Greek Philosophy Seminar Guidelines

The class will be run as a seminar. . Most classes will be devoted to a round-table discussion of the assigned readings. The ideal to be aimed at is something like a civilized conversation around a dinner table between friends who are united by a common interest in the subject and respect for one another's ideas. To help us achieve this goal certain expectations should be met and guidelines followed:

- You should have studied the text beforehand.
- You should bring the text to class.
- You should be fully engaged for the entire period.
- Non-alcoholic drinks are permitted.
- No food of any kind is permitted.
- All cell phones must be turned off and put away.
- Any internet connections must be closed.
- Multitasking (e.g. knitting, drawing) is not permitted.
- Only the text, writing materials, and drinks should be on the table.
- Don't interrupt the person who is speaking.
- Differences of opinion should be expressed in a civil manner.
