

ATOMIC BLONDE

BIO

Atomic Blonde is a DJ with a genre-blurring style and an instinct for keeping dance floors moving. Her sets weave together everything from house classics to disco edits, groovy techno to the latest pop anthems, creating high-energy journeys that span eras without missing a beat.

Originally from London and inspired to start DJing on the sun-soaked shores of Sydney, Atomic Blonde has performed everywhere from intimate beach bars to packed stadiums, bringing her infectious energy to every stage. She has supported icons including Dua Lipa, Jessie Ware, Kesha, Horse Meat Disco and Carl Cox, and has built a reputation for reading any room, curating unforgettable moments for crowds of every size.

A familiar face across Australia's club scene and the international Pride circuit, Atomic Blonde has played events from Amsterdam Pride to Sydney Mardi Gras and beyond. Whether behind the decks at a late-night club, festival stage or Pride celebration, she delivers feel-good, genre-spanning sets packed with euphoric moments and irresistible energy.
