

Deliver the App testing and screenshots

The “Deliver” application has various user flows, let's look at a few screenshots showing how the application works

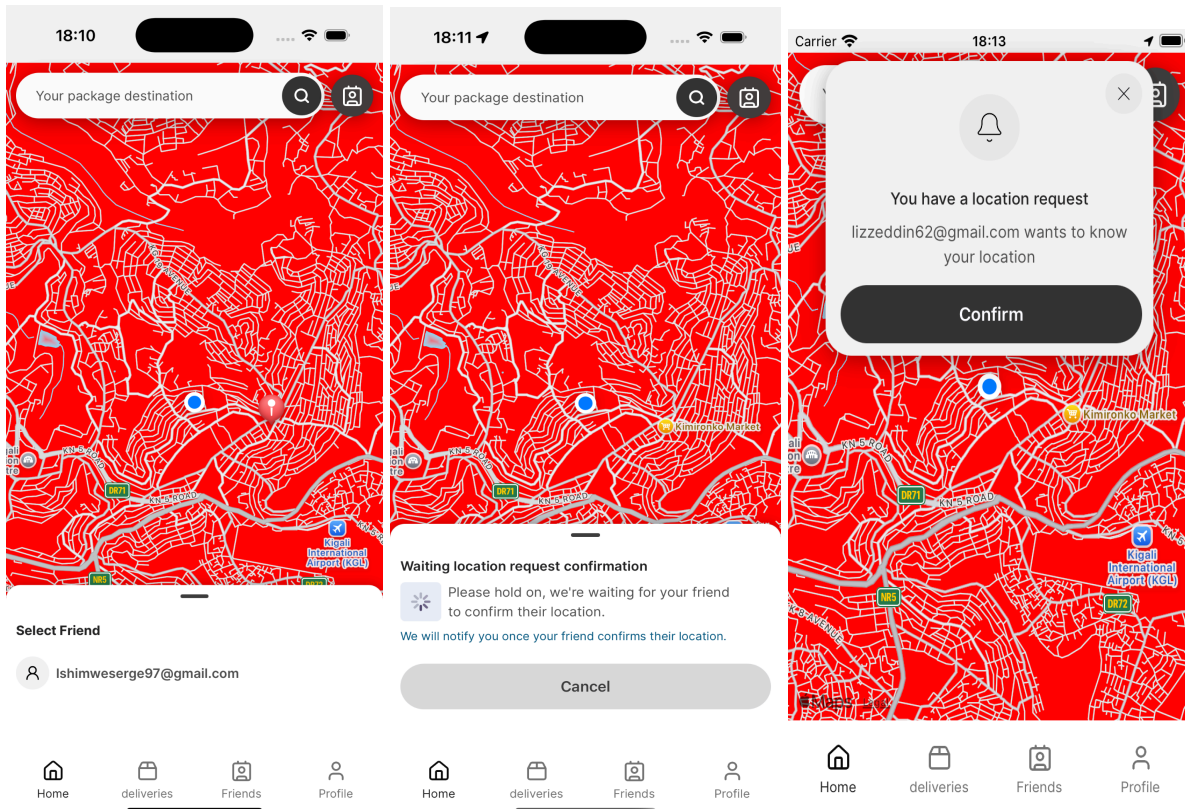

Delivery request flow

There are two ways to request a delivery: by providing a destination through a search input or by requesting a location from a friend.

