Aurora: Well, that's more of a me problem than a them problem. It seems pretty risky.

Paul: Just think- everything's going to be cool and groovy if you guys can work out your girl problems.

Aurora and Mai send him a look.

Paul: I didn't mean it like that!

Aurora: I'll...see what I can do I guess.

DR-MAI: Worst case scenario, Goldielocks becomes a target again but better her than me.

DR-J: This is working out a lot better than I expected it to. Even if this backfires, I don't see how it backfires on me. fixes hair It's so ironic since i'm the one getting all of the beauty sleep around here.

DR-PAUL: I have hope in this group! If we can make it out of this week then we can have some smooth sailing for a little bit

Tyrion is with Stephen, Charlie, and Michael outside at the pool table.

Tyrion: So, is this where we make play pool and make game analogies of it?

Michael: The only pool I'd be interested in us doing is the one right over there but Cruella Devil is over there pause And Stephen can't swim.

Stephen: Actually-

Michael: Wait really? Whoa, I would be interested in checking that out.

Stephen: Nevermind glances to Tyrion So, you feel like you can help us more?

Tyrion: Well, maybe more of a mutual beneficial act sort of thing.

Charlie: Well, I'd say we're in a decent position for the most part. I don't see us getting nominated.

Tyrion: And why is that? I don't assume all of you voted together.

Charlie: Amy just seems very hellbent on targeting certain people.

Tyrion: I see, well, am I included with these certain people?

Michael: Don't be silly, Tyrion, we wouldn't know the answer to that unless we went to the HoH room again.

Tyrion: Again.

Stephen: He's referring to when we were pleading to not be nominated earlier.

Tyrion: Hm, I guess. You know, you are free to choose the people you want to align with.

Stephen: We are well aware of such a thing.

Charlie: Exactly. The fact of the matter is that they're all too occupied to go for each other than to go for us which is going to help in the long run.

Tyrion: Well, you must now be including me in this us, otherwise we wouldn't be having this discussion, now would we?

Michael: Yeah, you can be the new Mr. Rogers- you fit the bill perfectly- you wear old clothing and you're, well, old.

Tyrion: If you'll excuse me, I must go ask for an anti-aging potion. stares There's certainly no youth-spouting fountains over here. walks away

Charlie: Michael, could you be anymore obvious?

Michael: That I like him? Sure, he seems like a good guy and i'm sure he thinks the same about us.

Stephen sighs.

DR-STEPHEN: I don't think I will ever forgive myself for aligning with Michael.

DR-CHARLIE: The only good thing about Michael is that he always says what's on his mind...which is also the worst thing about him.

DR-MICHAEL: Wow, I am thrilled to be reviving Grandpas- this is like that time I tried to jet ski with floats on, except, I won't crash into any water any time soon.

Soon, we see Tyrion outside near patio talking to Maleficent.

Maleficent: How do I know I can trust you?

Tyrion: sarcastic tone You don't, but I am sure you will with your heart's content

Maleficent: Well...

Tyrion: So, should I expect to get nominated?

Maleficent: What makes you think I would know that?

Tyrion: Amy and Pink were allies and you clearly voted with her. She has no incentive to nominate you other than to help the person she tried to get out.

Maleficent: By that logic, I'm allied with everyone who voted with me.

Tyrion: mumble I wouldn't put it past you

Maleficent: What was that you said?

Tyrion: Nothing of much concern.

Maleficent: sighs I suppose I can see what I can do, but with my luck, I'll be better off asking her not to nominate Aurora just to keep the target on her back

Tyrion: chuckle As if you would be capable of such a thing.

Maleficent: Don't undermine my ability to get my way.

Tyrion: Forgive me, your highness. I suppose I better let you to it then.

Maleficent: I suppose you should.

DR-MALEFICENT: I'll wait til after the nominations ceremony to talk. I'm in no rush to put myself out on the line when I could still find myself on the wrong end of a hook.

Later, Aurora goes to visit Amy, Peach, and Zelda in the HoH Room. After some reluctance, they let her in.

Aurora: I hope I am not bothering anyone

Zelda: Not yet...

Peach: Oh, this is so cute!

Aurora: Yeah...

Amy: I was wondering when you would get here. Come to apologize?

Aurora: Apologize?

Amy: Yes, last we talked you stormed off mad at us.

