

SDW's Terms of Service:

(last updated July 2024)

General

- I have the right to turn down a commission for any reason
- The client must
 - send clear references and/or descriptions (pose, expression, props, location, character reference)
 - This helps me to get as close as I can to what you are looking for. Being unhappy with the artwork because you didn't send detailed enough references or description is not grounds for a refund.
 - Include their email address/social media for communication purposes

Payment

- I host my commissions on Artistree and use PayPal to receive payment
- When I send an invoice I will also send a breakdown of the cost
- I will not start work on the commission till I receive full payment
- No refunds once a thumbnail has been approved

Revisions

- You may change references/ details about the commission as long as I have not started on it
 - You may do so by emailing me at sophiawyse.art@gmail.com
- Thumbnail edits
 - I will send the thumbnail(s) via the email/ social media provided when submitting your request

Timeline

- Turnaround time will depend on time of year and my workload
- Can take anywhere from a couple days to a few months
- You can watch the progress of the commission on my commission queue
 - If something comes up that will affect multiple clients I will make an announcement on my social media as well as on the queue
- I prioritize commissions based on when they are needed
 - That said, please only give a due date if necessary (because if everyone gave me a date just to get priority then that defeats the purpose)
- If you are ever concerned about the timeline of your commission, feel free to reach out

 - Post the commission on my social media and use it in my portfolio

1. After you have read the terms above, you can place an order here
2. Select the type of commission you would like, and fill out the request form
3. Once I receive your submission, I will send a quote
 - a. If the quote falls outside your budget, we can make some adjustments to lower the cost
4. I will send updates at different stages of working on the piece and will not continue working on it until I receive approval. Big changes (ex. requesting a pose change) after the sketch stage comes with an additional fee, so be as clear as possible of what you want during check-ins
 - a. Composition Check - at thumbnail/sketch stage
 - b. Color Check - colored sketch stage
 - c. Finishing Touches - last check to make sure you're satisfied
5. You'll receive the final piece, and I will post it to my social media
