

World Studies - Warm Up

During World War I, tanks, machine guns, poison gas, airplanes, submarines, land mines, and artillery shells were all weapons that were used widely for the first time.

What did they all have in common? Explain.