Request delivery through a search input

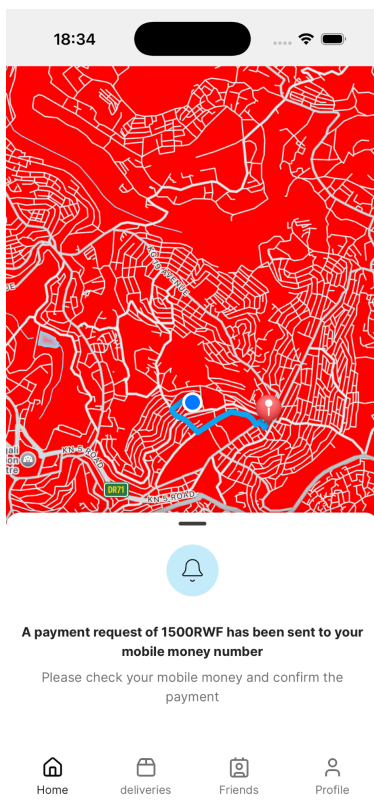

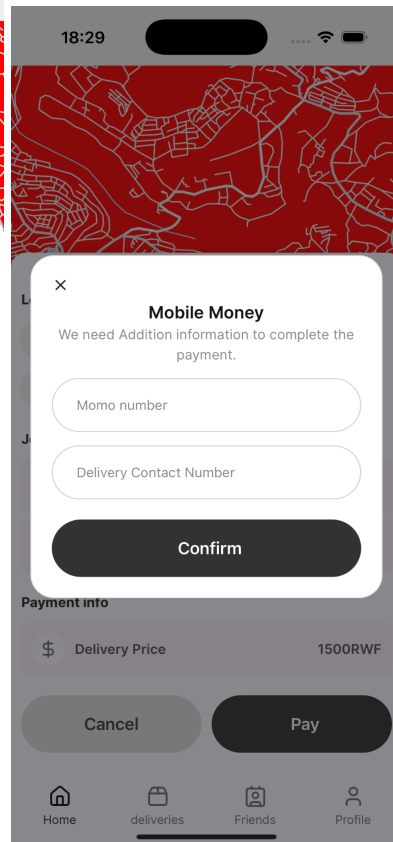

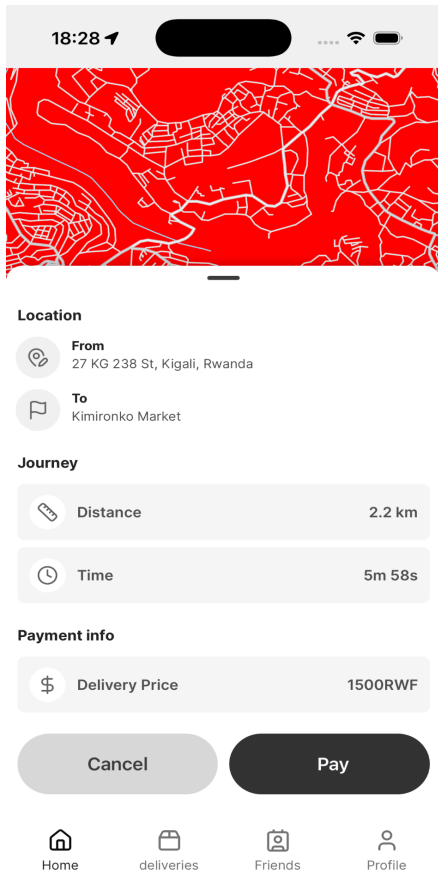

Request delivery through a friend request

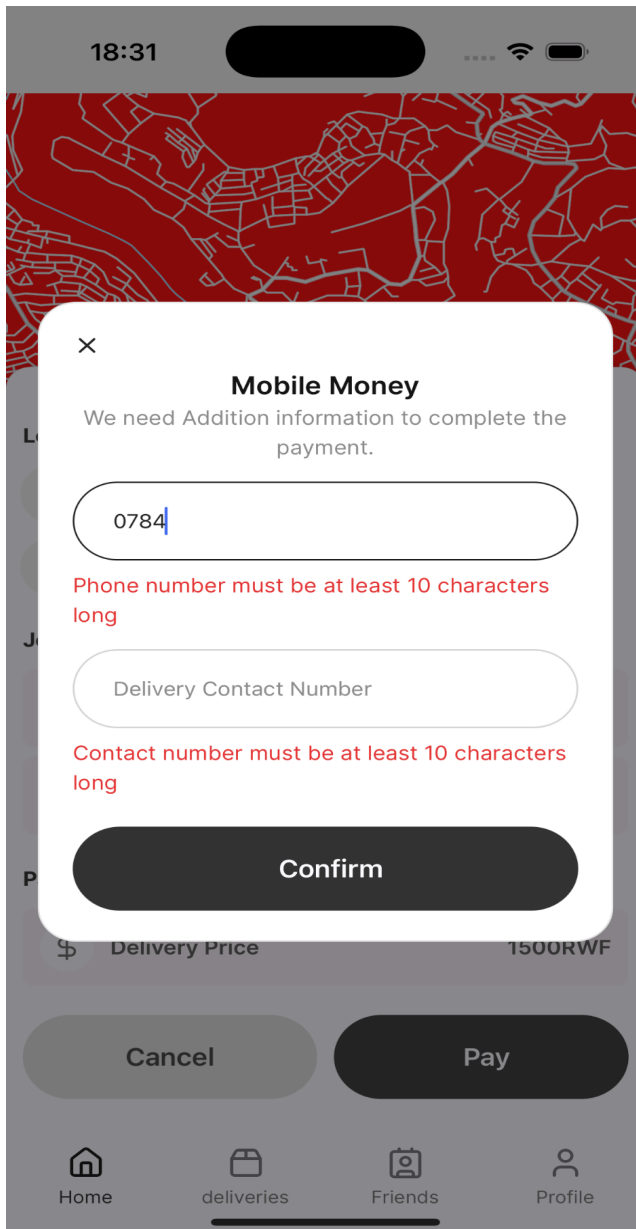

