

Karoline, actor, writer, filmmaker. Black-ivory twill bowling loose shirt with all-over star print ($950), GG jersey jogging pant with web ($1,550).

I was scouted for this editorial while walking in Williamsburg. Shot by Andrew Dosunmu.

How do you contribute to humanity?

I mean what I say and say what I mean.

What do you wish for the world?

The ability to adapt.

What is the next big thing?

Everyone will (actively) be an artist.

Who or what do you admire the most?

I admire people who are unapologetically happy. I was raised to fear happiness and for a long time, thought that positive emotions were a sign of trouble. It's clear to me now that I was missing out. I'm learning to be happy as a given rather than as a reward.

What is your idea of style?

I spend a lot of time thinking about texture and shape. I like the reused and the refurbished and whatever my friends make. Purposeful accessory.

Any last thoughts?

Everything you need is already within you.
