

Ted's breathing sped up as he ran through the green park, soft grass met each of his steps making his jogging silent his trainers hitting the ground before he lifted them again taking quick steps. The loud fast music playing in his ears drowned out the fast beating of his chest. Blood flowed through his body at a fast pace supplying his body with the oxygen that it craved.

He took a while to wake up in the morning so he liked to go on a jog to wake himself up before he would need to shower before work. His body had gained a thin sheen of sweat from exertion that made his clothes damp, a slight muskiness coming from his body. Luckily deodorant kept him from smelling bad. His eyes opened as he heard an animal running glancing at a large running dog off its lead. For a moment he tensed worried that he was about to be a bit before he relaxed seeing the animal run past him. Besides, he recognised the breed they were like oversized Labradors making him smile too distracted from the dog to look in front of him.

It had been a long day and it was barely before six, the sun only just now peaking over the horizon as Madeleine ran down the winding dirt path in the dog park not far from her home. Her Japanese akita King had managed to bolt out of her front door before she could put the lead on him. Madi's best friend had stopped by to borrow a suit for a business meeting and hadn't realized King was by the door and it ultimately led to her current predicament. She could see King running in the distance but he had went around a bend with large bushes and she was worried she wouldn't be able to catch up to the 110 lb excited dog. She wasn't used to having to sprint and already her lungs were burning with the deep inhales of breaths she had taken in the early morning air.

"King! Get back-" She rounded the corner avoiding the overgrown branches of the bush that seemed to need a trimming. Madi had missed the person coming in the opposite direction and before she could even register what happened she collided with a solid mass of man. A yelp would escape her as they both began to tumble to the ground.

Ted probably should have guessed that where there was a dog there would probably be its owner not far behind it. The Akita didn't seem like a stray after all, but he was distracted so when the dog's owner suddenly appeared he couldn't stop in time. He tried to avoid her he really did but there was no time. He felt someone collide into his chest, managing to spot long brown hair belonging to someone shorter than him before they smacked into each other. She was smaller than him, much smaller so if he was expecting her he probably would have been able to catch her and stabilise them both but since he was caught off guard all he could do was make sure that she didn't get hurt. His arms wrapped around her waist as he heard her yelp, and oomph leaving his mouth while he fell forward sticking one of his hands out as they hit the ground to take some of the force of hitting the ground off of her.

He winced feeling sharp pain run through his hand up to his wrist, nothing felt broken but he knew that he would be sore tomorrow. "I'm sorry I wasn't looking where I was going." He apologised to her feeling his body resting on top of hers, his chest resting on hers and as he looked down he decided that he didn't want to think about the rest. He flushed slightly before he looked up at her face unable to help but let his eyes widen as he saw how pretty she was. "Are you okay?" He asked her forgetting to get up or to even let go of her hips.

Having the wind knocked out of her lungs was not what Madeleine had been expecting, nor was landing on the ground with a steamy looking man on top of her. A complimentary shade of rose painted her cheeks as she looked up into those dark brown eyes. It took her a moment to register what he had said and when it did she quickly nodded. "I- I am." Madi swallowed the lump in her throat that perhaps was her heart, it was beating so loudly that she honestly wondered if she would faint. After his question she had expected the handsome stranger, who Madi found smelling quite manly and enticing, to climb off of her so that they both could get up from the sidewalk. When he continued to lay on top of her the blush that had crept across her cheeks would only grow a deeper shade of red.

Off in the distance a deep booming bark could be heard before the sound of large paws clapping against the sidewalk. Before long King would barrel into the two humans tangled in a heap, his tail excitedly wagging as his tongue lapped at the man's face. Madeleine knew that King liked people, but this was new, and it didn't help the fact that after licking the man King thought they were playing a game and had dog piled on top of the stranger. King's full 110 lbs. weighing down on them both, pressing them even further into each other. Mortified Madi looked anywhere but at the man's face, her hand moving to grab her dog's collar. "King!" She wheezed out, her thin arm tugging on the massive fluff to move. "Down!"

A whimper escaped the akita, he had just wanted to play Madi knew, but this was...awkward. Once King finally rolled off the pair she risked a glance at the man's face. "I am so sorry." She cleared her throat as her arm still held onto King's collar. "M-may I please get up?"

When he saw the way that she blushed he tilted his head, not sure why she was flushing. His hand slowly moved up her body to cup her face wanting to make sure that she didn't hit her head before he looked her body up and down and released why she was flushing so much. Unable to help himself he bit down on his lower lip, part of him not wanting to get up, enjoying the feeling of her body pressed up against his. "Sorry." He started to say about to get up before he felt a dog run into him, he tensed for a moment before he relaxed feeling a tongue licking at his face. He couldn't help but smile seeing for himself how friendly the large dog was. Before he could get up, he felt large paws step onto his back before the dog lay down pushing him down under his weight. Caught off guard he was unable to support the animal's weight.

He fell forward on top of the woman, his hips pressing against hers, his chest pressing against hers leaving nothing to the imagination in his mind. What made it worse was how close their faces were his nose pressed against her cheek, his lips inches away from her jaw leaving him unable to help but breathe in catching her scent. The smell of coffee and cinnamon filled his senses making him unable to stop himself from breathing and enjoying the sweet smell. If he had to, he probably would have been able to lift the dog off of him, but he was worried that if he tried to, he would end up hurting the dog. Besides he had to admit that being pressed up against her wasn't the worst feeling in the world. Still, when the dog got off of him, he was able to breathe easier feeling the large weight get off his back.

He couldn't help but smile when he heard the dog whimper feeling bad for him, when she apologised to him, he moved his head back before shaking his head. "It's fine no worries." He told her quickly before he flushed hearing her question. "Sorry." He quickly apologised to her pulling himself to his feet before he held a hand out for her to take wanting to help her up.

As the handsome stranger got off of her Madi felt relief and took a deep breath before exhaling. The scent of his cologne taking over her senses as she stared at his offered hand. She would have to let go of King's collar before taking his hand. Before she took it she used her leg to push and roll over onto her side. She quickly latched the loop onto the clip and sighed with relief. Had she been fully aware of what rolling onto her side Madi might have rethought letting go of King. However Madi wasn't the brightest sometimes. Hyper focused on one thing at a time so she was currently unaware that her sundress had ridden up revealing her burgundy shaded lace panties covering her plump butt cheeks.

She rolled back over, her sundress falling back into place before taking the hand that was extended. "Thank you." She used his strength to get up without much effort and once standing she dusted off her butt and hands. "Well, again. I am so sorry. Is your wrist alright?" Madi moved to inspect it. She wasn't a doctor or even a nurse but she had a little brother and had doctored many scrapes and bruises before. "Should we go to urgent care? Is it broken?" She gingerly took it into her hands and turned it every which way.

When she rolled over Ted tilted his head not sure what she was doing before he realised that she was fixing her dog's lead. When he looked down, he quickly forgot that she had a dog at all as he saw the way that her sundress had risen exposing her ass to his gaze, and of course her panties making him bite down on his lower lip to keep himself from making any noises. His hand twitched as he got good luck at her unable to help but want to give her behind a slap. He shook his head to fix his thoughts when she rolled back around, he had only just met her, he shouldn't be thinking of her like that. Even if she flashed him without meaning to. He helped pull her up gently careful to not hurt her before he made himself smile waving off her apology.

"It's fine, I knocked you down so it's only right that I help you back up." He told her gently before he paused feeling her take his arm into her hands making him tense for a moment before he made himself relax, shaking his head at her concern in the attempt to relax her. "It's fine, nothing feels broken probably just a strain." He quickly told her not trying to pull his arm away. "I'll just put it on ice when I get back home from my run, shouldn't take too long." He told her with a slight wince before he stepped forward gently taking her hand in his. "You didn't hurt yourself, did you? I tried to catch us when we fell but you could have still hit your head or something. Do you mind if I walk you home just in case?"

"Oh no! You need to ice it right-" She had begun only for him to begin asking her if she had been hurt. "Other than a few scrapes, maybe a little of my pride but that's about it." She blushed hearing him offer to walk her home. "I only live a few blocks from here... What about you? Ah-" Madeleine let go of his wrist. "I have ice back at my duplex, maybe you can come in, and I can treat it? It's my fault after all." She tucked some of her hair behind her ear out of nervous habit. King gave a deep woof which Madi took as him agreeing, though how a dog would understand what was going on was up for debate. She liked to pretend he was smart enough though so she accepted it as a yes. "See," A deeper flush to her cheeks. "King agrees, we should treat your wound. It's the least we could do..."