Aurora: That was because of how you guys were being. It was...a mess, but a forgettable one.

eventually smiles I'm sorry.

Amy: Aw, apology accepted!

Zelda: Wootie toodle do da

Aurora: So, I was wondering what you guys might be doing for the week?

Amy: Well, I know some of the people who voted you, but I like them. So I will probably go for someone in the middle that people aren't paying attention to.

Aurora: So someone like J or Tyrion or Paul?

Amy: Exactly!

Peach: Snakes are not good and that's exactly what they are!

Zelda: Hiss, hiss. I mean who do they think they are trying to play sides!

Aurora: I don't think it's that simple.

Amy: What do you mean? Of course it is!

Aurora: I mean, maybe there's something going on that we are missing? I mean, for the past two weeks our group has been voted on by these said snakes yet nominated by threats

Peach: Yeah, but we're still here, see?

Amy: Most of us

Peach: Okay, but we had to lose somebody along the way.

Zelda: Yeah, well, we're going to go for the middle, do you have a problem with that?

All three look at Aurora who eventually shakes her head.

Aurora: No, of course not. You have my full support if you guys need it.

Peach jumps up and down, clapping her hands together.

Amy: I think you'll come to appreciate how things were soon!

Aurora: I'm sure that I most definitely will.

Soon, Aurora leaves, allowing the three girls to continue to talk among themselves about how to put up. There appears to be an unsettlement going on that causes an argument with Amy putting her foot down.

DR-AMY: These guys shall see that when you're the HoH, you can do whatever you want and get away with it and if you think you can pull a fast one on me, you're mistaken!

Soon, everybody is waiting around the table in the kitchen as Amy comes down with the key table. She sets it down and smiles at everybody.

Amy: Hi guys, so I'm going to pull the first key and that person is safe. They will pull the next key and that person is safe. This process will repeat until there are no more keys left! Good luck, ha!

Chun-Li's eyes widen, but the remainder of her face does not move. Meanwhile, Aurora expresses a disappointed expression. .

Amy: So here's the deal, I wanted to target some of the people playing the middle, but when I brought it up, neither of you seemed so thrilled about it and I can't be bothered trying to target people when the real threats are the ones who question the things I do. Good luck!

Chun-Li watches Amy like a hawk as she, Peach, and Zelda all scurry up to the HoH Room.
DR-CHUN-LI: Mark my words. I'm winning that POV, and when I win HoH next week, Amy is going to surely regret trying to cross me.

Aurora is shaking her head as she wipes away at her cheeks

DR-AURORA: I can't tell what I'm doing wrong anymore. I have a vendetta in the house, but somehow survived. I get nominated by enemies and barely survive, and I now I try to make good with old allies and get nominated. I knew it was going to be a hard game but not this hard...

Following this, Maleficent goes to talk to J and Mai.

Mai: What do you want? Come to threaten us some more about being nominees?

Maleficent: Heavens no, there are plenty of other people I would prefer being out over the two of you

J: Oh really? So you aren't holding a grudge against the people who didn't do what you asked them to? Color me shocked.

Maleficent: Now, now, reputations don't always proceed a person.

Mai: I repeat, what do you want?

Maleficent smirks.

Maleficent: I was curious to know if perhaps you would be willing to let bygones be bygones.

Mai: As in we start out fresh?

Maleficent: Precisely.

Mai and J look at each other.

Maleficent: Think about it and get back to me about it.

J: What makes you so sure we'll be back?

Maleficent: Believe me, you will, my dear. walks off

Mai: She's not getting any less creepier

J: Tell me about it- and her wardrobe? I've seen roadkill wear better attire.

The duo then continue on towards their room.

DR-MAI: I don't know how I feel about that witch talking to us, but I'm not going to completely shut out anything she says. For now.

At the same time, Balto meets with Chun-Li, Charlie, Stephen, and Michael.

Balto: So it seems we somehow have taken a step back.

Michael: Step back? Looks to me like we're making progress!

Chun-Li: Me being nominate equates to progress? How so?

Michael: Well, just think, once twinkletoes is out of here, we're going to need a new group to target and we just found them right?

Charlie: That has to be one of the most- pauses that's actually not a bad idea.

Stephen: I'm surprised.

