Advisor Selection Process

It's that time of year when students may choose a new advisor for next year if they wish. While the design is that students remain with their advisor for four years, we realize that not all advisor-advisee relationships or advisor groups are perfect for every student. As such, we allow students to complete an advisor selection form each spring. If they choose to remain with their current advisor, they do not need to list any other options; however, if your child plans to request a new advisor, we will ask them to list their top four (4) choices. Advisor selection forms will be available the week of May 18 (and sent directly to the students). The advisor options in each grade are listed below. Please discuss with your child if they are considering a change.