Madi didn't even wait, just like the lead clipped onto King's collar, her hand grabbed hold of his good hand and pulled the handsome stranger along. It didn't take them long, with her hurriedly pulling him along, only stopping long enough to cross the street intersection to make it home. Once they came up on a bright yellow door she smiled at him as they walked up the few steps to the door. As she opened the door barely the width of a crack King roughly pushed his muzzle through and barreled inside pulling them both with him. "King!"

She released the leash and stabilized herself by the small table she had in the entry hallway only to have a very firm form land into her backside. A blush crept across her cheeks for the umpteenth time this morning. Madi turned and looked up into his face. "S-sorry. He get's excited."

He nodded when she told him that he needed to ice it before he smiled relieved at her when she told him that she was okay. That was all he needed to know; he tilted his head in surprise as he saw the way she blushed not sure why her face flushed. For a moment he was about to turn her down but when he went to speak something stopped him. He wasn't sure what and soon the answer was taken away from him as she grabbed onto his good hand and pulled her with him. "I'll make sure to bring a lead of my own next time I see you." He couldn't help but mumble under his breath but he was left unheard not saying anything else as she led him back to her home.

He glanced at the entrance to her house seeing the bright shade of yellow his bad arm resting against his side as it throbbed lightly not wanting to strain it any further. When the door started to open, he stepped forward before he was caught by surprise when King shoved forward inside of the house pulling the smaller woman forward as well which tugged him along. He fell forward unable to stop himself in time before he was knocked into the prone woman that was bracing her hands against the table.

To keep himself stable he grabbed a hold of her body, feeling her soft body in his hands before his attention went to her face as he heard her apologise. "It's fine, it was just an accident." He started to say before he went silent releasing fully what position they were in and where his hands were. He closed his eyes to try to get the image of her bent over the table out of his head before a much more provocative thought filled his head. The thought of just pulling down her panties and claiming her. His hands tightened around her body before he realised that he had accidentally grabbed a hold of her chest making him scramble to release her. "I'm sorry." He quickly apologised to her about to step back before he realised that his excitement had reared up pressing up against her ass through his trousers. Maybe if he just stayed still, it would go away before she noticed. "Lovely place you have here." He told her looking around for some kind of distraction.

To say that Madeleine Cole was a clumsy person was an understatement, the young woman had a tendency to find herself in a lot of blunders and it appeared to her that today was just like any other. A complimentary blush spread across her cheeks as she felt the growing bulge against her rear through the thin fabric of her dress. Even more so, his warm large hands squeezing her supple breasts, a soft squeak leaving her. Madi hadn't had long to process the events that had just taken place as he quickly stepped back to put a small distance between them. The question completely had her redirected as if her mind was a leaf easily blown by the wind. "Oh! Thank you." She turned and beamed him a smile, trying her very best to not look at his lower region. Madi cleared her throat and chewed her bottom lip a second until King came running across the wooden floor to drop a very chewed and slobbery tennis ball at the man's foot. "Ah, I- I think he wants to play with you, but you can say no... Oh! You're wrist! Let me go get the ice pack...um, would you like some coffee while you ice it?" Her light green eyes looked at his face a moment as she waited for his answer. "Be right back!" She hurried through a rounded archway into a petite kitchen with yellow walls that matched that of the warm morning sun, in fact, Madeleine's whole house was filled with shades of yellow and creams, a hint of a dark brown scattered throughout to offer contrast. Pictures adorned the walls of her and her family, Her father was an imposing man, clearly military, her mother soft and warm just as she and two older brothers, one military and one that looked like a teacher. All could be found in many photos smiling, laughing, out on vacation. A few pictures of King throughout his grown accompanied the wall of photos, Madi clearly loved the dog dearly. "How do you take your coffee?"

When he heard her squeak because of his hands squeezing her breasts Ted quickly blushed deeper as he stepped back unable to look at the woman that had made him hard. When he heard her thank him his gaze quickly went to her face out of instinct seeing the flush on the woman's face as she beamed at him. He made himself smile back at her trying to keep himself from looking at her breasts. Trying to keep himself from remembering the feeling of her hips pressed against his, the feel of her breasts in his palms. Shaking his head to try and correct his thoughts before she noticed how hard he was Ted took the distraction that King had given him gladly glancing down at the tennis ball that had been dropped at his feet, smiling back at Madi when she told him that he wanted to play. "You've got a lovely dog." He told her before he nodded at the offer of coffee. "If you don't mind that would be very kind of you." He told her his brown eyes meeting her green. "Take your time." He told her worried that she would end up tripping if she went quick. His words fell on deaf ears as she rushed away from him into the kitchen, not that he had noticed his gaze going to her hips as she disappeared into where he was guessing to be the kitchen. It could have just been because of the awkward accidents that they had been getting into together but he found himself wanting to follow her into the kitchen. He imagined shutting the door behind him before tearing off her clothes and ravaging her over the kitchen counter. His lips buried between her legs. He twitched hoping that his thoughts would clean up eventually before he crouched down to pick up the ball. "Here boy." He said with a small smile shaking it with his hand to get the dog's attention before he gently tossed it through the archway that Madi had come from careful to try and make sure that he didn't break anything.

He looked around the pictures hung up on her wall smiling when he recognised Madi and her dog before he hummed seeing her parents and what he assumed to be her brothers. "Black with three sugars please." He called back to her calmly starting to follow her into the kitchen after a beat of silence.

King barreled through the kitchen after the ball, a bark of excitement leaving him as he did. After setting the two mugs underneath her coffee maker she pressed the button to let them brew and moved to the kitchen grabbing the icepack she kept on hand for the many accidents she was prone to having. The clay pack was great for things like these and could even be heated for a different kind of pain. As she shut the freezer she glanced at the coffee, deeming it would be ready in two she moved back through, for once avoiding King as he chewed on the slobber covered ball happily on the floor. "Here you are, ah-" Madeleine realized they hadn't exchanged names, and she had even brought him into her home. Her cheeks flushed as she moved to pull on his arm gently, wrapping the rectangle clay pack on his wrist. "I- I realize we haven't even exchanged names..." She glanced from his wrist as she held it there to his handsome face, her heart skipping a beat as she did so. "My name is Madeleine, but most just call me Madi because it's easier." She bit her bottom lip and moved his other hand to hold the pack in place as she heard the beep of the two cups being done. "Oh! Coffee! Feel free to go sit on the couch." She beamed him another smile before twirling back around and heading back into the kitchen. Madi made the coffee how he had requested it and added a little cream and a bunch of sugar to her own before lifting the two mugs up and beginning to carry them towards the living room. She was so focused on trying not to spill the coffee out of the mugs she hadn't seen him beginning to come into the kitchen, instantly colliding with him and the hot liquid pouring down the front of both of them. "Oh my gosh- I!" She dropped the mugs and quickly moved to pull down his pants before the coffee could burn his skin. .

"I am so so sorry! Did it burn you? Are you okay?" She reached over and grabbed a towel that had been on the cabinet handle and frantically began to wipe at his boxers. "This is the third time! I keep saying, Madi, don't do that. Be careful, you'll hurt someone else one of these days! And now look! Here I am, doing exactly that for the second time today! I am so so so sorry!"

Ted smiled as he saw King race into the kitchen, he followed the animal at a calmer pace taking slow steady steps as he made sure that his steps weren't quiet. He didn't want to sneak up on the clumsy woman by accident, something told him that if he did sneak up on her by mistake then things would go badly. He nodded at the dog seeing how he happily chewed the ball before he turned his attention over to Madi. His smile grew a little wider as he saw her not missing the smell of coffee that was brewing currently.

He perked up as he heard her speak before offering his arm to her as he felt her hands grip and pull his arm, feeling something cold wrap around his wrist. He shivered slightly from the cold feeling before he smiled at her unable to help but think that she was beautiful as she blushed. "It's nice to meet you Madi, I'm Theodore, Theodore Guinness but you can just call me Ted." He told her gripping the cold pack with his free hand at her command. "It's nice to meet you." He told her with a nod before he stepped backwards about to walk into the living room as she had suggested before he shook his head. He reached the door frame before he turned around, deciding that he would instead help her bring the coffees in. He said nothing, not sure what to say to her. When she started to walk towards the living room, he stepped forward about to gently take one of the coffees out of her hands before he was caught by surprise as she knocked into him. He winced slightly as the hot coffee poured over him but he was more worried about her, wanting to make sure that she wasn't hurt.

