Discussion about options for enabling circulation over breaks:

- Manually edit patron expiration dates as needed
- Loading students for upcoming quarter prior to the expiration of the current quarter.

Chat Transcript

00:22:12 Nicole-Bellevue: I'm in denial that CTC Link will ever happen

00:22:34 Kirsti Thomas (Seatttle Colleges): Ha!

00:24:42 Traci Taylor - BTC: no

00:24:53 Nicole-Bellevue: I have no idea

00:25:32 Sally Sheedy - Whatcom CC: We are talking about it, and the college has assigned someone to lead it, but not much happening yet. No thought of including any library people afaik.

00:25:58 Elena Bianco - Skagit: We just have our lead assigned, and we're getting reports back in the IT department meetings, which I attend.

00:27:16 Nina Pitts - Peninsula: No one in our library is considered a SME either. :-(But that's okay, when I hear SME, all I can think of is Mr. Smee from Peter Pan.

00:27:45 Elena Bianco - Skagit: Nina, ;-)

00:27:46 Amy Herman - Olympic College: Nina -- ha ha! Me too :)

00:30:51 Dan Moore (EDCC): Allen Jones is doing it and he is super smart

00:33:35 Kirsti Thomas (Seatttle Colleges): I'd love to hear updates from folks who didn't get the chance last week!

00:39:00 sdevereux: sounds rad Dan

00:42:17 Traci Taylor - BTC: BTC won't be going

00:42:27 Elena Bianco - Skagit: I did go to Montreal one year for ELUNA, but no money this time around...

00:43:03 Cara Beth - Grays Harbor: Grays Harbor has no budget for ELUNA :(

00:44:36 Lily (SPSCC): I'll be going to ER&L instead.

00:44:50 Nicole-Bellevue: ER&L is awesome!

00:44:54 Kirsti Thomas (Seattle Colleges): Lily-- What's ER&L?

00:45:11 Lily (SPSCC): Electronic Resources and Libraries.

00:45:15 Nicole-Bellevue: eResources and Libraries in Austin

00:45:30 Lily (SPSCC):

<http://www.electroniclibrarian.org/conference-info/>

00:45:40 Kirsti Thomas (Seattle Colleges): Thanks! Have a Shiner Bock for me.

00:45:58 Nicole-Bellevue: I'm going to ACRL so I can go to a preconference on Planning, Assessing, and Communicating Library Impact

00:48:42 Amy Herman - Olympic College: I'm going to Computers in Libraries (and WebSearch University preconference) in March instead of ELUNA this year.

00:49:18 Dan Moore (EDCC): I've always wanted to go to that

00:50:47 Ryer Banta - Centralia College: I went to Computers in Libraries a few years ago, when I was just starting out. I found it quite good at the time, but maybe I was just green and impressionable.

00:51:04 Ryer Banta - Centralia College: Think you'll find lots of good there though Amy.

00:52:23 Laura Staley - Renton Tech:

<https://www.seattletimes.com/education-lab/half-price-tuition-seattle-pacific-university-is-offering-seattle-promise-students-a-break/>

00:53:52 Amy Herman - Olympic College: The circ-over-break discussion was good...we are rethinking our policy to not allow loans over breaks.

00:54:11 Nicole-Bellevue: Two weeks ago- right when the snow hit

00:54:20 Dan Moore (EDCC): We just want to allow students to check out fiction books over breaks for leisure reading I think

00:55:26 Nicole-Bellevue: We wait to load the next quarter's students until the last week (or so) of the current quarter

00:57:54 Tammy Siebenberg, Yakima: It also depends on if you are open during breaks. Yakima is closed between quarters.

00:58:14 Dan Moore (EDCC): Well, they can get others

00:58:19 Dan Moore (EDCC): It's just the demand is for fiction I think

00:59:07 Nicole-Bellevue: We don't check out over the summer breaks- that's when the collection gets shifted, etc.

00:59:19 Elena Bianco - Skagit: We download our patrons for the next quarter during finals week. If students want to check out something before then, we just ask if they're registered, have them show us their registration, and then we adjust their dates.

01:02:07 Sally Sheedy - Whatcom CC: We are open some days at the start and end of breaks. We figure we can't restrict our students' ability to check out books any more than we do our community members (which does exclude reserve itmems)

01:02:52 Tammy Siebenberg, Yakima: We also don't check out things over summer to fall break.

01:04:56 Nicole-Bellevue: We have an XR Lab in the library

01:05:07 Nicole-Bellevue: and a scholar from Tasmania

01:06:02 Kirsti Thomas (Seatttle Colleges): Nicole-- I'm jealous. :)

01:06:05 Elena Bianco - Skagit: Bye all!
