

Taking a pessimistic view - 12 students per year graduating to employment, $260,000 program cost, the picture would look like this:

12 years on, taxpayers have invested $3,380,000 and saved $9,724,000 - a 388% return. If anyone has more accurate figures, let's see them.