His thoughts were quick to stop when she dropped down before he could even say anything pulling down his pants before, he could stop her. He was left in just his top and a pair of boxers making him bit down on his lower lip in surprise. He was caught even more by surprise when she took a towel and started to rub his boxers making his member harden for the second time that morning. He couldn't help but grow not from the heat of the coffee but from the sight of her kneeling between his legs. The boxers that kept him hidden stretched forming an obvious tent, the tip of his cock being revealed as it poked out from the hole that was built into the cloth boxers that he was wearing. He leaned forward firmly but gently grabbing a hold of her wrists. "Hey I'm not hurt but you might want to stop touching me there." He told her glancing down as his cock twitched.

Madeleine Cole wasn't always the brightest, her oldest brother liked to joke that she was one born with a dim light bulb and it was a good thing she was cute. In this moment as his hands moved to wrap around her wrists to prevent her from rubbing away the coffee she couldn't help but feel like perhaps her brother had been right. Her eyes focused on something very... fleshy poking out from the hole in his boxers. "Oh." Just as quickly as she had started she just as quickly stopped, her hands quickly pulling free from his grasp as she shuffled backwards only to slip on the coffee and falling onto her butt. Her face as red as a tomato as she tried her hardest to look away from his twitching member. Madi wasn't a virgin, but she had only had two in the twenty-three years of her life and neither had been much of anything. However, this handsome man, Ted he had said, he had something her best friend would have gone on and on about and it was really hard to look away. King woofed and moved to sniff at Madi's head as she sat there, the bottom of her dress now soaked with the sugary dark liquid. His large cold nose nudging her before moving to lap at the spill on the floor. It was the dog trying to drink the coffee that finally had Madi snapping back into reality as she quickly moved two of her fingers into her mouth to whistle. "King! No!" The dog stopped, his tongue hanging out of his mouth happily as he lowered his ears at her chastising. "Bed, now!" She commanded and the dog trotted out of the room with a grumble, his fluffy tail wagging slowly as he went into the living room. .

Madi swallowed and looked from the puddle around her and slowly upwards, very adamantly not looking at the boner of the man she had wounded not once but twice now in the span of an hour. "I- I am so sorry Ted! I- I am mortified. What is wrong with me?! She cleared her throat before meeting his eyes, the flush still very much on her face. She wanted to run, to go and hide underneath her covers... She would never live this down if anyone found out. "Ah...um..."

When he heard her let out her oh as she realised that she was the reason for his cock's sudden growth he blushed lightly looking down away from her before his eyes widened as she pulled herself free. When she fell his head tilted in worry afraid that she was hurt even as his gaze quickly went to her bright red face, the fact that she was staring at his hardness was obvious as he glanced down before his eyes widened as her position flashed her panties to him. He found himself unable to look away from her cute pink panties when he saw them, his hard cock throbbing lightly as he imagined peeling her panties off of her and thrusting into her over and over again until she was dripping with his cum. He didn't nap into focus until he heard her yell his attention turning to King before he watched her order the dog to leave sighing in relief. If the dog had stayed then he was sure that things would have ended up being too awkward for him, his gaze quickly going back to her pink panties not missing the way that her dress had become soaked from the coffee that she was sat on. His attention quickly turned back to Madi's face when she apologised to him, not missing the way that her face was still red, not missing the way that she refused to look at his cock again as his eyes met hers. Part of him was tempted to say that it was fine, that it was just an accident and she didn't need to apologise, but when she looked up at him shyly, he found that he couldn't help himself. It was like a switch had been flipped.

He leaned forward his hand gripping the back of her head before he pulled her forward, using a bit of his strength to force her to kneel with her lips only inches away from his cock. She was so close that he could feel her hot breath on his tip, so close that she could probably feel the warmth of his cock.

"If you're really sorry then you're going to make it up to me." He told her huskily his thumb rubbing against her soft lips. "Now how about you be a good girl and clean up the mess you made." He ordered her his voice hitched with lust.

If anything was to be said about her current situation later Madeleine would have flushed with great embarrassment at how quickly things would progress; but as she was currently in the moment she couldn't help but feel the warmth spread in her lower abdomen at his demanding tone. The hand on the back of her head had her moving closer to his cock as it twitched. She could smell his cologne with a mix of coffee and Madi swallowed the knot in her throat. She truly was sorry for her clumsiness, and not only was it her fault for him having his clothes ruined by the spilt coffee, his wrist was also hurt and on top of it all she had removed his pants without even thinking. "A-alright." Biting her bottom lip she looked up at Ted as she shakily moved her hands to grasp his cock carefully. It had been quite awhile since she had been with a man and in this moment she felt her own desire growing as she began to stroke his length to get a feel of him. Her heartbeat was so loud in her ears as she let her eyes move down his chest until it resting on his manhood in front of her. Nervously she moved her head the last remaining distance and took the tip of his cock into her mouth. It was probably a bit of an extreme reaction but something about being called a good girl had Madi wanting to please him as he stood there leaning against the counter.

For a moment Ted thought about stopping, worried that he was making her think that she had to do something that she didn't want to do. His grip slowly relaxed on the back of her head about to let go of her and apologise before she said alright agreeing to serve him. His eyes widened before he couldn't help but groan in pleasure as he felt her soft hand cup the hard length of his cock. When she started to stroke him, he moaned too caught up in his pleasure to notice that instead of pulling down his boxers she instead used her hands to pull his hard cock out of the slit in his boxers. His gaze went to her face, not trying to hide the lust in his eyes as he watched her lean forward to take the tip of his cock inside of her mouth. As he felt her lips wrap around his tip, he moaned loudly his grip on her hair tightening as he grabbed a handful of her hair fighting the urge to pull her head down to force her to take his large cock deeper inside of her mouth. "Just like this Madi you're going a great job." He praised. He let his gaze move down her body as he felt her lips stay around the tip of his cock, seeing the curve of her clothed breasts before he looked down further seeing her cute pink panties again that left him wanting to pull them down and ravage her. "Hey Madi if you want to clean me up properly you should take my boxers off." He pointed out to her letting one of his hands slide down her head to her neck before he stopped right above her chest. "Now why don't you pull them off for me, but if you try and use your hands, I'll bend you over my knee." He ordered her huskily.

The first thought that popped into Madi's mind as he urged her head further down was that she probably should have removed his boxers first. She was never one to be seductive or the wildly kinky type, always being made fun of for being that vanilla friend... so when Ted praised her it made her happy, that was until he brought up what she had just been thinking and she released him from her mouth. The blush on her cheeks deepened not quite wanting to meet his eyes and make things awkward. Instead she did as he said, her hands moving to carefully tuck his hardened cock back through the hole before pulling down the cotton material. Once it was down at his feet she got an real, unobstructed view of his manhood and it was bigger than she had originally thought. She hesitantly moved to regasp him, worried that she would hurt him, as she'd only done this a couple times before and softly wrapped her thin fingers around his base. she moved closer on her knees and let her tongue taste the tip of his cock before tracing down the length. It almost made her want to giggle, the fact she could in fact taste coffee on him as she did so but she refrained. Madi let her tongue trace up the other side of his length before claiming his tip into her mouth, sucking lightly. She chanced a peek at his face through her lashes and bangs hoping that what she was doing was good enough for him to enjoy. Slowly little by little she would take more of him into her mouth until she didn't think she could take any more without the risk of gagging. Her hand that was around his base stayed where it was while the other hand moved to gently grasp his balls. .

She was terrible at this, or at least she felt like she was, questioning everything she attempted to do. She'd watched porn before and had learned a few things from there, and what she didn't watch she gleaned from books. Hopefully Ted was enjoying it at least a little as she began to move her head up and down, her saliva coating the length of him.