Payment feature

After a delivery request is created, the user has to pay for the delivery immediately.

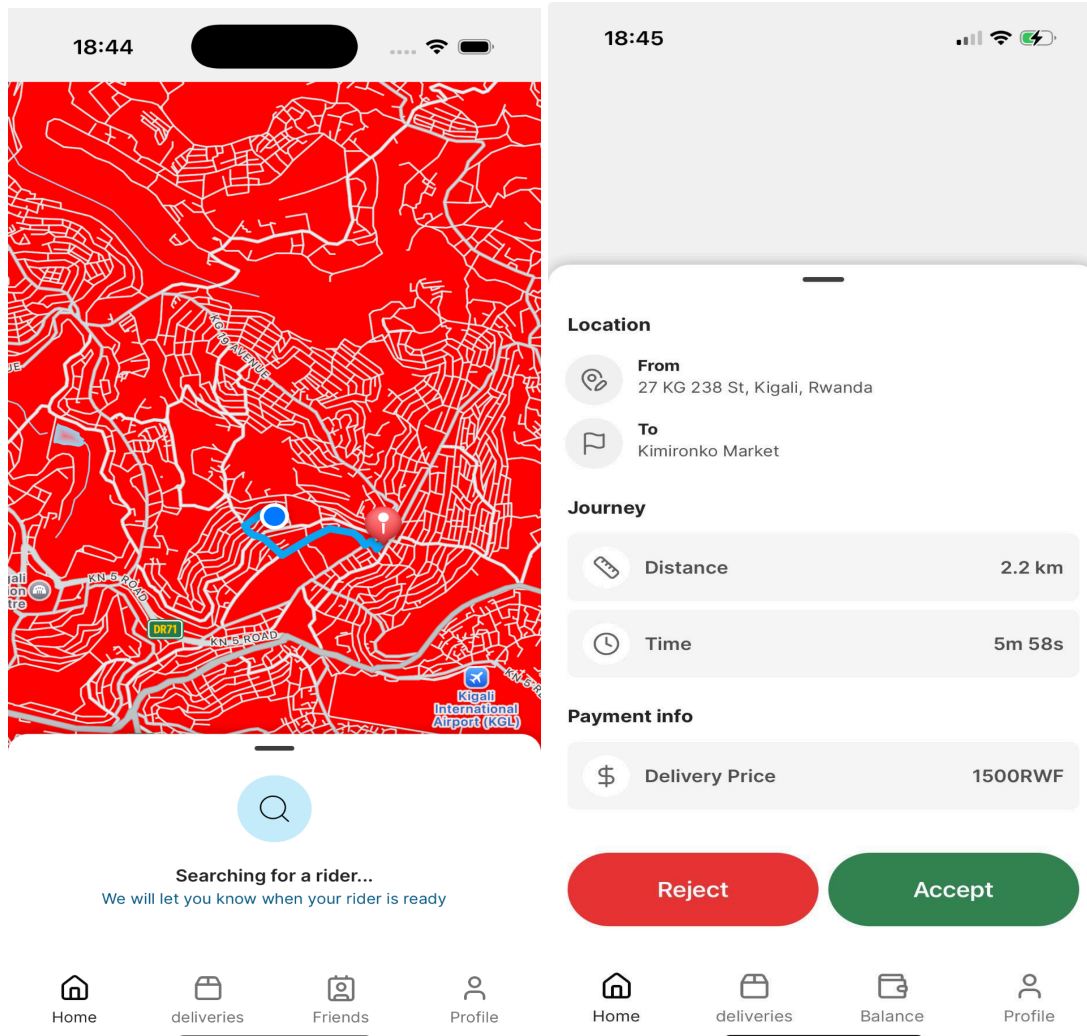

When the user provided a wrong number, the system immediately provided an error message until they corrected the error

