

The Hate U Give Research Presentation

1. With a partner, look up information about your topic.
2. Record the information in your own words or use quoted material. Plagiarism (accidental or intentional) is grounds for a zero with no redo.
3. Create a presentation with your material. You should have at least 15 slides, not counting the title or works cited slides. Your information should be understandable, thorough, accurate, and as unbiased as possible.
4. Cite all your sources within the presentation itself.
5. Do a works cited slide (properly formatted, not just a list of URLs). I will not require you do cite the artwork you use.
6. You will present in class. Make sure both you and your partner get a chance to talk. Face your audience; know your stuff; be audible; stand straight. (No gum!)

Presentation graded on:

Mechanics (grammar, spelling, punctuation, etc.)	10 points
Coverage of topic (thorough, accurate, unbiased correct number of slides, knowledgeable when questioned)	20 points
Presentation (loud enough, facing audience)	10 points
Works cited (appropriate format, completeness)	5 points
Total	45 points

Include up to 2 minutes of video for extra credit.

This is a group grade except for the presentation portion, which is individual. Choose your partner carefully.

After your presentation, you will turn in a brief (300-500 words) reflection piece on what you learned while researching your topic. Be specific; use examples.

Reflection graded on:

Mechanics (grammar, spelling, punctuation, etc.)	10 points
Examples, specificity, reflectiveness	10 points
Total	20 points

Items to include in your research and presentation:

1. Background information