When she released him from her mouth, he couldn't help but groan already missing the feeling of her lips wrapped around the tip of his cock. He smiled at her as he saw her blush grow deeper, his hand cupping her face, rubbing soft circles into her hair as he fought the urge to move his hands down her body to pull down her top to play with her breasts, he didn't want to move things too fast for them. He didn't want to rush. When she grabbed onto his length to tuck him back into his boxers, he groaned wanting to feel her service his cock more. When she freed him from his boxers, he sighed his hands gripping her hair more tightly in pleasure as she grasped him in her hands again. The sight of her kneeling in front of his cock was a pleasure in itself as he saw her panties on display, he twitched when she opened her mouth and stuck her tongue out only to throb as she licked him from his tip down to the base. "Fuck, yeah just like this Madi you're doing so well." He told her the pleasure clear in his voice as he stepped forward pushing his cock closer to her face. His eyes threatened to close in pleasure as he felt her tongue continue to trace the length of his cock before he felt her lips wrap around the tip of his cock. Her suction making precum drip into her mouth. When he noticed that she was looking up at him he smiled back at her using his own hands to brush her hair to the sides. Keeping it from getting in her mouth. "You're doing such a great job pleasing me Madi, my good girl." he praised again before he felt her slowly take his length deeper inside of her mouth making him throb. He fought the urge to thrust his hips, part of him wanting to thrust his length in and out of her mouth until she was choking on his length. But this was their first time together so he held himself back wanting to see how she would do it. Wanting to see how she would please him. He twitched and throbbed inside of her mouth one of his hands moving down to grip her throat firmly. "

I'm going to fill your mouth with my cum tell me Madi do you want that? Do you want my cum?" He asked her huskily.

She was reassured by his praises, her mouth working the length of him as she continued to massage his balls. It was a bit strange, and honestly more forward than she had ever been before but Madi couldn't seem to help herself. She had after all hurt him twice, and while she wasn't mostly there in her mind most of the time she did know that generally people didn't do this upon meeting for the first time. She had heard from friends before about one night stands, but this hadn't started out in any manor like that so she was not quite sure what to classify this encounter. As Ted moved his hand down to her throat and his cock twitched inside her mouth she looked up at him, his question making her face flush even more red. It was ridiculous, the need to blush when they were already being so intimate and she had only just met the man, but being asked that question was a bit... Madi bit her lip and released the length of them from the warm chasm of her throat. "I- I don't think..." She fumbled her words as she tried to answer. She cleared her throat and looked down at the coffee which mostly seemed to have been absorbed by her dress. "I mean- I- I've never..." She swallowed looking up at him. "Y-you can cum on my breasts...if ah...that's any consolation..." She stammered, men liked that, didn't they? Madi groaned inwardly as she still held the length of him with her hand, absentmindedly stroking him while she waited for his answer. Why had she even thought this had been a good idea in the beginning. Sure Ted was good looking, and she had wounded the man twice but she was so far out of her depth she sure it was a turn off for him.

Ted continued to moan and rub the back of Madi's head as her mouth worked the length of his cock, they were moving fast, probably too fast but he was experiencing too much pleasure to stop now. Even if he could tell that she wasn't the most experienced, her eagerness to make him feel good, and her eagerness to serve him made his pleasure continue to grow higher and higher. Maybe once they were done things would be awkward, he didn't think that he would regret doing this but at the same time, he didn't know what the two of them were. This didn't feel like it would just be a one night stand. He wanted to hold onto her and never let go.

He couldn't help but smile at her as he saw the way that her face had gone red from his question, his hand gripping her throat firmly before he heard her nervously speak waiting patiently for her to finish talking. When she told him that she didn't want to swallow his cum he nodded back at her with lustful eyes for the offer of cumming on her breasts to be the perfect consolation. One of his hands stayed around her throat before the other quickly went to the chest of her dress his fingers glancing against the soft fabric of her dress. "Then you just keep playing with my cock like a good girl, I'll tell you when I'm about to cum." He ordered her before his hand gripped one part of her shirt and yanked on it tearing apart the buttons exposing her bra clad chest to his hungry gaze. He wasn't normally like this, really he wasn't but she lit a fire in him. The way she seemed to be stroking his cock looking up to him for guidance. It was almost like she was perfect for him the urge to corrupt her was too strong, he wanted to make her beg for his cock. He wanted to make her beg for his cum. "It's fine Madi I'm happy to cover your chest with my cum, but I still expect you to clean my tip once I'm done." He told her huskily feeling himself throb in her hand.

She was relieved that he was fine with her breast, she had honestly never been able to swallow. The whole idea of it seemed strange to her; she didn't judge anyone who liked doing such things and perhaps later she might have the courage to try, but she barely knew Ted and that was something more... Madi cleared her throat as she continue to stroke the length of his cock. Her hand grew slightly tighter against his length as she moved it up and down, her other moving to fondle his sack. She had remembered a friend of hers telling her how one could tell when a man got close, that the sack would tighten and draw closer to the body before he would release. He had ripped her dress open, the small flower shaped buttons flying every which way and bouncing off the hard tile. She would need to re sew the buttons but that didn't bother her, this was her favorite dress and she would do what she could to save it. Madi wasn't sure if he was just eager or didn't want her to stop to remove the dress herself but it was done. Her eyes were a little wide as she looked up at him, his words were lewd and no one had ever talked to her that way before but she strangely found it hot. She bit her lip and pumped faster, more eager to make him happy. The hand on her neck she didn't mind, in fact the fact it was there was a little reassuring. His hand was hot against her skin and with his firm grip it made breathing slightly harder but it was erotic in a way. She knew she was wet from the coffee but it was more than that now. With his words and sounds of pleasure that left his throat she found herself wondering what his cock would feel like if it was between her legs, if her hand was instead her inner walls squeezing the length of him. A squeak left her throat as she watched his cock throb in her hand, his muscles twitching as she moved to take his balls into her mouth. Even if it was just for a moment she hoped it was a good experience for him.

Ted was more than happy to cover Madi's breasts with his cum, maybe at one point she would swallow his cum for him but either way, he had no plans of pressuring her. The moment that he had freed her bra clad breasts his hands were quick to slip under her dress, his palm rubbing against her clothed skin as he wanted to make her moan. He wanted to make her cry out for him in pleasure. He moaned as he pictured what he would be doing to her after he had painted her breasts with his cum, part of him wanted to pick her up and bend her over the couch to fuck her over and over again until she was dripping with his cum and fucked until she could barely think straight. His eyes leered over her body before he raised his hand and gripped the fabric of her bra pulling it down to expose her breasts to him. The sight of her wide eyes as she looked up at him might have even been more pleasurable than her hands stroking his cock. Her eagerness to please him, to serve him just made things so much sexier. The sound of her squeaking had him wanting to pull her down and fuck her mouth until she could barely breathe. "Stop." He groaned out to her knowing that he wouldn't be able to last any longer as he throbbed and pulsed his balls tensing in her mouth making it clear that he was close. His hand gripped her throat more tightly as he pushed her back slightly making his aching balls pop out of her mouth before she was able to make him cum too soon. "You were doing such a great job but if I didn't stop you then I would have painted that pretty face of yours white." He growled to her letting his thumb that was once wrapped around her neck rub against her lips before he pulled his hand back to grip his hard cock in his hands. "Tell me Madi are you wet from sucking my cock?" He asked her huskily stepping forward to rub the tip of his cock against her lips as he slowly started to stroke himself off over her breasts. "Now how about you be a good girl for me Madi and touch yourself as I cum

This was probably the lewdest thing she'd ever done in her life, the thought of doing something like this with someone she had just met didn't fit her personality in the slightest yet here she was, a perfectly handsome stranger's balls inside her mouth as she tried to give him pleasure. She could tell herself all day that this was not a big deal but as he pulled his sack free from her mouth and told her to stop before giving her more praise she found herself thinking things she'd never thought possible. The cool air of the kitchen caused goosebumps to spread across her skin and she found herself slightly panting as his fingers released only to move and trace her thick swollen lips. Her bright eyes swirled with a need she had never felt before as he asked her if she was wet. A soft whimper left her as she nodded her head, her tongue darting from between her lips to lick the salty flesh of his thumb. "Y-yes." The one word came out breathless, as if she struggled to take air into her lungs as she stared up at him with her wide eyes. She'd never touched herself in front of another, today seemed to be a lot of firsts for Madeleine but she found herself doing as she was told. One hand moved to lift the coffee soaked skirt of her dress and the other moving to slide beneath her lace panties. Her attention moved from his handsome face to watch as he stroked the rigidity of his cock. She was enthralled as she watched his hand pump up and down the length of himself as her fingers slid into the slick depths of her pussy, her thumb moving to stroke the sensitive nub of her clit.