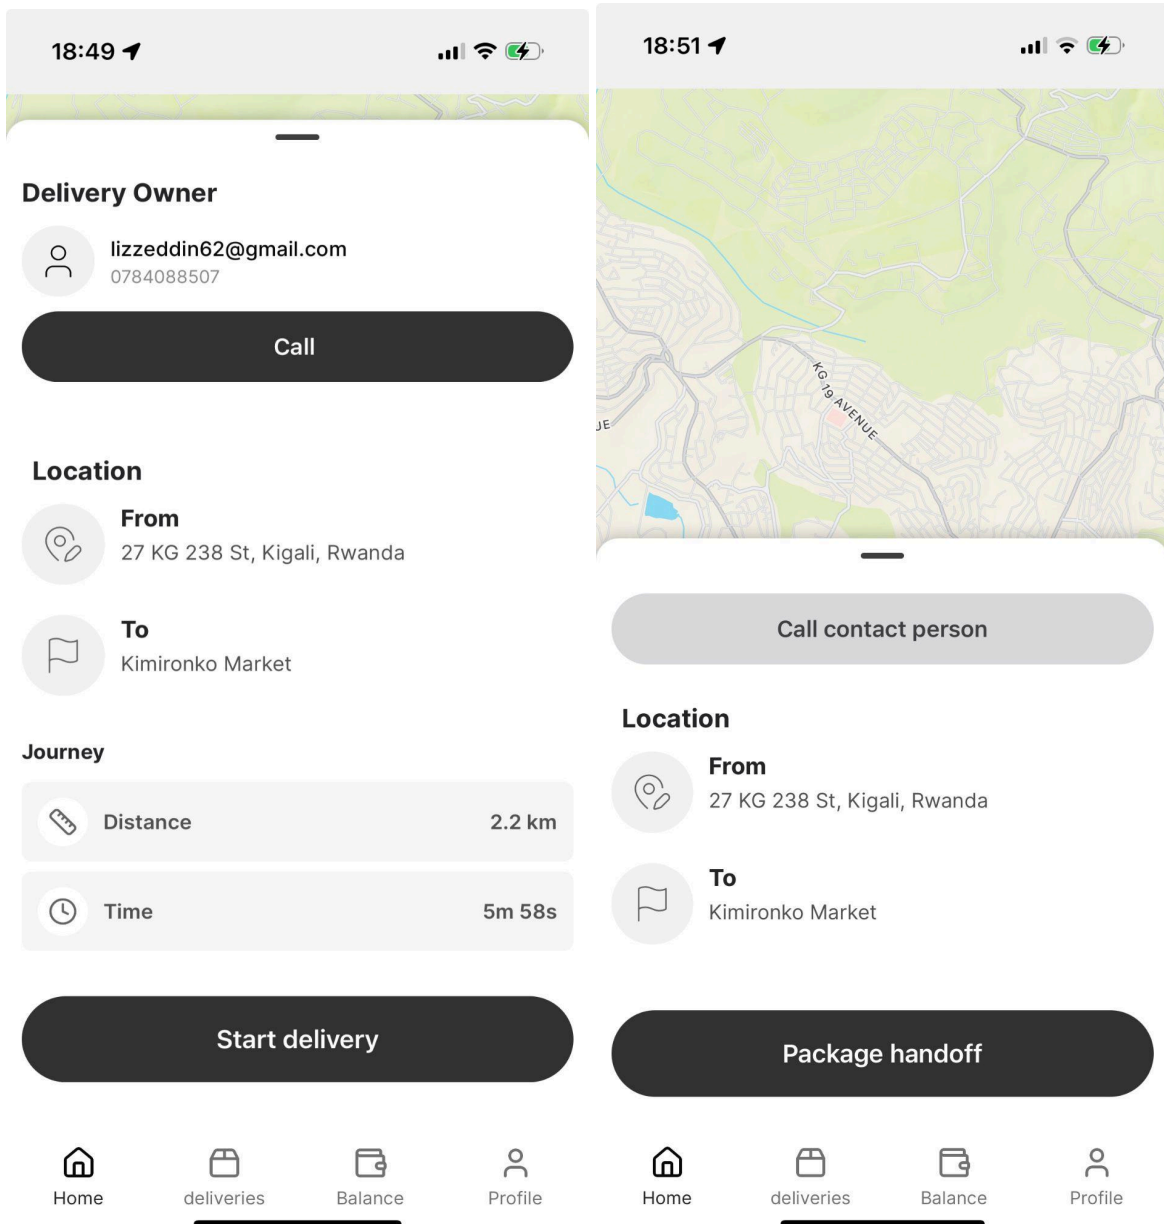

After the user has corrected the errors, a payment request is sent to their mobile money