Balto: Well, we'll have to make sure Chun-Li is safe before we celebrate this milestone I guess...

Chun-Li: Do not worry, I'm winning the POV.

Balto: Okay, but just in case we-

Chun-Li: more sternly I'm winning the veto. beat trust me, there is no competition for me. If anything, we should be making those little girls cower.

Stephen: The rest of us would still be eligible to be backdoored...or are you forgetting the rest of us exist?

Chun-Li: Not at all. I suppose I don't anticipate them being that illogical. Then again, they did nominate me.

Balto: Well, then how about we just wait and see where that goes, yeah?

Charlie: Fine by me leans back in chair

Stephen: Sure, not like we have to worry about losing a member of the alliance or anything.

Michael obnoxiously laughs.

DR-MICHAEL: These guys should seriously lighten up. It's not like Chun-Li is waving goodbye to us as she goes out to talk to Julie. beat Can you imagine if I accidentally evicted her though?

DR-STEPHEN: Well, while we are safe, I didn't forget what was said at that meeting. If either of these nominees get off, it could spell trouble for me.

DR-CHARLIE: I actually am starting to feel pretty comfortable in this house again...which means it is likely time that I'm about to get hit by some unfortunate news

DR-BALTO: I admire Chun-Li's confidence, but she can't just be relying on competition wins to make it to the win- that just never happens. All I know is that we need her to win or else we'll be losing a number.

Later that day, Aurora is in the pantry, crying, with Tyrion and Paul.

Paul: Hm, are you sure this was because of something you said?

Tyrion: Well, Amy admitted to wanting to target floaters until Aurora and Chun-Li spoke out against it.

Aurora: I didn't even speak out against it. I just suggested that it may not be the best way to go.

Tyrion: Cheer up, it's not the end of the world, believe me.

Aurora: I can't see how it can get any worse than being nominated for the third time.

Tyrion: Well, perhaps you can avoid eviction for the third time.

Aurora: shrug and blows nose I don't know...

Paul: We'll get you off the block, even if we have to somehow get ourselves there in your place.

Tyrion: A bit of a jump....briefly eyes Aurora but we can surely work something out.

Aurora: We can try. If Chun-Li or Amy win that veto, I don't think I have a chance to stay.

Tyrion: Nonsense, we'll just have to find ourselves a bigger town crier.

Paul: Yeah, plenty of those lying around....

Tyrion: With the right mold, yes, yes there can be.

Aurora: Alright, well, you guys better get going before someone catches you in here.

The two make faces, but ultimately decide to leave.

DR-PAUL: You know, I'm starting to think that we're fighting an uphill battle, but hey, that's what loss causes are for right?

DR-TYRION: I am in a bit of a predicament with one esteemed girl being on the block yet I also am apparently on the radar of the HoH. Anything I do could break my game. I'll have to be careful from here on out, but I cannot tell if it would be more beneficial for me to not get too attached to this alliance.

Soon, it is time to pick players for the Power of Veto Competition.

Amy, Chun-Li, and Aurora each stand in front of everybody as they go to draw names out of a hat.

Amy digs her hand....

DR-AMY: Honestly, I can't tell who I don't want in...but I would love for Zelda or Peach to be in.

.....she pulls Paul.

DR-PAUL: Right on, I have a shot at saving the girl with the golden teardrops

Chun-Li puts her hand into the bag...

DR-CHUN-LI: Truly, I can't see myself picking a formidable opponent in this.

....she pulls J.

DR-J: Ha, I don't know why I keep getting picked for these things as if I'm not going to throw them, but let's keep this moving, shall we?

Aurora takes deep breath and puts her hand in....

DR-AURORA: Anybody but Maleficent would be nice, although she's not really good at these sort of things so maybe I have nothing to worry about?

...she pulls Peach,

DR-PEACH: This is so exciting! I get to play in another POV and my life isn't on the line for it. At least I get to have fun now giggles

Amy looks onto all of the houseguests before deciding to pick...Maleficent!

Maleficent smirks.

DR-MALEFICENT: Well, I do not possibly see how this week can go any better. Perhaps the end of a fairy tale?

Everybody disperses shortly after.

Zelda decides to make a detour into the Dungeon room to find Maleficent, except all she finds is J.

Zelda: What are you doing here?

J: Girl, I live here, what's your excuse?