He couldn't help but feel his lust grow as he saw the way that her eyes swirled with a need for him his gaze meeting her eyes as he heard her whimper nodding her head yes about to tell her to use her words before he paused feeling her tongue licking his thumb as if it was his cock before she answered him making him smirk. "Good girl." He praised slowly continuing to stroke his cock with his free hand as his eyes quickly moved down her body in lust watching as she did as she was told. He watched eagerly as she lifted her dress to expose more of her creamy skin to his gaze before she slipped her hand underneath her panties starting to push her fingers in and out of her as he didn't miss the way that she rubbed her clit with her thumb. "Is this turning you on? Are you getting more and more excited as you finger that soaked pussy of yours to my hard cock?" He asked her with a growl his jerks becoming faster as he took in the sight of her. There was something about her innocence that drew him in like a moth to a flame. He wanted to taint her, to corrupt her. To turn her into his lover and at times he wanted her to know her place as his mewling little cock slut. "This is what's going to happen Madi, you're going to touch yourself faster." He started to order her his hand jerking off his cock more quickly in front of her face, his tip pointed downwards at her chest. "You're going to finger that needy cunt of yours and imagine my cock replacing your fingers pumping in and out of you can you do that? Because once I cum I want you to cum with me. No cumming before me though, if you cum too soon then I'll need to punish you."

Madi continued pumping her fingers in and out of her wet and slick depths, her toes curling as she felt her heartbeat quicken, her inner walls tightening against her fingers. When he told her to quicken her paces she whimpered but obliged. Madi held her breath as she watched Ted stroke his cock, her eyes fascinated as the muscle twitched inside his hand as he quickened his own pace to reach his orgasm. It was hard to balance herself and last until he had. Normally when she did this sort of thing by herself it didn't take more than a couple of minutes to reach a satisfactory end. Though part of her did wonder what type of punishment he would use if she had cum before him. She spread her legs wider and lifted the skirt of her dress higher so that he got a better look at what she was doing. She was so close, right there on the edge as her fingers pumped and stroked those sensitive nerves. A half moan half whimper would escape her as she looked up at him pleadingly. "Please...Ted..." She wasn't going to last much longer.

Ted looked down at Madi in lust as he watched her finger herself, seeing how wet she was as he saw the way that her excitement dripped down her legs. Part of him wanted to pick her up down onto the counter and fuck her until all she could think of was his cock. His heart raced as he felt entranced staring into her eyes as he saw the way she stared at his cock watching him touch herself for him. When she lifted her dress to expose her body to him more clearly, he groaned leaning forward with his free hand to feel her breast his fingers finding her nipple as he gave her a firm pinch wanting to make her pleasure grow. When she begged him to cum he felt his cock throb in need not missing how needy she was as he jerked his cock off even faster his hand squeezing her breast. "I'm going to cum Madi I want you to cum with me." He ordered her with a moan before he came his cock pulsing as he shot thick strands of cum pointing his cock at her breasts to make sure that his cum landed on her breasts.

Her body shook as his thumb and forefinger pinched her hardened nipple, her own fingers working her wet sex as she sat there on the floor, wet and sticky from the coffee as it had begun to dry. Madi felt dirty but at the same time there was an excitement to it that had her pumping her fingers in and out of her depths faster and faster. Ted assented her request and Madi's eyes grew wide as she felt her release gush as the first strand of semen left his cock. Madi's shut her eyes tight as she became overwhelmed from the situation. Rope after rope landed on her breast and some even landing on her chin as she felt her cream spill forth against her fingers. She was so lost in the sensations it took her a moment to register that her cellphone is ringing. She snapped out of her post climax bliss and scrambled across the floor, out of the kitchen and to where she had placed her phone and grabbed it. She hit the accept call button at the last ring and was breathless as she spoke. "H-hello?" "Mads" "L-Luke! Wh-" Madi cleared her throat. "I'm three minutes out. Did you forget we're supposed to have brunch with mom and dad?" Madi's face grew pale. "Noooooooooooo" "Sure you didn't. Anyway, you better be ready." She glanced in the kitchen where Ted still stood, her face a mix between pale and flushed from what had just happened. "I don't want to be late, I have news for everyone." Madi got up from off the floor and rushed towards Ted. "O-of course I am. See you soon." "Wa-" She hung up the phone and glanced at Ted as she stood in from of him, his cum still on her chest. "I-I am terribly sorry but you have to go." She looked at her phone and then at the door. "It was a pleasure to meet you." She said as she helped him right his clothes before quickly ushering him to the door. "See you around!" Madi moved to shut the door. "Terribly sorry again! Take care of your wrist!"

Ted couldn't help but groan as he saw the way that Madi's body shook hearing the way she moaned as he saw how wet she was as he saw the look of pleasure on her face eyes fixated as he watched her pump her fingers in and out of her before he came as he did watch as her cum quickly poured out of her. As he came as he covered her breasts and part of her face in his cum, he found the sudden urge to pick her up and to fuck her over and over again until she couldn't walk. He looked down at her cum covered breasts seeing how lost she was as he leaned down about to do what he was thinking of doing, about to pick her up and with her permission fuck her brains out. His hand cupped her face seeing the way that his cum dripped off of her face before he was caught off guard by her phone ringing pulling him out of his thoughts as she seemed to find it important to accept the call. When he noticed her turn to face him, he tilted his head not sure who she was talking to as he saw that her face was juxtaposed with a strange mix of blush and pale as if she was going through a whirlwind of emotions.

"It was nice to meet you too." He smiled back at her as he fixed his clothes letting her usher him over to the door but just before she could close the door, he stepped forward grabbing onto her hand softly. Smiling as she apologised to him again. "If it's alright with you I was thinking that I would visit you again." He suggested to her with a smile before he leaned in quickly. "Maybe next time I'll bring over food and we can hold off on tearing each other's clothes until after we've eaten." He told her teasingly before he leaned forward to claim her lips with his. Once he was done, he stepped backwards giving her a wave goodbye before he turned around and started to walk giving her just one last glance as he left.

Message #kisses-for-treats

The blush on her face only seemed to grow a deeper shade of crimson as Ted leaned in and planted a soft kiss on her lips. She couldn't really think straight about his suggestion and only managed to murmur an "o-okay" before she watched him turn and head down the path that lead to the sidewalk. She shut the door and leaned against it, a groan leaving her throat as she slid down and landed on her bottom on the floor. Madi slapped her cheeks and huffed. "Get it together, Luke is going to be here in like five!" She forced herself up off the floor and ran to her room to get cleaned up.

It didn't take her that long to shed her coffee and cum soaked dress and bra, opting for a sport bra as well as a loose college t-shirt and a pair of jean shorts. Hurriedly she ran to the kitchen to clean up the mess in there only to find King lapping at the small remaining amount of coffee. "Move you big oaf!" She shoved his fluffy butt before she grabbed the rag and soaked up the remaining mess. She tossed the rag into the sink and swept the remaining shards of the mug up just as there was a knock on the door. Madi tossed the remaining trash in the bin before running to the door. One glance in the mirror and she realized she had a small droplet of cum still on her chin. Horrified she wiped it away quickly before taking a steadying breath.

She spent the next few hours visiting with Luke, making plans for their parent's thirtieth wedding anniversary dinner. Madi kept replaying the earlier events in her mind, the whole ordeal with Ted seemed like something that happened in an erotic novel she'd read before and she couldn't help but wonder if it had been a fever dream. After her brother left she showered and readied herself for bed before ultimately calling it a night and tucked herself in. She had a hard time falling asleep and right before she would succumb she realized they hadn't exchanged numbers or anything before she had shoved him out the door.

He had a soft smile as he left remembering the way that her face was deep red while he kissed her finding it cute how shy she was. Especially with what they had done already from just the thoughts of what they did earlier make his walk a little funny from arousal because of what he had done to her. He had enjoyed how submissive she was, how obedient she was part of him wanting to put that to the test. If he returned and ordered her to strip and wait for him in the bedroom, would she? Part of him really wanted to test that but he held himself back knowing that he had work to go to.

A couple days had passed before he managed to visit her again, he wished that he could at least message her but she had shepherded him out before he could get her number. Finally, he managed to find time to visit her again, he even had the next day off which judging by what they had done together when they first met, he might just need.

He knocked on her door gently as he waited outside her apartment for her to let him in, he just hoped that she was actually free to go out with him today. He had reserved a place for them at a nice bistro and he stood in a pair of smart trousers and a dress shirt waiting patiently to be allowed in his heart racing as he realised that he was looking forward to this much more than he thought he would.

The few days after the event which has transpired between Madi and Ted were relatively smooth sailing for the girl in question. Many of her free moments had been spent replaying each and every moment from the time she had bumped into him to her shoving him out the door and Ted stealing a kiss from her lips. She found that she didn't regret any of it, though if she would have redone one thing it would have been getting his number before she had made him leave. Part of her wondered if it had all been a fever dream with each passing day that she had yet to run into him again. Madi even made special jogs through the dog park in hopes of bumping in to him again but with no success.