Rider assignment flow

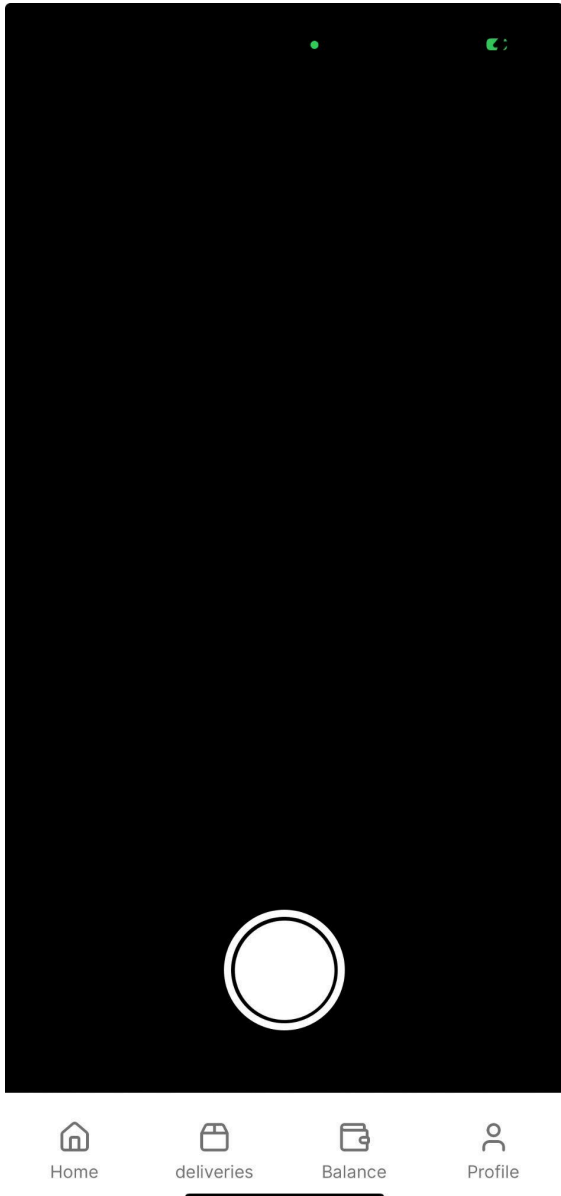

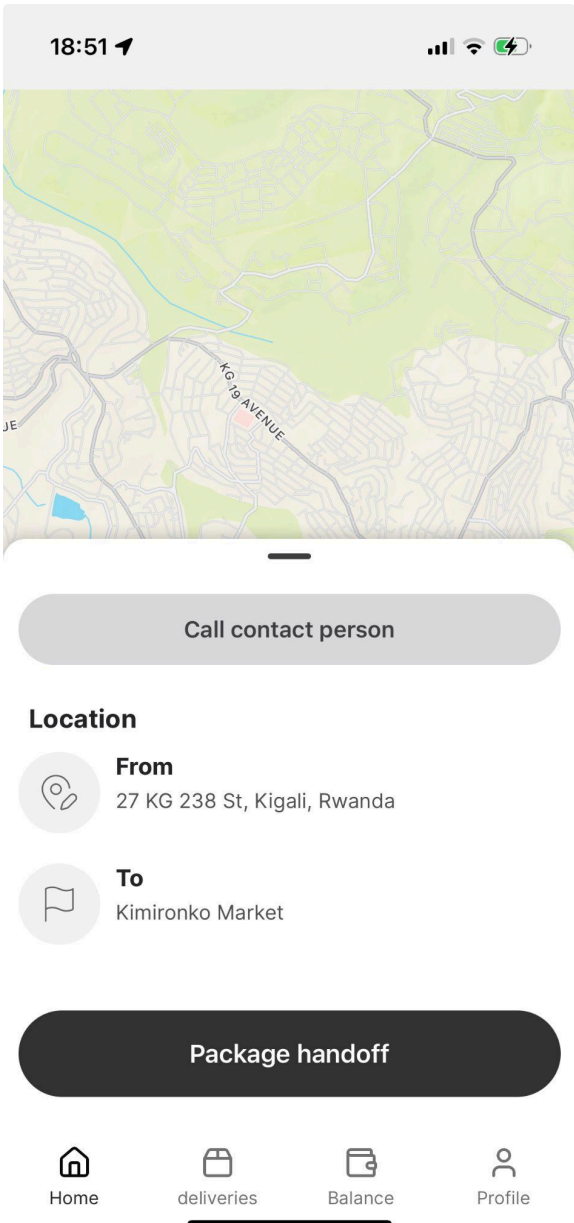

When the system is assigning a rider, the user sees a message that they will have to wait. On the rider side, they see a delivery request if they accept it. They immediately get added as the delivery rider.

