

Which Palm Springs Neighborhoods Have The Most Beautiful Mid-Century Modern Homes

If Palm Springs isn't known for its amazing golf courses and desert weather, it's certainly known for its mid-century modern architecture. The city is brimming with these beautiful homes, which just makes it that much more aesthetically pleasing. All mid-century modern homes in Palm Springs are absolutely stunning, giving the area a unique sense of style. You know you're looking at a mid-century modern home if it's built with three prominent characteristics, the first being minimalism. These homes have sleek lines and simple designs that prioritize functionality over everything else. Nothing about the architecture of these homes is superfluous. The next characteristic is an emphasis on nature. And what better place to bring nature into the home than in Palm Springs? Most of these homes have large floor-to-ceiling windows that invite the outdoors inside. The other key attribute of mid-century modern homes is their unique angular designs. Expect to find homes with non-uniform rooflines that defy conventional architecture. All of this sounds pretty nice, right? Well Palm Springs has no shortage of these gorgeous homes. Here's which neighborhoods have the most beautiful mid-century modern homes in Palm Springs:

Old Las Palmas Old Las Palmas is the best place to search for mid-century modern homes in Palm Springs. Being one of the oldest neighborhood in the city, it's teeming with these homes Old Las Palmas was established in the 1920s, right when mid-century modern design was becoming popular in the United States. This means, most of the homes in this area stuck to this trend. You can find the most beautiful mid-century modern homes in Old Las Palmas on streets such as N Rose Avenue, N High Road, and W Via Lola. These homes are not only beautiful in design, but luxurious in their features. The homes' inground swimming pools and gorgeous open-concept living spaces have attracted celebrities of all kinds to this area of town. This neighborhood has seen stars from Elizabeth Taylor to Goldie Hawn to Leonardo Dicaprio. See the Latest Old Las Palmas Real Estate Listings

Deepwell Deepwell is one of the oldest neighborhoods in Palm Springs, so you can expect to find tons of mid-century modern homes here. Like Old Las Palmas, Deepwell was established in the 1920s—at the dawn of the mid-century trend. Despite its unusual history, this neighborhood has attracted celebrities, like Richard Burton, for its luxurious homes. The community has a wide selection of properties on the market, but many of them are high-end mid-century modern homes that sell for over $1 million, making them some of the most exclusive in the city. These homes give the neighborhood tons of charm and character with their white washed exteriors and small pops of color. See the Latest Deepwell Real Estate Listings

Sunmor Sunmor is located next to Palm Spring International Airport in the central city. Although a community located next to an airport seems like an unlikely spot to find some of the most beautiful homes in the city, this is not the case for Palm Springs. This is because much of the real estate in Sunmor was developed in the late 50s, early 60s—the peak of the mid-century modern fad. Mid-century modern homes in Sunmor emphasize the outdoor element more than the homes in any other community. This specific area boasts a desert landscape that's so gorgeous, it simply must be incorporated into the homes. The most popular streets to find these homes include N Farrell Drive, E Andreas Road, and E Plaimor Avenue. See the Latest Sunmor Real Estate Listings

Tahquitz River Estates Tahquitz River Estates is one of the most affluent neighborhoods in all of Palm Springs, presenting a plethora of luxury properties to the market. Out of all of these properties, the most stunning are the mid-century modern homes. Tahquitz River Estates was first established in the 1930s, meaning it was apart of the Palm Springs mid-century modern architectural movement. These homes steal the show with their unique, low-rise architecture and minimalist designs. You can find the best of the mid-century homes on S. Camino Real and Ocotillo Avenue.