Eventually she had given up hopes of seeing him again and went back to her regular schedule. The present day happened like any other, she woke up and made coffee and enjoyed a cup before taking King out for his morning run before work. Her work day was relatively smooth and ended on a good note as she clocked out for the day. Upon returning home she changed out of her suit and into a pair of comfortable shorts and a t-shirt before slipping on her running shoes and taking King out for his evening run. By the time they had headed back home the sun had already begun to set.

Madi didn't notice the man standing in front of her door, however King had whether it was with his nose or sense of hearing and he lurched forward pulling her behind scrambling to not fall over. King let out a booming bark as he barreled forward onto their front steps causing Madi to thud into a very solid male figure. "I'm so s-" She cut off her apology as she looked up into the face of the man that had plagued her brain and her cheeks flushed a very bright red. "Ted?"

He waited outside of her door for her patiently sure that she would open the door and let him into the apartment whenever she was ready. He kept letting himself remember what had happened between the two of them last time that they saw each other. He was extremely excited to see her again he meant what he said about wanting to have dinner with her and he was sure that once they were done eating, they could head back to her place if she wanted to. He definitely wanted to eat breakfast with her in the morning.

When he heard a dog bark his back arched as he stood up straighter recognising the bark making him smile as he turned around looking forward to greet Madi before he felt a small weight slam into his body making him smile. It reminded him of how they first met. This time however he didn't fall using his legs to keep himself balanced as his hands grabbed onto the woman feeling fabric meet his hands giving way to soft skin making him pause hearing an apology come from a familiar voice before he smiled hearing her name.

He looked up at her red face not missing how close they were his hot breath was pressing against her lips before he looked down at her noticing that his hands were right below her breasts their collision had made him accidentally pull apart the buttons on her windbreaker revealing her upper half to his eyes covered only by a sports bra and so he was more than happy to take advantage of the new development his eyes looking her body up and down before he looked at her face again. "Hey Madi." He greeted before he leaned forward to press his lips against hers.

Her cheeks flushed as she felt his lips press against her own, his hands were right below her breasts and the heat from them radiated through her as she willingly deepened the kiss before she thought too much about it. When she finally came to she pulled away, her breathing ragged and her eyes wide as she realized they were still on her front porch. What was it about this man that had her so hot. She cleared her throat to collect herself and reached around him to open the door. King barreled through them and pushed the door open the rest of the way heading straight for his water bowl.

"Um... W-what brings you here?" She asked, finally backing up even more before going around him to enter the house. "You're welcome to come in." Madi offered him a shy smile as she sat her keys down in the bowl on the table. "Would you like something to drink?"

He smiled against her lips when she kissed him back his lips quickly moving with hers as he kept his hands still fighting the urge to move his hands up her body to play with her breasts before he sighed when she broke their kiss his eyes looking her up and down exploring her body. She was cute with the ever-present red face, with the way she breathed heavily from the kiss his eyes straying on her chest as he saw that she was only in a sparts bra her uncovered stomach meeting his eyes before he checked out her legs before finally looking at her face again when he heard her question/

"You." He told her simple with a smile watching her step inside before he stepped inside at her offer shaking his head softly when he heard her question. "I'm okay thanks." He told her before he stepped forward his hand grabbing hers to gently but firmly pull her over to him making his chest press against hers. "I remember saying that I would take you out on a date are you ready?" He asked her before he leaned forward to kiss her lips.

Of course it made sense that he had come to her home to see her, they hadn't exchanged numbers before due to her being so flustered and about the only way for him to contact her was to just show up. It was a pleasant surprise and Madi found herself getting lost in the feel of his hands on her body. Her face felt hot as she looked around. She felt his hand pull on hers and before she realized it she was pulled back against his chest. Her eyes went wide as she looked up into his face.

Madi's heart screamed inside her chest as he leaned in to give her a kiss. She wasn't a newbie at kissing, in fact she prided herself in having made out with her ex and a few others. None of them had complained so she assumed she was a pretty decent kisser. She stood on her toes a bit to even out the distance between them a bit before returning the kiss on her own. It wasn't too heated but it was more than just a simple peck on the lips. When the kiss finally broke she was panting a little heavy and her cheeks were an even deeper shade of pink. "I- I need to change... I just ran and I'm" She swallowed, looking at his chin so she didn't have to look him in the eyes. "a little sweaty right now."

He smiled at her softly as he saw how wide her eyes were before he kissed her. When she returned the kiss, he grinned against her lips one of his hands slipping down her body to give her ass a playful squeeze before they broke their kiss not missing how heavy her breathing was as she blushed looking at him. His hands rested at her hips holding her in place as he listened to her speak enjoying how flustered she was.

"Just stay here for a bit longer I don't mind that your sweaty." He told her keeping her close to him as she was hugged to his chest before he leaned down and pressed his lips against her collar bone slowly kissing downwards as he kissed the top of her chest and the arch of her breasts tasting the light saltiness on her skin. His hands slowly moved down her body to her legs before he gripped her upper thighs and tried to pick her up with her body pressed against his chest expecting her to wrap her arms around him. "How about we just order food and you show me where your bedroom is." He suggested to her leaning down to kiss her chest right above where her sports bra was.

His hands felt exquisite on her body as he let them travel over the length of her body. He began to kiss her sweat slicked skin and Madi sucked in a breath and held it as he trailed down her collarbone. It amazed Madi that he didn't mind that she was sweaty, her ex had hated it and she'd always have to take a shower before they ever did anything. When she felt him begin to lift her her heart hammered hard against her chest and she instinctively wrapped her arms around his neck for extra support. The implications he was making had her flushing even further.

Madi was glad he couldn't really see her face right at this moment, she was sure she was as red as a tomato. "O-ordering in...is o-okay." She cleared her throat to try and sound nonchalant about the whole thing. "My bedroom is down the hallway to your right...the door on the end that's yellow. She bit her lip, her eyes closing as she felt the heat of his breath against her breast.

He smirked back at her when he heard her suck in a breath feeling her legs wrapping around him as well as his back making him smirk enjoying how flustered she was as he listened to her talk wanting to tease her further as he kissed right above her clothed breast. Once his hold on her was secure he quickly let his hands move down from her back to her ass his hands finding their hold on her soft ass cheeks giving her a playful squeeze as he made a beeline for her bedroom. "I hope you don't mind that I plan on eating out though." He teased.

Once he got into the bedroom, he was quick to throw her onto the bed before he pounced on her his hips pressing against hers as one of his hands wrapped around her throat the other gripped her stomach feeling how sweaty she was. Part of him wanted to tease her about it, to tease her until her face was bright red, until she was begging for him. Leaning forward he quickly pressed his lips against her collar again, kissing and licking her skin as he tasted the light saltiness to her skin. "You really work hard during your run, your dirty." He told her teasingly.

Madi didn't normally pick up on things of the erotic nature but there was something about Ted that just screamed sex and it was hard not to pick up on the cues he had been dropping. Her face as red as a tomato as he carried her to her bedroom made he feel hotter than she had while running. She hadn't been prepared to be thrown on the bed but still as he let her go her abdomen would clench and the air that had been in her lungs would be let loose as she fell to the bed.

He was flush against her, their hips touching as he grabbed hold of her throat, the other on her sweat slicked stomach. She was sticky everywhere he touched and growing nervous by the second as he let his hand explore. Her eyes were tightly shut as she felt him lean in, his lips lightly pressing against her collarbone before he planted a kiss. The kiss itself soon became his tongue as he tasted her sweat.

His statement had her turning impossibly more red as she tried to cover her face. "Running is how I handle stress." Her heart was beating so hard and fast that she could hear the blood pumping in her ears, her breasts rising and falling with each erratic breath she took.

He smirked back at her when he saw how bright red her face was enjoying the feeling of his body pressing up against hers as he felt how thick her body was with sweat his hand on her throat tightening slightly before it moved further down her body grabbing onto her sports bra before he pulled it up making her breasts pop out exposing her body to his lust filled eyes. "You so sexy." He told her enjoying the sight of her breasts before he looked up at her licking the sweat that stained her collar.

"Don't worry I know the perfect way to get rid of your stress." He promised her liking how flustered she was as he saw the way her breasts rose and fell quickly grabbing a hold of her arms to uncover her pretty face. "No hiding your face from me." He ordered her before he kissed downwards his lips going to her stomach licking her belly while he kissed upwards pressing his lips against her left breast.

