

Subject line: Free

Hello, Nick

Looking to increase your LTV and audience? Keep reading

My sister discovered you on Instagram while searching for fat loss advice. She was drawn to your unique reel about weightlifting's impact on fat loss, which stood out among repetitive advice on other reels, I became curious and decided to check you out.

I can see how you are a service to society and helping people clear their doubts and helping them in their fitness journey

Your brand is unique as you are encouraging your viewers to look at fitness from a different and unique angle. Still, I think you are missing out on some value specified in your socials and in your emails and I can provide you with that value.

I was listening to your podcast the other day and I noticed that you conveyed some of your ideas in a very specific way that reminded me of a strategy that I used with my clients I like to call that strategy "The Statements of Wudan" which will help you to generate plenty of traffic to your socials and Websites

The reason I decided to create this free value gift is that I have used this strategy a couple of times with my clients and they worked very well I firmly believe this will work as I have worked with a few clients in the past and found success but I just wanted to test it out ya know so I want to send it to you because why not.

Leveraging specific phrases and statements the audience in the fitness industry is attracted to will drive more traffic to your Instagram pages where you have all your links to other socials like Facebook and your website which means you will also get more traffic on your other socials which will lead you to a bigger and better brand.

There you have all your links to other socials like Facebook and your website which means you will also get more traffic on your other socials which will lead you to a bigger and better brand