

NSC Generic Student Google Accounts

- A generic or “dummy” student Google account so that you can see what Google Classroom looks like from the student perspective.
- You will need to enroll the generic student account in your Google Classroom in order to accomplish this. Either send an invitation to the generic Google account or use the generic Google account to join your class using your class code.
- Only one generic Google account per school is available. This means that this one account may be enrolled in many Google classrooms within a school.
- A Google account may be logged in to multiple locations at the same time, so this should not pose a problem if multiple people wish to use the account for testing and troubleshooting purposes.
- Do not share these account credentials outside the district or outside the scope of their intended use.
- These Google accounts are not set up to work with Clever -- only to give the student perspective on Google Apps like Classroom, Gmail, Calendar, Meet, etc.

The generic Google accounts are as follows:
