

Media Production Student Intern
Stayin' Stoked Media Co.

Stayin' Stoked Media Co. is an award-winning production company specializing in documentary and commercial visual storytelling for brands, athletes, and purpose-driven organizations. We capture the raw essence of human experience through cinematic, emotionally charged visuals.

As a Media Production Student Intern, you'll be directly embedded in real productions; from pre-production planning to on-set execution to post-production editing. This internship is dynamic, fast-paced, and creatively fulfilling: some weeks will be quiet and flexible, while others will be all-hands-on-deck, traveling, shooting, and building films together. If you're passionate, resourceful, and ready for high-level creative experience, this is for you.

Responsibilities May Include, But Are Not Limited To:

- Log, organize, and manage footage for post-production workflows
- Support on-location shoots as a production assistant (camera + BTS capture)
- Assist in pre-production tasks (research, story development, planning)
- Set up camera, audio, and lighting equipment during shoots
- Organize call sheets, location agreements, and release forms
- Research potential outreach partners and collaborators
- Participate in creative review sessions and apply feedback
- Edit archival and documentary footage
- Produce/edit reels and social content; assist managing socials
- Drop off + track Super 8 and 35mm film development
- Contribute creatively across production phases

Qualifications

- Current college student eligible for credit
- Passion for filmmaking and documentary storytelling
- Basic production/editing experience (school or self-taught)
- Proficient in Final Cut Pro or DaVinci Resolve
- Familiarity with Sony/Canon gear and shooting workflows
- Strong visual composition and cinematic sensibility
- Organized, motivated, and collaborative
- Comfort working in fast-moving creative environments
- Ability to travel in Southern California and occasional weekends
- Hybrid availability (on-site + remote editing)
 - Bonus: Motion graphics, color grading, or sound design
 - Bonus: Knowledge of film cameras + 35mm workflows

Perks & Development

- Hands-on experience in high-level documentary + branded productions
- Travel + meals expensed on shoot days
- Creative freedom to pitch ideas and build visual voice
- Mentorship with award-winning director & industry professionals
- Credits for portfolio use (commercials, films, BTS edits, reels)
- Networking opportunities with clients and collaborators
- Letters of recommendation + career development support
- High likelihood of paid contract work after internship

Work Structure

- Hybrid — Southern California based
- Travel throughout region for shoots
- 10–20 hours/week dependent on production schedule

Application Instructions

To apply, email the following to contact@stayinstoked.com

- Resume
- Portfolio and/or Reel
- School Schedule/Availability

Email Subject Line:

Media Production Student Intern — Your Name

For any additional questions reach out to joshua@stayinstoked.com.