Zelda: I was uh...looking for....mirrors

J: And the first room you decided check was the one with the person who needs one the least?

Zelda: Whoops, I better get going then starts to leave

J: Not so fast, Zoey One-Oh-One. looks around any of your posse behind you?

Zelda: Of course not, and they aren't my posse

J: You seem to spend an awful lot of time with them.

Zelda: Yeah, well...they aren't my ride or die.

J: Then who is?

Zelda: Why would I tell you that?

J: smirks You don't have one do you?

Zelda: Of course I do, he or she is just somewhere that is not here.

J: He or she. scoffs Listen, it's okay if you don't have anybody. Surely you know how to be independent.

Zelda: Don't talk to me about that nonsense!

J: Sheesh.....

Zelda: Ok, well, I don't have anyone alright?

J: Figures. We can change that, you know.

Zelda: Really?

J: Well, it's a step below my usual standard, but sure.

Zelda: Hm....

J: Well, whenever you figure out what you plan to do with your life, hit me up.

Zelda: Sure! exits quickly

J: Children these days...

DR-J: Well, we've seen more unusual pairings before....and some downright horrid ones like socks and sandals.

DR-ZELDA: So I'm in an alliance....with J? What has this world come to?

Upstairs, Peach and Amy decide to solidify a final two deal with one another, just before Zelda is able to return to the room. Likewise, Zelda does not seem to suspect a thing.

Maleficent exits the Diary Room in all black with an antenna cap on her head and remote in her hand.

Maleficent: Everyone, enter the backyard for the next Power of Veto competition if you dare.

Everybody enters the backyard to see six televisions with two long tubes protruding at the tops for each. Above are two large vacuum like holes in the ceiling. All of the competitors come out in spandex outfits as Maleficent stands off to the side.

DR-J: So, we all are walking out here and let me just say, spandex is doing some of us a disservice.

DR-AMY: Ohh, I wish I had my hammer to smash some of these tv's- now that would be a great POV!

Maleficent: Welcome to Niagra Balls. Each of the competitors has a television set with two tubes shaped as a 'V'. When the timer begins, hundreds of multicolored bouncing balls will be released over the back yard. All competitors must race to retrieve only the green balls and place them in their tubes. The first player to place ten green balls in their tubes will win the Power of Veto. Does everybody understand?

DR-PAUL: This seems like it could be pretty fun. How hard could it even be?

DR-CHUN-LI: Well, with this competition, I'll surely win with zero hardship.

DR-AURORA: I think I have a shot at this. All I really need to do is be on the lookout for the balls I need and then be good enough to repeat it nine more times.

DR-PEACH: This is going to be CRAZY everybody, just you wait! pauses I hope those balls don't hurt, oh my gosh.

Maleficent: On your marks, get set, go!

Soon, a hundred balls are tossed about in the backyard containing only ten green balls. We see everybody scatter around, trying to grab for the green balls closest to them. We see J staring down at a green ball, and then proceeding to ignore it as he tries to act like he is on the lookout for green balls.

At the same time, Chun-Li and Aurora are returning to their televisions with a ball. Followed behind them is Amy who seems to be laughing as she puts her ball in Shortly, Paul happens to find out and goes to his television as Peach is seen being dazed and confused of where all of the green ones are.

Eventually, Chun-Li and Amy are making their second return to the television when a hundred more balls are tossed into the backyard. As a result, everybody is hit in the face with them and has various forms of reactions. J screams about potentially breaking a nail as Peach goes into fetal position. As she does this, Chun-Li bumps into her body, drops her ball, and recoils. Peach sees this and picks up her ball and runs!

Meanwhile, Paul trips over a grip ball and is buried alive with red balls. Aurora manages to find a second ball.

After five minutes the current scoreboard is

Chun-Li: 4

Amy: 5

Aurora: 3

Paul: 4

Peach: 4

J: 1

Chun-Li can be seen grimacing with her her hip as she tries to move around as Peach seems to be making up for lost time in finding numerous green balls. Amy, however, tries to maintain a lead over everyone as she submits another ball. Paul and Aurora are close behind while J trails far behind everyone.

[illegible]

Peach: Think so? I dunno, he and her seem pretty close...

Amy: Yeah, but it's only been three weeks, not like anybody is super duper close beat except for us!

