

Risa 'Pickle' David

🌻 "You must be the change you want to see in the world!" 🌹

Character at a Glance

Gender:

Female

Age:

Ten

Height:

Smol for now

Weight:

Smol for now

Relationship Status:

N/A

Religion:

Golemist

Birthday:

4th of Winter 1157

BASIC APPEARANCE

Eyes:

Yellow

Hair:

Black

Skin:

Pale

Build:

Frail

Notable Markings:

Dimples, one gold dental cap, calluses on her fingers.

FAMILY

Parents: Martha & Alex David

Siblings: Josh & Malorie

David

Partner: None

Children: None

Other: N/A

EXTRA

Strengths:

- Patient
- Empathetic
- Curious
- Honest
- Determined

Weaknesses:

- Timid
- Conflict Averse
- Homesick
- Sensitive
- Self Sacrificing

POKEMON

TBD

Appearance Details

Risa is small and soft spoken whose timid nature is normally the first thing people notice about her. Her pale unblemished complexion gives off a porcelain and delicate appearance, made even more striking by her unnatural citrine colored eyes. Half of her naturally obsidian hair has been dyed a mint green which fades slowly to a much more pine color over time. The bold nature of her hair contrasts the timid nature she wears quite harshly. Her hair is tamed well with just a few strands sticking out from the ties she uses to hold it down and fidgets with the ends of her twintails when she's nervous. Her posture is quite reserved and noble letting her shoulders relax back, offering warm expressions to almost anyone who offers her a glance.

Personality

Risa is incredibly empathetic and finds it almost impossible to ignore someone in need, no matter the problem. Kindness, to her, is something abundant and should be given freely without an expectation of it being returned. She even tends to try and put other's comfort before her own, thus she has a hard time standing up for herself and often apologizes even when she hasn't done anything wrong. Responsibility has dodged her almost her entire life and the repercussions as well, so she tends to try and let others make the decisions for her. Despite her quiet nature, Risa possesses a deep seeded curiosity and often hyper focuses on things she doesn't understand or wishes to learn more about. Her outward expressions and personality don't change often. She tends to settle into the timid listener when it comes to being in big or small groups. Sometimes though, in smaller groups, she does show a bit more confidence offering some banter and teasing. Doubt is a true weight on her soul, however. When things land in her lap the first thing she does is weigh the options and shine the brightest light on what could go wrong.

History

Risa spent the first ten years of her life growing up better off than the majority of her family in the Holova Region. Before her birth the family went through years of hardship and living paycheck to paycheck. Even through the first few years of her life, they tried to give her everything while they had nothing. When she was still young both her siblings left and pursued careers in their respective fields. The funds they sent back helped Risa live a little better and have the opportunities her

 TBD

 TBD

 TBD

 TBD

 TBD

Other Notable Pokemon:

siblings didn't have. She focused on her studies and worked hard, following in both of their footsteps to do what she could to help her parents. Her father had many medical problems that made his work sparse if even possible. Their mother did the same working at the nearby mall to make ends meet, but just wanted to be home as much as possible. Risa is following her brother now to Toro in hopes to chase further education.

☐ Roll Modifiers ☐

Strength: [-2]

Kicking open a door doesn't seem like something a child would be able to do. Honestly, even picking up their backpacks seems like it's hard enough.

Agility: [+1]

Mostly just due to her ability to be slippery and fit in places she might should avoid. Just because she can - doesn't mean she will. She doesn't like bugs or dark places but might be able to slip free of something's grip.

Stamina: [-1]

She has done her fair share of running around in the woods and exploring, so I'd say she can at least go up the stairs without being out of breath - and that's more than I can say for myself in real life so she's better off than me.

Subtlety: [+2]

She's pretty used to being the quiet listener in the background and sneaking away from many of the responsibilities that were given to her.

Perception: [+0]

She can see as long as the sun isn't in her eyes.

☐ Relationships ☐

Person A - Best Friend

★★★★★

"I love this person! They're the best around!"

Person B - Enemy

☆☆☆☆☆

"I hate this person with a passion."

Her childhood skin!