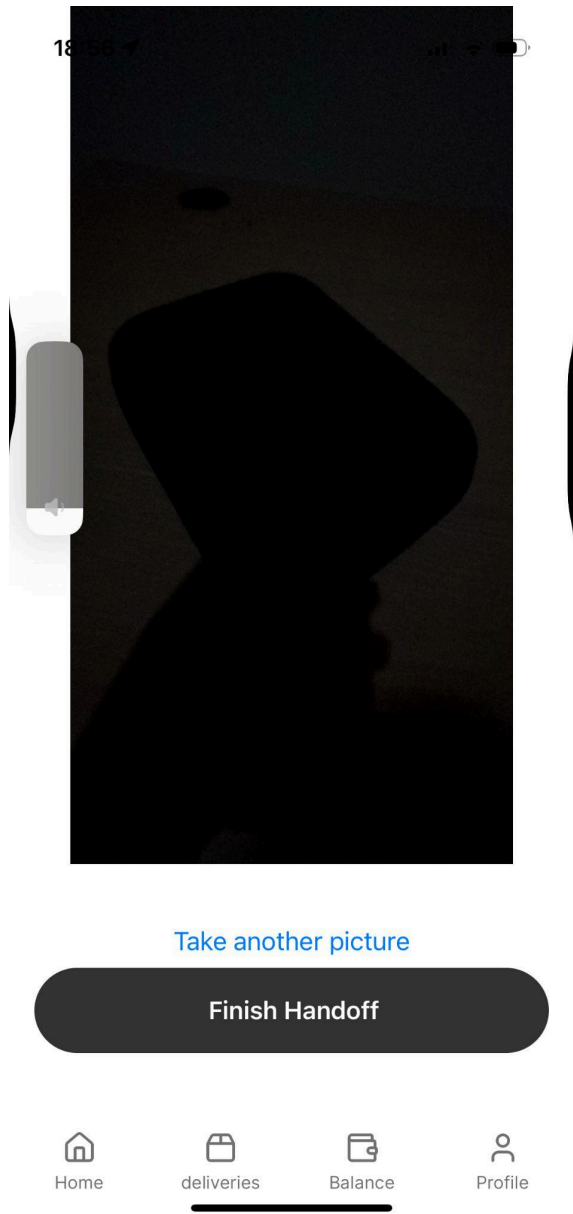

Rider delivery fulfillment flow

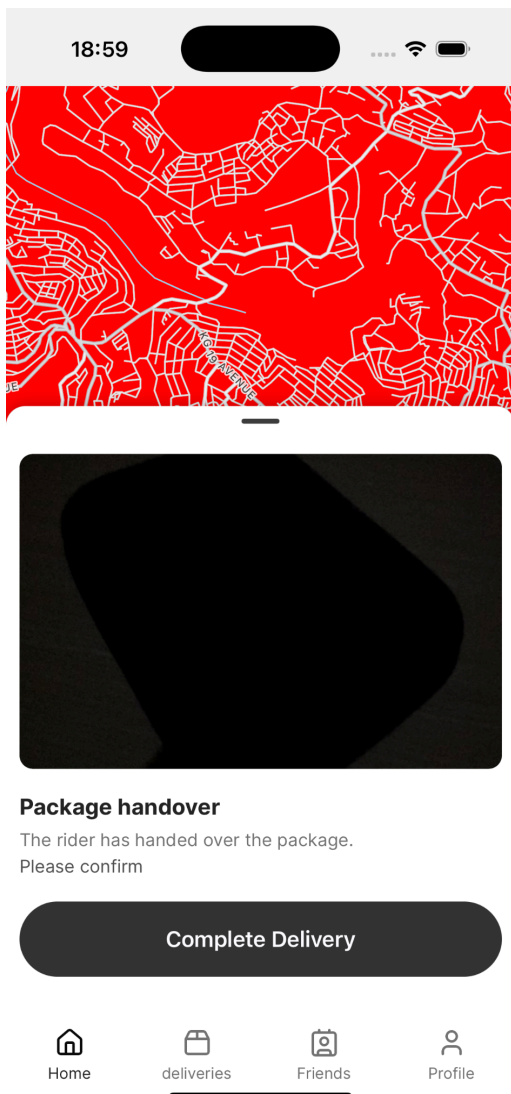

Package handoff flow

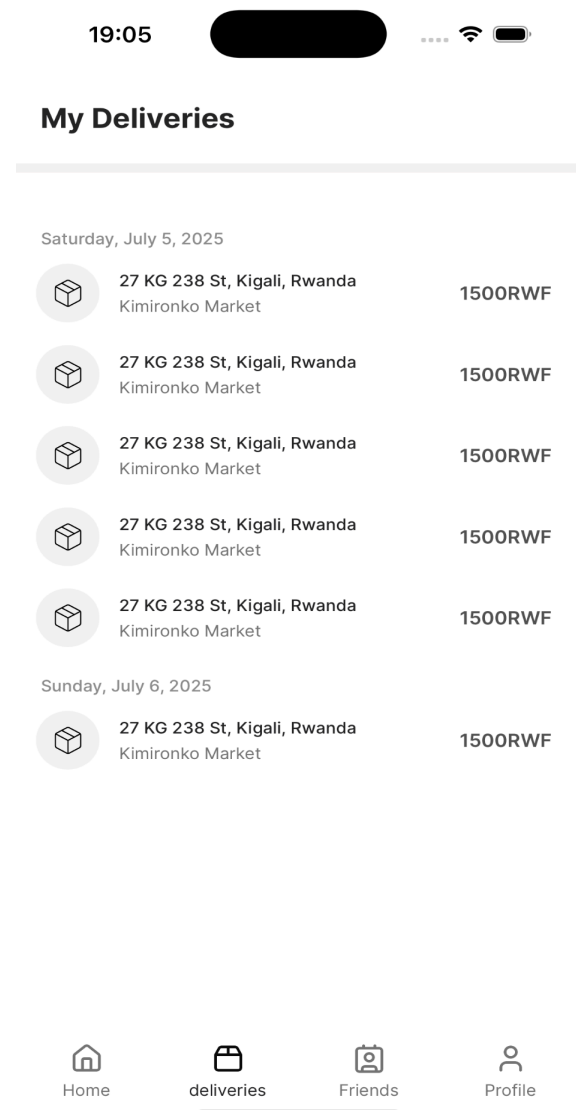

After the delivery handoff is done, the user has to approve the delivery

Delivery completion flow

Delivery requests screen

Both the user and rider have access to the same delivery requests screen to view their past deliveries

Friends feature

Users can add other users as friends for location sharing purposes. You need to scan their QR code. The plus button opens the camera for QR code scanning.

They can also withdraw money using the money withdrawal pop-up, but if they provide an invalid phone number or amount, they receive an error message.

When they resolve the error, they receive their money on Momo, and then the recent withdrawal list is updated.