Peach smiles with glee as the duo go back to celebrating.

Later, Peach goes downstairs and happens to come across Chun-Li who is crying. Cautiously, Peach approaches her.

Peach: Are you alright?

Chun-Li: No...I've dishonored my family today.

Peach: gasp How?

Chun-Li: I'm going home a lot sooner than I promised and now, I'll be shunned.

Peach: How would...why would they do that?

Chun-Li: For being a disappointment...sniffles I just wish I wasn't hurt when I fell over you during the veto. Then none of this would be happening...

Peach: Oh....yeah, sorry...I'm really sorry about that, Chun-Li.

Chun-Li: I just don't know what to do with myself anymore, you know? I just don't know.

Peach rubs Chun-Li's back.

Peach: It'll get better, I promise that it will. I better get going, busy day and all.

Chun-Li nods and watches as Peach leaves the room. Very quickly, she wipes her tears away and shows a smile of confidence.

Soon, it is time for the POV Ceremony. Here, Peach stands in front of all of the houseguests to decide what to do with the Power of Veto. She allows Chun-Li and Aurora final plea before she ends up deciding what to do.

Peach: Ok, so after some thinking I have decided....

..

To use the power of veto on

..

Chun-Li.

Amy and Zelda gasp.

Peach: I feel so bad for injuring you in the competition and I don't want you to dishonor your family.

Questionable expressions can be seen on the faces of the other houseguests as Chun-Li rises off the couch.

Peach: Amy, seeing as I have veto'd one of your nominees, you must make a new one.

Amy: Peach....what have you done, Peach.... groans and rises Just when I was getting comfy too. Hmph! looks across at the other houseguests I didn't really expect this so um, Balto, would you like to take a seat?

Balto: Seriously?

Amy: I just...I don't know.

Maleficent: I think the dog makes a good pawn.

Balto: What? No I wouldn't.

Maleficent: Oh pipe it, will you.

Aurora: Amy, nominate her.

Amy: Who?

Aurora: Maleficent.

Amy: Why on earth would I do that?

Aurora: You want floaters to start playing? Well, getting rid of the people who have been in the spotlight is a good way to start.

Maleficent: Silence child!

Balto: Yeah...you also make less people mad by nominating her.

Maleficent scowls at Balto.

Amy: Oh alright, Maleficent sit down next to Aurora.

Maleficent: eyes bulge Excuse me? Say a different name

Amy: I'm the HoH, you can't control me!

Maleficent: You...you....balls fist up This is not over! takes spot beside Aurora I guess one of us going to be happy one way or another. I'll make sure it's me.

Peach: So... closes veto box This veto meeting is adjourned!

Fades to black..

Mai: I mean, if we feel like it.

Paul: Oh come on, you guys, this is the perfect opportunity to get Maleficent out. That's one less person we have to worry about.

Mai: scoff Maleficent isn't after us.

J: True, Blondie is the one who needs to be sleeping with an eye open.

Paul seems to be in a bit disbelief

Paul: You guys wouldn't turn on Aurora like that. There's no benefit to it and it's wrong.

J: Well, you see...

Mai: Keeping Maleficent in keeps a target in the house.

Paul: Which is why we need to get rid of her

J: Actually, it's the exact reason why we should consider keeping her. Nobody likes her and will work with her.

Paul:...but we will? J and Mai nod yeah, well, you guys can count me out and if you want to backstab Aurora after everything we've been through, you can count me out walks out

J: You need to get your man, girl.

Mai: rolls eyes He'll come around..it just may not be now.

DR-MAI: Paul has to realize that when you're on a sinking ship, you need to be ready to sink or swim and I don't intend on drowning anytime soon.

DR-J: Why is it that we always find ourselves in the center of everything? God somebody give us a spotlight at this rate!

DR-PAUL: I'm pretty annoyed that J and Mai feel the need to cut their losses for everybody so short. Me? I'm not going to give up just yet...

At the same time, Maleficent is talking with Tyrion about the current vote.

Tyrion: Seems to me like you're in quite a predicament.

Maleficent: Am I? Well, that all depends on how much my allies are willing to fight for me.

Tyrion: well, you cannot completely depend on them to be the ones to keep you safe, especially after that debacle you did.

Maleficent: What debacle? You mean earlier when I suggested Balto?

