ABOUT RECOVER:

RECOVER is a national research initiative from the National Institutes of Health (NIH). The federal government recognizes the impact of COVID and has asked for an official set of rules to be created to evaluate the long-term symptoms people are reporting. Illinois is one of 30 study centers nationwide that will develop best practices for people with difficulty recovering from COVID.

The overall goal of the NIH RECOVER Initiative is to rapidly improve our understanding of and ability to predict, treat, and prevent post-acute sequelae of SARS-CoV-2 infection (PASC), also known as “Long COVID.” PASC can affect any organ system, including the brain, lungs, and nervous system. There are many symptoms of PASC, including fatigue, weakness, difficulty concentrating, shortness of breath, anxiety, and depression. We currently do not know why some patients with COVID-19 develop PASC and why others do not. We also do not know how to prevent or treat PASC. The NIH RECOVER Initiative is designed to answer these questions. More information about the NIH RECOVER Initiative is available at <https://recovercovid.org/>.

The UIC IRB-approved RECOVER study protocol (# 2021-1287) requires an enrollment visit that can be performed in three stages (recruitment and obtaining informed consent; questionnaires administered by a centralized study call center; brief physical exam, clinical assessments, and laboratory tests that require an in-person study visit at UI Health). There will also be (a) in-person follow-up visits at months 3, 6, 12, 24, and 36 that include questionnaires administered by a centralized study call center and in-person visit at UI Health for laboratory testing; and (b) remote follow-up visits at months 9, 15, 18, 21, 27, 30, and 33 for questionnaires administered by a centralized study call center. Finally, there may be additional in-person follow-up study visits at UI Health for specialized testing, if there are abnormalities identified at the other visits.

The ILLInet RECOVER Hub (with University of Illinois Chicago as the prime) is committed to ensuring that a diverse adult (age 18 years and older) population that appropriately reflects the disproportionate burden of COVID-19 in urban and rural areas is invited to join the NIH RECOVER Initiative. More information about the NIH ILLInet RECOVER Hub is available at <https://illinet.org/>.

WHY IS THIS STUDY UNIQUE?

Community partners will play an essential role in ILLInet-RECOVER by completing two scopes of work. Some community partners will serve on a Community Engagement Steering Committee and will ensure that RECOVER study activities are appropriate, relevant and tailored for success in their communities. Some community partners will serve as Enrollment Partners and will help to refer community members for participation in ILLInet-RECOVER and assist with retention by completing specified activities to maintain engagement. Several community partners will complete one scope of work and some will complete both. Engaging the community is key to support the voices and needs of individuals most impacted by COVID.

Peoria Friendship House of Christian Service

RECOVER Enrollment Partner

Incorporated in April 1951, Friendship House began as a cooperative effort by the American Baptist Church and the local Council of Churches.

Our first facility, a Quonset hut donated by Bradley University and dubbed "Operation Friendship House", generated community excitement and served as both missionary residence and recreation center.

The Friendship House Board took a leap of faith in 1957, securing the former Grace Presbyterian Church building at 800 NE Madison Avenue, acquiring ten times the amount of program space. By 1963, Friendship House of Christian Service had grown to serve nearly 150 families and provide over 23,000 contacts.

Then, with the growth of services and need, in the mid-1970's, Friendship House needed to create a new space that would allow for that growth for the years to come and the former church building was taken down and a new building was erected in its place, complete with a commercial kitchen, offices, meeting space, classrooms and a full-size gymnasium. Today, that building is the home of all of the amazing services that Friendship House provides with our complete wrap-around services.