"Where do you want to order food from?" He asked her looking up at her as he pressed his lips against her left breast his lips sealing around her nipples as he pressed his hips against hers rubbing his quickly hardening cock against her hips making her feel his arousal. "What are you feeling like eating? Pizza? Chinese? Something else?" He asked moving one of his hands between her legs to rub one of his fingers against her entrance.

Madi had never felt sexy in her life, but as Ted hovered over her and told her she was sexy she couldn't help but feel that his words were true. What was it about this man that had her act and react so differently than she had previously in her life with her ex? The chemistry between the two thick in the air that she could almost taste it. She took a shaky breath as he licked at her collar, her toes curling from the desire that currently stirred in her core.

"H-how" Face still beet red, her heart hammering wildly inside her chest as he moved her arms so that she couldn't hide her face. "O-okay." The commanding tone he took stirred her desire even more as he moved to place kisses down her chest towards her abdomen. His tongue flicked against her belly and she shivered, he was driving her mad and they'd only just come into the bedroom.

"I-" He was teasing her, and as much as she tried to focus on what he was saying all Madi could focus on was the feel of his lips and tongue on her breast, the feel of his hand rubbing against her and the feel of his touch as he teased her entrance. A groan and her hips involuntarily moved forward to press into his hand. "I-Italian."

He grinned against her collar as he heard the whimper that she let out, tasting the sweat on her collar as he saw the way that her toes curled up before he grinned hearing her words pleased from how obedient she was being. "Good girl." He praised her as he kissed her breast before he took one of her nipples between his teeth and bit down lightly nipping at her sexy body his finger rubbing against her entrance more quickly liking the way that she pressed her hips into his hands.

"I could go for some Italian." He told her before he thrust his finger forward pushing the tip of his long digit inside of her, wanting to hear her scream out for him. Wanting to hear her moan. "You know some good Italian places nearby? You order it while I have a little taste of you." He ordered her before he started to kiss down her body kissing her belly.

"I'll tell you what I want to eat as you order." He added continuing to kiss down her body before he lied down with his head between her legs able to smell her arousal. "You really are soaked, tell me have you touched yourself since we last met? Did you touch yourself from the thought of me? From the memory of my cock inside of your pretty mouth?" He asked her as he stuck his tongue forward licking right above her entrance.

Madi sucked in a breath as he took her nipple in his mouth. The darkened nub hardened as he took it between his teeth. She felt the slickness between her folds as he toyed with her entrance and Madi thought she'd go mad while trying to order the food. Taking a deep breath she squirmed underneath him as she grabbed her phone from the corner of the bed. She had to do a quick search for the place she wanted, not having the number memorized off the top of her head.

After the page loaded she clicked the number, her whole body slightly shaking underneath Ted as he mentioned having a taste of her. "T-ted...I don't k-know if I can." She shut her eyes as the phone began to ring, the vibrations almost tickling the inside of her ear. She felt him trail kisses down her body until he was between her sweat slicked legs. Looking down at him she bit her lip. "I-" She shook her head, though the blush on her cheeks would tell him a different story.

"Y-yes. I would like to p-place an order." Madi dug her heels into the mattress as he flicked his tongue. A hiss and she shook her head. There was no way she would be able to not sound like she was doing something so naughty... Another deep breath and she cleared her throat. "A-ah. F-first is a single person portion o-of chicken p-parm, extra s-sauce."

He grinned as he heard her suck in a breath for him loving the way that she reacted to him touching her to the way that he kissed her pussy loving the way he heard her moan out for him. The pleasure clear on her face clear in her body as he listened to her make the phone call hearing the way she struggled to make her order. Part of him considered making things easier for her to give her some time to breath but well he didn't want to do that. There was something about making her struggle that was so alluring to him.

And her soaked pussy was so enticing that he didn't want to stop his hands going to her knees forcing her to speed her legs wide open before he pressed his lips against her core in a soft kiss followed by letting his tongue leave his mouth to lick her pussy over her panties able to easily see how soaked she was able to smell how eager she was for his cock. His tongue rubbed against her covered pussy again before he used his tongue to pull her panties to the side.

"Remember now Madi you've got to order food still then your allowed to cum." He told her with a grin before he let his tongue rub against her pussy again his hands keeping her legs spread wide open. He thrust his tongue forward once he was sure that she was wet enough pushing his tongue in between her tight folds loving the taste of her as his tongue quickly pushed deeper and deeper inside of her.

He was driving her mad with each press of his tongue against her panties. Madi was so soaked as her legs shook, his hands pressed into her thighs causing her to shiver as he spread her legs even further than they had been. She needed to keep her breathing in control, to not make any sounds that would let the other person on the phone know exactly what was happening on her end of the line.

Ted's tongue moved her underwear out of the way and Madi hissed, her eyes shutting tight as her hand gripped the phone even tighter. "A-ah no, that isn't... the only order!" She was panting now as his tongue spread her lower lips. Madi pressed her hips upward into his mouth causing his nose to rub against her and she whimpered. "T-ted," She covered the phone with her hand. "W-what do you want?"

"Oh god!" He had pressed his tongue in even further and Madi shut her eyes tight her hips bucking involuntarily. As the moan left her, her hand had slipped from covering the mic on her phone but she couldn't be concerned about that, too wrapped up in the feel of his tongue.

He smirked against her pussy when he heard her gasp and hiss at him loving how soaked her pussy was as his tongue lapped at her juices knowing that he could quickly become addicted to the taste of her. His hands gripped her thighs tightly keeping control of her so that she knew exactly who was in charge before he heard her question.

His answer was of course to just thrust his tongue deep inside of her feeling the way she bucked her hips against his face before he smirked wanting to make her so needy for him that she would do anything he told her. To make it even more difficult for her he smirked at her as he processed her question before he hummed. "I'll get some egg fried rice and some." He started to say seeming to think about it before he kissed her clit with his lips.

Part of him wanted to fuck her right there, to pull out his hard cock and fuck her over and over again but he instead let his hand move up her body to cup her breasts squeezing her chest with his fingers as his other hand stayed on her thigh feeling how creamy her skin was.

"T-ted!" She whimpered as her body was rocked with the sensation of him between her legs, the lewd act while she was on the phone was hotter than she had anticipated and Madi wasn't prepared for just how turned on she would be by the event. "Oh I-italian! Not...Chinese." She rolled her eyes until they shut, her body shivering underneath his touch.

Was he doing this on purpose? Causing her to make such erotic sounds while the guy on the other end of the phone awaited the rest of their order? She didn't know Ted well enough to know one way or the other but Madi found herself thrusting her hips upwards, already craving the feel of his tongue in her folds.

"Ma'am... what else would you like to order?" There was a strange tone in the guy's voice that Madi couldn't quite place.

"Y-yes, one moment please." She covered the phone so that her voice was muffled. "Ted, he's getting suspicious. Please. Food, italian. Order." Madi bit her lip as she stared down at him.

On the other end of the phone, if she'd been paying attention she'd hear "*Dude I think this chick on the phone is getting some- Nah, I'm not lying, come listen, I shit you not bruh."

He grinned back at her when he heard her whimper under neath him hearing her correct him that they were getting Italian not Chinese. His hands gripped her lower thighs making sure to spread her legs open fully for him exposing every part of her to his lust filled eyes.

"Oh, pizza then? I'll have peperoni." He told her with a teasing grin eagerly pushing his tongue deeper inside of her as he wanted to taste every part of her. His lips pressed against her pussy giving her a kiss before he thrust his tongue forward pushing it deeper inside of her.

One of his hands moved up her body to roughly squeeze her breasts his thumb rubbing against her nipple before he focused on pleasing her as he buried his head between her legs and he let his tongue pump deeper in and out of her.

He was driving her wild, her inner walls clenching as his tongue pushed deeper. It was delectable and for a moment she forgot about the phone that was still resting against her ear. A moan unstifled by her escaped her parted lips, her back arching as she pressed her hips into his face as her heels dug into the mattress beneath her.

"Duuuuuude! Chick just moaned! Hey Jose come here bro!"

"Shhh!" A throat cleared. "Is there anything else you'd like to order ma'am?"

Madi flushed bright red, her eyes going wide as she realized exactly what predicament she was currently put in thanks to Ted. "P-PizzAaah!" Her thighs twitched as his hand snaked up her body to fondle her breast, the nipple instantly becoming hard underneath his attentions. In and out his tongue slicked into her soaked pussy driving her closer and closer. She needed to get off the phone, as quickly as possible...

"Qué hombre?" Yet another voice added to the other end of the phone.

"Chicks gettin laid bruh- listen!"