Tyrion: Quiet yes. You see, by doing that, you not only endangered him, but also his allies.

Maleficent: You speak as if the dog would have left.

Tyrion: Who knows, however, your performance did you no favors.

Maleficent seems to ponder for a moment and then glances to him.

Maleficent: Well, what can I do to fix it?

Tyrion: Perhaps a meeting with them to clear it all up. You can never go wrong with fresh air.

Maleficent casually nods.

Minutes later, we see that she has gathered, Balto, Chun-Li, Charlie, Michael, and Stephen together in the room.

Stephen: Are we here to party?

Maleficent: Of course not...I am doing this to...apologize.

Every single face seems to be in shock.

Maleficent: That is right. At the veto meeting, I was acting quite out of place and I did not intend for it to seem like I wanted Balto out.

Balto: Could have fooled me.

Chun-Li: Well...this complicates things.

Maleficent: How so?

Chun-li: We were just going to vote you out and be done with you, but now that you've apologized...

Michael: shouting You can save ya!

Charlie: clenching ear Tell the whole world why don't you....

Michael: Oh no, I only wanted to tell everybody here.

Charlie facepalms.

Balto: I accept your apology...but how easy do you think we can get the votes in our favor?

Maleficent: Oh, you leave that to me. dark smile

DR-MICHAEL: Something about that smile just screams i'm going to murder you all with my horny hair if you don't do what I say.

DR-CHARLIE: So I guess the plan to vote her out is not a go anymore? Who knows

DR-STEPHEN: It is almost as if time and time again the ball scurries its way into my court of decision. If only I could shoot for the hoops.

DR-CHUN-LI: Personally, she will have to do a lot of damage control, but if she is able to, then perhaps I will have a change of heart.

Shortly after this meeting, Aurora catches Balto outside and stops him.

Aurora: Hello, Balto.

Balto: Hi pause sorry that you're still nominated.

Aurora: shrugging You get used to it.

Balto: Yeah grins I wanted to thank you about earlier, you know, keeping me from being nominated and such.

Aurora: It was no big deal, wasn't the right thing, you know?

Balto: Of course. guilty stares down

Aurora notices this and pauses.

Aurora: You're voting me out aren't you?

Balto: What makes you say that?

Aurora: Just a feeling.

Balto: It's not set in stone or anything, but...well, yeah.

Aurora: I see...I'm sorry to hear that. I can't change your mind? Possibly offer a deal of safety if I win Head of Household?

Balto: I...don't control the numbers.

Aurora: You're certain it is me?

Balto: No...it could go either way actually, but I don't think there is much you can do.

Aurora: Well maybe I...oh alright. I was just hoping we could possibly work together, but I understand faux sigh I'll see you around. walks away

DR-AURORA: As of now, I've got Tyrion, Paul, j, and Mai...I somehow need to get two more, but I feel that I might have been able to guilt trip Balto in saving me.

DR-BALTO: Man, this vote was supposed to be so simple and now, I'm not sure. Regardless, I need to go talking to Chun-Li. Maybe she can talk some sense into me.

We later see Maleficent talking to Zelda about keeping her. Zelda claims that she will be willing to as long as Maleficent can 'finally win a freakin comp'. Shortly after this, Aurora tries to convince Zelda to talk to Peaches about keeping her, even if its against Amy's wishes. Zelda insists that she will do so and then goes up to the HoH Room....

Fade to black

Fade from black to reveal Julie on stage.

Julie: Let us check in on the houseguests.

cut to camera feed which reveals the houseguests dressed up greatly

Julie: Hello houseguests.

Everyone: Hi, Julie!

Julie: Let's get some questions answered, shall we? Peach, how did it feel like to practically live in the HoH Room without winning?

audience murmurs

Peach: It's been fun! I got to sleep in a nice bed and also eat a lot of chocolate- and candy! It was nice to enjoy the tub in there too- oh my gosh, I could stay in there forever!

Julie: For production's sake, let's hope not audience laugh Charlie, who would you say is the most disruptive of the house?

Charlie: Hands down, Michael.

Michael: gasps Charles Darwin Chaplin, how could you say such a thing?

Charlie: I'm sorry, man, you're snoring disrupts my sleep each and every night.

audience laughs

Stephen: He's not wrong...

