We don't just think outside the box. We ignore the box completely and invent a new way of thinking that makes the box feel inadequate and insecure. Sorry, box.

I'm guessing you were hoping for a BAG of puzzles?

Our favorite Cave is someone with 99 problems, but only sometimes the occasional rogue AI or deadly neurotoxin leak. But hey, that's just the price of progress!

How about 9x9 problems, with the rows assigned in order to look for what counts inside?

Here are 9x9x9 problems, done in only the way I can.
