

Meta Description: Zerodol Sp Tablet Price of 1 Tablet, Learn its cost, uses, side effects, dosage, and benefits. It will give the full guide to everyone.

Zerodol Sp Tablet Price of 1 Tablet – Full Guide & Cost

Zerodol-SP Tablet is a commonly used medicine for pain relief. It is made by combining the three ingredients. These are Aceclofenac, Paracetamol, and Serratiopeptidase. These work together to reduce pain, swelling, and inflammation. Doctors sometimes recommend it for treating back pain, joint pain, arthritis, muscle cramps, toothaches, and pain after surgery or injury.

This blog post will explain everything that you need to know about Zerodol Sp Tablet price of 1 tablet, its uses, benefits, side effects, and more. The article is written to understand how this medicine works and how much it costs.

Key Points:

- Zerodol SP Tablet is mainly used to reduce pain and swelling.
- It is mix of three active ingredients that works very quickly.
- The cost of 1 tablet is low and easy to find in the pharmacies.

What Is The Actual Zerodol-Sp Tablet Price Of 1 Tablet?

The Zerodol Sp Tablet price of 1 tablet usually ranges from ₹12 to ₹18 in maximum Indian pharmacies. However, this price can change slightly depending on the store, brand, and place that where you purchase. Some online shops also give you discounts or offers.

Here is a helpful table to compare prices from different platforms,

Pharmacy/Platform	Price per Tablet (INR)	Availability
1mg (Tata Pharmacy)	₹14.00	In stock

Apollo pharmacy	₹15.50	In stock
Netmeds	₹13.25	In stock
Local medical shop	₹12–₹18	It varies
MedPlus	₹14.75	In stock

Some brands offer for buying the tablets in strips of 10, which can reduce the average price of each tablets. It is good to compare prices before buying it.

Reminder: Always check the expire date and packaging when purchasing the medicine from a local pharmacy or online.

How Does Zerodol-Sp Tablet Work Inside Your Body?

Zerodol SP Tablet works by combining the effects of three ingredients,

- Acetoclofenac (100 mg): This helps to reduce the swelling and the pain.
- Paracetamol (325 mg): This low fever and gives pain relief quickly.
- Serratiopeptidase (15 mg): This enzyme helps to reducing internal swelling and give healing.

These three ingredients work together in your body to give strong and fast relief from the pain. For example, if you have back pain for long working hours, this will help you to reduce inflammation in your back muscles and make movement easier.

The best thing about this combination is that it treats not only the pain but also the root. People with joint stiffness, sprains, or even dental pain find this medicine very helpful when taken as per doctor's advice.

Note: Never take this tablet on an empty stomach as it may cause acidity or stomach problem.

What Are The Most Common Uses Of Zerodol-Sp Tablet?

Zerodol SP Tablet is used for many types of pain situations. It is effective for mild to serious pain in different parts of the body. Here are the most common uses,

Medical Condition	How Zerodol-SP Helps
Arthritis & joint pain	Reduce swelling and improves movement
Back & neck pain	Relieve tight muscles and inflammation
Dental pain	Help to reduce gum swelling and jaw discomfort
Muscle injuries	Recovery and reduces pain quickly
Post operative pain	Remove the pain after surgeries or stitches

For example, if someone had a tooth extracted by a dentist, the doctor may prescribe Zerodol SP to manage pain and stop swelling around the area. It is usually taken two times a day after meal. However, the dosage may be different based on the age, weight, and health of a person.

What Side Effects Should You Know Before Taking This Tablet?

Even though Zerodol SP Tablet is very helpful, but it can also cause some side effects sometimes. These effects may be minor or serious, depending on how your body reacts.

Common Side Effects:

- Stomach pain
- Nausea or vomiting
- Dizziness
- Headache
- Gastric

Rare But Serious Side Effects:

- Liver problems
- Kidney issues
- Allergic skin reactions
- Breathing problems

To stay safe, take the tablet only after doctor's advice. If you already have health problems like liver or kidney issues, inform your doctor before using the tablet.

Reminder: If you see symptoms like yellow eyes, chest pain, or skin rash, stop the medicine and go to a hospital immediately.

Conclusion

Zerodol-SP Tablet is a trusted and powerful medicine for pain relief. It helps people to different pain conditions like joint pain, muscle injury, or pain after surgery. The Zerodol Sp Tablet price of 1 tablet is affordable, making it easy for the people to buy it.

However, always take the medicine after the advice of doctors. Follow the proper dose and schedule, it is very important. Avoid your self medication and always check for possible side effects. By understanding its price, uses, and side effects, you can use this medicine wisely and safely.

FAQ's

1. What is the exact Zerodol Sp Tablet price of 1 tablet?

It maximum costs between ₹12 to ₹18 per tablet depending on the pharmacy and the brand.

2. Can I take Zerodol-SP Tablet without a prescription?

It is better to take it with doctor's advice to avoid the side effects.

3. How many times can I take Zerodol-SP in a day?

Generally, 1 tablet twice a day after meal. But always follow your doctor's instructions.

4. Is Zerodol-SP safe for long-term use?

No, it should not be taken for long periods unless advised by doctors.

5. Can pregnant women take Zerodol-SP Tablet?

Pregnant or breastfeeding women should avoid this medicine unless told by a doctor.