Michael: Nobody is perfect, you guys! We all have our flaws

Tyrion: Some of them like to make their presence known between the hours of midnight and four in the morning...

audience laugh again

Julie: Alright, as for our nominees, do either of you find yourselves at peace tonight over your feud ending?

Aurora: I wish it could have ended differently, but at least after tonight, I won't have to worry about any sharp objects.

Julie: Maleficent?

Maleficent: Yes.

Julie: Okay...before your fellow houseguests vote to evict, you two may make your final pleas. Aurora, you're up first.

Aurora: Hey guys, I originally was going to make another plea, but third time's the charm here and honestly, I am sure most of you already know where you're going to vote so I'm just going to say that no matter what, it has been a pleasure talking to some of you and I just hope you remember that this experience is meant to be enjoyed, not tarnished.

Maleficent: Tonight is the night you all can make your games or break them. I do realize that I am not the most easy of people to deal with, but do know that all of my intentions are for a greater good that I hope you all have come to see. Believe me when I say it will help more than hurt your games to keep me in versus an actual threat.

Julie: Well, and with that, we will get right into the live vote and eviction. Michael, please go to the diary room and cast your vote to evict.

DR-MICHAEL: So uhh, yeah. No hard feelings, darling, but it's time to finally get you out of this office. I vote for Aurora.

DR-PEACH: This isn't anything personal...I like you...but we're not meant to be friends in this game. We can hang out after though! I vote for Aurora.

DR-TYRION: A threat, each of you happens to possess, one of you is not up to my standard of allies. I evict Maleficent

DR-J: Girl, it's been real, but it's just smarter for me to vote you. I vote for Aurora.

DR-PAUL: So I'm pretty beat that this didn't work out, but I have to do what my alliance wants if I want to last longer so I vote for Aurora.

DR-MAI: Alls well that ends well...except you weren't really well to begin with. I vote for Maleficent.

DR-CHARLIE: You burned too many bridges for it to be safe to work with you, so I vote to evict Maleficent

DR-STEPHEN: There's really nothing good to say about yourself. Think of it as a backhanded compliment. Or insult. I vote for Maleficent.

DR-BALTO: So I'm going with my gut here and I just feel bad. So I vote for Maleficent.

DR-ZELDA: Out with the old and in with the new! I've got a new Final Two! I vote for Maleficent.

Julie: With six votes to evict, Maleficent will be evicted from the Big Brother house, but let's see how Chun-Li will vote first.

DR-CHUN-LI: I've decided that if I'm going to compete, it will be with worthy allies- not ones who will be so quick to drop their own if not to save themselves. I vote for Maleficent.

Camera follows Chun-Li as she walks to the living room.

Julie: Alright, houseguests, when I reveal the vote, the evicted houseguest will have a moment to say her goodbyes, grab her things, and leave the Big Brother house....by a vote of seven to four...Maleficent, you have been evicted from the Big Brother house.

Maleficent's eyes go very wide as she stares in disbelief at the houseguests.

Maleficent: I should have expected less from idiots like all of you leaves quickly without saying goodbye to anybody cue interview segment and cut to commercial break

cut from commercial break as Julie is on the screen smiling

Julie: It is time for our next Head of Household Competition.

Camera cuts to the backyard where everyone except for Amy is standing at a buzzer set around a giant pit of packaging peanuts.

Julie: Alright houseguests, this one is called Delivering The Goods and the rules are simple. I will ask a question in which the answer is going to be the name of two different houseguests. You must run across your lane into the pit of packaging peanuts. You may only send in one name card at a time. If you submit an incorrect answer, you will be eliminated. The first person to locate the two names in the pit and reach their buzzer will be the next Head of Household. Does everybody understand the rules?

Each gives a confirming nod.

Julie: When I finish the question, you may all begin the competition. beat Which two houseguests so far have been the only ones to win multiple competitions?

Suddenly, all twelve houseguests race down their lanes and go diving into twelve pits of packaging peanuts. We see many people searching through their pits until...

Charlie comes up with name of Chun-Li just as Chun-Li comes back with her own name. Just as they are returning, we see Tyrion, Mai, and Paul start to head to their buzzers.

As they are making their way back, someone already has their second name card and goes to put submit their answer.

With the correctly submitted answer of Chun-Li and Peach....