"What kind of pizza would you like to order ma'am?" The breathing on the other end of the line was a little erratic.

"MmmM." Madi shook her head, her eyes shutting for a brief moment. What had he said again?
"Pepper-ooohhhni. Please!" She moved her hands to grip Ted's hair, her hips gyrating now, her sensitive nub rubbing against his nose.

"Oh mierda que caliente Oh fuck that's hot"

"Shh! -- Alright, one chicken parm and one pepperoni deep dish. Is that all ma'am?"

"Broooo, I wanna be that guy-"

"Nooo! Address is-" She quickly spewed out her address then her card information before hanging up the phone. Her arms and legs shaking.

If he wasn't so caught up in making her so needy for him that she would ride his cock in a crowded street then he would have pointed out to her that if she wasn't careful the people that she was on the phone with would know that she was getting ate out or at least they would know that she was getting pleased.

But maybe he wanted them to hear, maybe he wanted the delivery guy that dropped off her food to know that he was the one that was making her feel like this and no one else. His tongue pushed deeper inside of her as he answered that question for himself.

He loved the way that she moaned out the word pizza his fingers roughly pinching her nipples as he saw how red her face became knowing that he was the reason that she was like that. If she was still wearing a shirt at this point then he would have teared it off her body.

The way she rubbed her hips into his face had him grinning as he ignored the fact that she got his order wrong for now at least not that there was a way for her to get it right as he pressed his face further between her legs his tongue brushing against her soaked folds nurturing her to her orgasm until she ended the call before he brought her right to the edge loving the way she shook under him.

And then he suddenly stopped right before she could cum his tongue pulling out of her pussy as he sat up so that his face was level with hers before he grabbed onto her hair and pulled on it making it so that her face was inches away from hers.

"Madi if I wanted pizza, I would have suggested a pizza place." He admonished firmly before his eyes looked down her body "undo my belt for me." he ordered her.

Her heart skipped a beat Ted stood after making his demand, her eyes widening and her breath hitching. A whimper escaped her but she did as she was told, her hands moving to his belt buckle. Although they shook as she began to undo it. "I- I just thought...they knew I-" Her cheeks were bright red and she avoided his gaze, instead focusing on the buckle as it finally came undone. Her right hand pulled on the belt and it came out loop by loop before falling out of his pants completely.

It was then that Madi looked up at Ted, the belt resting in her lap. "W-what are you planning to do with this?" She swallowed, her mind already filling with ideas of him bending her over and punishing her for what she'd done. She bit her lip as her doe eyes remained on his face, her hand tightening around the belt as she rose it up and offered it to him.

He smirked as he saw her eyes widen loving the way her breath and she whimpered even as she undid his belt just like he ordered her to do like a good little slut. At her question he simply smirked at her smiling pleased as she got up and held it out to him planning to do so much to her that their day was only just starting. "Good girl." He praised her as he took the belt from her.

His free hand then went to her chest giving one of her breasts a teasing squeeze before he stepped back. "Now let's see how well behaved you can be I want you to turn around and make sure that your stripped completely before you bend over with your sexy ass out for me and now you might also need to spread your cheeks for me but that will come later." He ordered her leaning forward to possessively kiss her lips.

Madi felt her heart thudding wildly against her chest as he gave her the instructions. The kiss held such an intensity that when he finally broke it she was breathless and left wanting more. Biting her lip she began to strip, her first intention had been to shy and turn away but she thought he might be upset with that so instead her cheeks flushed a bright shade of red as she began to strip out of the remaining pieces of clothing she had been wearing which wasn't much.

Hesitantly she turned around, her legs spreading apart a bit as she bent down. She used the edge of the bed to support herself, her head turning to glance at Ted as she assumed the position he had demanded. "L-like this, Ted?"

His eyes watched her full of lust as she stripped loving how red her face was how breathless she was as part of him wanted to just bend her over and fuck her but he held back stepping forward when she spread her legs and bent over. The moment that she was bent over he raised his hand and gave her ass a playful slap looking at her with eyes full of want his hand giving her ass a light slap.

But when she called him Ted, he gripped the belt in his other hand more tightly before he raised the belt he was holding and brought it back down again roughly hitting her ass with the leather belt. His hand that wasn't holding the belt grabbing a hold of her hair before he yanked on it making her look back at him. "Sir." He corrected "tell me why are you being punished?"

She bit her lip as his hand came down on her ass, the fatty tissue lightly moving from the force of his hand. But when Ted brought down the leather belt, not only did the slap of it against her skin echo through the room, a cry also accompanied it as his hand moved to pull her hair forcing her to look at him. "Ah- S-sir." She corrected herself, teardrops resting in the corner of her eyes. Swallowing Madi stared at Ted. "Mm, because...I hung up the phone?" Her lips remain partly open as she took shallow breaths, her thighs shaking slightly as she felt the skin on her ass tingle from the smack she'd received.

What surprised Madi was that even though the spanking had hurt she didn't actually mind it, in fact she felt heat pool even more so between her thighs and her abdomen clenched. She wanted another but she was unsure how to ask. She felt lewd as she stood there bent over with her body exposed for his eyes, she moved her legs slightly more and her hands clenched the blanket on the bed.

He enjoyed seeing the way that her ass jiggled when he slapped at her before he smiled when she corrected himself only to shake his head when he heard her response. "No try again." He told her as he saw the way that her body moved before he cocked his arm back and used the belt on her ass again using it to slap her ass roughly with the belt. Something told him that she was enjoying it but he didn't know for certain. "Tell me my little slut do you like it when I punish you?" He asked her rubbing his thumb against her lips before he pushed his thumb between her lips.

"If you lie to me, I will make sure you regret it." He told her before he raised the belt and struck her ass again. "Fuck you are so sexy I'm going to fuck you after I finish punishing you, tell me how much you want my cock." He ordered her his voice full of lust as he fought the urge to just thrust his cock inside of her right then and there.

"I- I don't know." Madi whimpered, her hands tightening even more so as she prepared for him to spank her again. The threat that followed had her shaking but not as much as the whisper of his thumb on her lips. She was aching in so many places and it made her heart beat so erratic she wondered if she may faint. Ted rose the belt again and as it hit the flesh of her ass she cried out, her eyes shutting tight.

"I- I won't lie, I swear." She whimpered, her toes curling as she looked back at Ted. "I want it" Her eyes pleaded with him as her thigh muscles shook. Her excitement dripped down her inner thigh and Madi's cheeks were a bright red as she continued to plead. "I c-can't wait to feel you i-inside...please, Sir."

He grinned back at her when he heard her cry out knowing pretty obviously from her bodies reaction that she was enjoying what he was doing to her as he heard her say how much she wanted him. "Good girl I like that you can be honest." He told her before he cocked his arm back and gave her ass another rough slap.

"You want to feel me inside you? How about like this?" He asked teasingly before he pushed one of his fingers inside of her. "Tell me exactly what you want." He ordered her before he pulled his arm back and struck hitting her ass with a rough slap once he cocked his arm back while he loved the way that her ass jiggled from the force of the hit. "Do you want me to finger your needy pussy?"

"Ah~" Madi cried out as his hand made contact with her bare ass. The sound of it echoing throughout the room. Her pussy clenched in reaction to the smack as well as the words that had come out of Ted's mouth. They were dirty but only seemed to add to the effect of her arousal. He wanted her to speak just as dirty and she found herself blushing at the idea of it. Embarrassment flushed through her and she imagined her face was as red as the heart shaped pillow on her bed. Biting her lip she shook her head, "I- I can't."

He roughly slapped her again and a whimper escaped her, already she was dripping with want and need that only seemed to grow as he teased her with his finger. "N-no." She wiggled her hips away slightly but pushed her ass back against his hand. "Your cock I want to feel t-that, please."

He smirked as he heard her cry out hearing the noises that she made as he saw how deep red her face got as he felt her wetness with his fingers loving the way that she wiggled her ass into his palm and in reply to her neediness he simply raised his hand again before he struck roughly spanking her ass hard enough that a hand print formed on her skin. "Not yet if you want my cock then you need to be more patient." He ordered her whispering the words against her neck before he bit down hard enough to leave a hickey on her skin.

His finger thrust forward once he was finished talking pushing deep inside of her as he loved the way she reacted to his touches. "Tell me Madi what's the furthest you've ever gotten my beautifully clumsy toy." growled against the skin of her neck before he grinned "I'm I the first person to do this to you?" He asked before he brought his hand back down roughly striking her ass with his palm.
